INTRODUCTION

The favorable reception which has been accorded former editions of the Lutheran World Almanac by editors, librarians, theologians, pastors and students is sufficient justification for the publication of the seventh edition. Evidences are at hand that previous editions of this handy reference book have served the best interests of the Lutheran Church through the wide and varied uses which are made of it.

Although somewhat changed in appearance, in contents and arrangement it follows the outline of previous editions. A few exceptions may be noted. More statistical information is made available by the inclusion of additional rubrics for Home Mission directory, Inner Mission workers, and Army and Navy chaplains. A composite index covering the content of all former editions is also added, which makes this volume especially valuable as an index to all those preceding. Section V, Historical Essays and Digests, will be of special interest to those who wish to become better acquainted with the development and history of the Lutheran Church in the United States. It contains a comparative statistical study of the religious censuses of the United States of 1890, 1906, 1916 and 1926 in which general Lutheran bodies of today are related to the individual synods which were merged to form them. There is also presented a brief outline of Lutheran history in America, tracing the origin and development of every Lutheran synod and showing how in the course of years, by the process of mergers and consolidations, a gradual approach is being made toward unification.

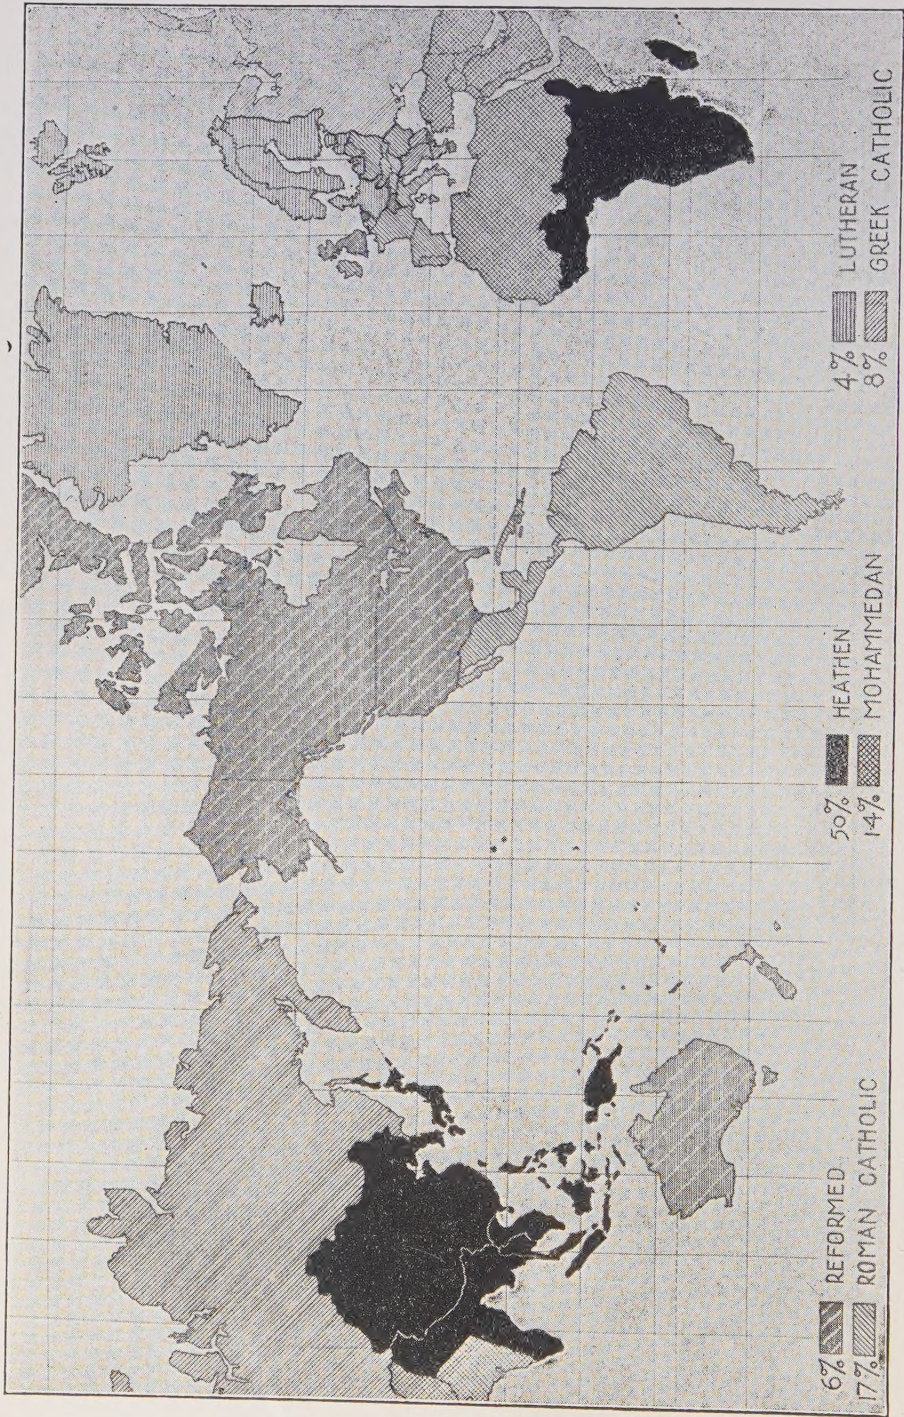

As a sourcebook of factual and statistical information of the Lutheran Church, the Lutheran World Almanac occupies a unique position. No other book attempts to gather and compile all the information concerning the various Lutheran bodies in America into one volume. Each body has its own Year Book but nowhere can the composite picture, made up of all the elements in the Lutheran Church, be seen except in this handy book. As such it claims to have a permanent place in Lutheran literature and a distinctive function among Lutheran publications. It is also gratifying to note that it is included in Mudge's "Guide to Reference Books" published by the American Library Association as a standard reference book.

Every effort has been made to present the facts objectively, in order that the true story might be told. Considerable progress has been made in reducing the number of non-reporting institutions and societies, which fact adds to the value of the book. In spite of the most careful and painstaking labor a few errors and inaccuracies will have crept into its pages. The book is, therefore, entirely human and asks for nothing more than that due allowance be made for the fallibility of those who spent months checking and correcting this material.

Due acknowledgment is hereby made to the many officials and secretaries in the various bodies who cooperated so splendidly in furnishing the reports from which the compilations were made.

The drawings of general body presidents are from the pen of Walter Blythe, of Dr. Morehead by Chet. Nielsen, those of the theological seminaries by A. W. Reddy, the world maps by J. S. Rapson and O. M. Norlie and the graphs by O. M. Norlie.

SECTION II

THE LUTHERAN CHURCH OF THE WORLD

There Are More Than 82,000,000 Lutherans in the World in 75,000 Congregations Served by 50,000 Pastors

Introduction: The 1921 Lutheran World Almanac paid special attention to the Lutheran Synods in America. The 1922 Lutheran World Almanac featured the Lutheran Synods in China and Australia and the organization of the Lutheran Church in Denmark, Norway and Sweden. The 1923 Lutheran World Almanac featured the Lutherans in Finland, France and Sweden. The 1924-26 Lutheran World Almanac endeavored to present a more comprehensive world view partly based upon the second world census of Lutherans. The 1927-28 Lutheran World Almanac featured in particular Russia, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Germany, Australia and the mission fields. The 1929-30 Lutheran World Almanac again attempted a comprehensive world view largely based upon the second and third world censuses of Lutherans as published in the volume entitled, "The Lutheran Churches of the World," edited by Prof. Alfred Th. Jorgensen of Copenhagen, Denmark, High Church Councilor F. Fleisch, Hanover, Germany, and Prof. Abdel Ross Wentz of Gettysburg, Pa., U. S. A., but throughout the effort was made to again supplement material as published in previous editions of the Lutheran World Almanac. The 1931-33 Lutheran World Almanac in this section attempts an enlarged comprehensive view of the Lutheran situation for the first time as far as available, carrying certain features never heretofore published in one single volume. In order to make this possible questionnaires were sent to the Lutheran and Evangelical (Unierte and Union) Churches in Europe and South America and a special questionnaire was also sent to the various foreign mission societies of Europe and America, but again the space allotted to this section of the Lutheran World Almanac is but a part of the entire volume and cannot be a volume in itself. It is the intention to publish the questionnaire returns in greater detail at some future date. We call your especial attention to the following necessary volumes:

The Lutheran Churches of the World, published by the Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention, 1929, edited as above noted.

The Handbook of the Churches, published by the International Christian Press Commission, Berlin-Steglitz, Germany, edited by Dr. A. Hinderer.

(For Denmark and other Scandinavian countries) Kirkelig Haandbog 1931, published by Gyldendalske Boghandel—Nordisk Forlag—Copenhagen, Denmark, edited by Rev. Paul Nedergaard, Copenhagen, Denmark.

(For Sweden and other Scandinavian countries) the 11th edition of Svenska Kyrkans Arsbok 1931, published and edited by Svenska Kyrkans Diakonistyrelses Bokförlag, Stockholm, Sweden.

The organization of the Lutheran Church in the United States is fully revealed in other sections of this volume.

NORTH AMERICA

The estimated number of Lutheran adherents in North America is 20,000,000.

The United States and Canada: In 1930-31 the various General Lutheran Church Bodies, through which the Lutheran Church of the United States and Canada expresses itself, reported 11,513 ministers in the United States and 440 in Canada, making a total of 11,953 ministers serving 15,356 congregations in the United States and 1,176 in Canada, a total of 16,532 congregations, with a baptized membership of 4,220,848 in the United States and 129,154 in Canada, a total baptized membership of 4,350,002. It is to be regretted, as we have often said before, that there is no religious census of population in the United States. However, by the religious census of population in Canada and two states in the United States—Iowa and South Dakota—the long-held belief of Lutheran statisticians appears to be substantiated showing the Lutheran constituency in the United States to be about four times its enrolled church membership, making the Lutheran constituency in the United States from 16,000,000 to 20,000,000 adherents. This figure and that of the enrolled membership is the only comparable figure with the religious censuses of population in other countries. The Canada, Newfoundland and Labrador census of population in 1921 revealed 287,496 Lutheran adherents. So far an estimated grand total for the 1931 census of population is the only item that has been published. This, however, shows an increase of more than a million in the population of Canada which, without a doubt, will also show an increase in the number of Lutheran adherents when the tables for religious affiliation and preference are published at a later date.

Greenland: Approximately all of the inhabitants are Lutherans. There are 14,535 Lutherans in Greenland affiliated with the Copenhagen Bishopric of the State Church of Denmark served by 14 native pastors, one professor, one missionary and four Danish pastors and one professor in 17 pastoral charges in four districts—North, East, South and West. The Theological Seminary is located at Godthaab, the president of which is Aa. Bugge and another professor is Jens Andreas Lars Cheunite. The church organization in Greenland has as its head Provst N. P. Vestergaard of Godthaab, South Greenland and Vice-Provst M. Storch of Jakobshavn, North Greenland. The missionary to Kap York is now J. J. Olsen and the retired missionary is Gustav Karl Eli Olsen now living in Jakobshavn. In 1930 a church was built at Thule in the Kap York district.

INTERNATIONAL AGENCIES AND INFLUENCES MAKING FOR UNITY AMONG LUTHERANS

Among the many international agencies and influences at work in various countries making for unity among Lutherans must be mentioned first of all the various Lutheran foreign mission societies and organizations of all countries, the Allgemeine Evangelisch-Lutherische Konferenz and its paper the "Allgemeine Evangelisch-Lutherische Kirchenzeitung," the "Lutherischer Bund," the Scandinavian Church Conferences and the Lutheran World Convention. Space does not permit more than meagre mention of these excepting the Lutheran World Convention which alone is world wide in scope. The article by the President of the Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention follows this article.

GEORGE LINN KIEFFER.

LUTHERAN WORLD CONVENTION

Origin and Preparation.—The origin of the Lutheran World Convention movement is directly traceable to the unifying power of the truth of the Gospel commonly held and confessed among the organized Evangelical Lutheran Churches throughout the earth. Out of the existing inner unity in the faith, the consciousness of Lutheran unity and solidarity inevitably has been developed. This oftentimes issued in the visible expression of the inner unity in the Christian faith in the form of free conferences, federations or church unions. Although thoughts and aspirations looking to a Lutheran world movement have found sporadic expression in the course of the centuries, however, as actually developing in history it has manifestly not been the creation of the human mind. God has wrought through His Word by the Holy Spirit to bring it to pass.

The preparation for the Lutheran World Convention movement, without the collusion of men, was carried forward in the many countries and continents where the true ecumenical Lutheran spirit found some form of organic expression. The Allgemeine Evangelisch-Lutherische Konferenz, centering in Germany but having members in many neighboring countries, particularly in the Evangelical Lutheran Churches of the German diaspora, is a significant manifestation of the existing unity in the faith and of confessional loyalty in a wide area within many Evangelical Lutheran Churches. The A. E. L. K. has made and is still making an important contribution to ecumenical Lutheranism, having shared both in the preparation of the soil for and in the calling of the First World Convention. For many years, the Lutherischer Bund performed its distinctive service in Germany and in neighboring lands in behalf of unswerving loyalty to the confessions of the Church, especially in the determination of relationships. Similarly in Northern Europe, from the middle of the nineteenth century, there was at first personal and informal intercourse between the Evangelical Lutheran Churches of Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland and then regular and stated conferences of representatives of them. Indeed the sense of solidarity among the autonomous Churches of the three Scandinavian countries and Finland has in more recent years become so strong that the four Ministers on Education and Religion and the four Lutheran Pastors' Associations of these four countries now meet together periodically for worship, fellowship and the consideration of common problems and responsibilities which especially concern the Evangelical Lutheran Churches in the countries of Northern Europe. In Russia, the Evangelical Lutheran congregations of many different national origins, including German, Finnish, Estonian, Lettish and Russian, have realized and expressed their inner unity in the faith through the organic union of the General Evangelical Lutheran Church in the U. S. S. R. The very name of the United Evangelical Lutheran Church in Australia contains the implication that it is the realization of a larger church union on the basis of the common faith of smaller groups once separated.

In North America, the history of Lutheranism may be justly viewed as the story of the process of the outward expression of the inner unity in the faith of which diverse Churches and groups have become conscious through their common confessions. Despite diversity in national origin, in language, in cultural ties with different foreign countries, and in varying particular Lutheran ecclesiastical heritages, as well as geographical isolation in America itself, neighboring congregations have formed Synods, Synods have united to establish Evangelical Lutheran Church Bodies, and the latter have merged to form greater unions. Slowly but surely this process has gone forward since the colonial period of American history. The foundations were patiently and carefully laid by the fathers of American Lutheranism on the Word of God, the three ecumenical creeds and the historic confessions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. During the past twenty-five years the harvest from their faithful sowing has been more bountifully gathered. For example, six Evangelical Lutheran Synods or Church Bodies (United Lutheran Church in America, American Lutheran Church, Norwegian Lutheran Church, Augustana Synod, Joint Synod of Wisconsin, and Missouri Synod) include approximately 94 per cent of the membership of all Lutheran Church Bodies in North America. The United Lutheran Church in America, the Synodical Conference, and the recently organized American Lutheran Conference represent approximately 97 per cent of the numerical strength of Lutheranism within the organized Churches. Moreover, on the basis of the recognition of their common acceptance of the confessions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church and for the discharge of common responsibilities at home and abroad which had been vividly dramatized by the emergency of war, the agency of the National Lutheran Council, representing all Evangelical Lutheran Church Bodies in America except the Synodical Conference (Missouri group), was organized in 1945. Like the A. E. L. K. and similar movements in Europe, the National Lutheran Council of America has made important contributions in preparing the field at home as well as in laboring abroad for the inauguration of the Lutheran World Convention movement. The ministry of brotherly love and helpfulness by the Evangelical Lutheran Churches of Northern Europe and of North America for the relief of their fellow believers, brought to calamitous distress through the catastrophe of the World War, whether they were in nations of the Central or Hostile Powers, in God's providence resulted in a wider and deeper acquaintance, understanding, conscious unity in the faith, brotherly goodwill, and ready spirit of cooperation among heads and members of many Lutheran Churches throughout the earth. Thus on a well prepared foundation, without initial human design but laid solidly and extensively throughout past generations, humanity speaking in the face of insuperable difficulties, the First Lutheran World Convention was held at Söndersborg in 1910, and was followed by the Second at Copenhagen in 1929.

Confessional Position, Nature, Purpose, and Method.—The Lutheran World Convention movement is in essence a free association of autonomous Evangelical Lutheran Churches and groups on the basis of the common faith which they hold and confess. All the recommendations of the successive Lutheran World Conventions are subject to the approval of the cooperating Church Bodies and groups, which are represented in them by official delegates. From the beginning, the historic faith and confessions of the Church have been in the foreground of the movement, considering as testimonies of essential Christian truth the unifying force, the norm, the regulating confessional principle, and the rallying ground of the entire movement. Properly has the common Evangelical Lutheran tradition, including the emphasis on pure doctrine, the inwardness or spirituality of the conception of the Christian religion, the high valuation of evangelical piety, and the common evangelical spirit in worship, with entire freedom under the Word of God in the matter of liturgies, forms of church organization and other non-essentials, as well as the deep consciousness of unity in the faith and brotherly love growing out of partnership in suffering and in works of mercy, also played its part in the quick alignment of Evangelical Lutheran Churches, which had been isolated from each other more or less throughout the centuries, in the Lutheran World Convention. Among recent movements looking to the unity of the Christian Church, the Lutheran World Convention is unique, in that its heart and basis is oneness in the faith and the common recognition and acceptance of the confessions of the Church.

The following Confessional Declaration was unanimously adopted by the Second Lu-

REV. DR. JOHN A. MOREHEAD
President Lutheran World Convention

theran World Convention at Copenhagen on July 4th, 1929:

"The Second Lutheran World Convention's confessional declaration can only contain a statement which clearly and emphatically expresses the Convention's unconditional and unchanged adherence to the Holy Scriptures and the confession given by our Lutheran fathers before God and before the entire world.

"This expression of firm and unchanging adherence to the faith of our fathers must not be diluted with modifications and admonitions which are motivated by present conditions but which would divert attention from the confessional content itself.

"The Convention's statement must be expressed so clearly that it cannot be misunderstood but also so briefly that it will indelibly imprint itself on mind and conscience.

"The Eisenach Convention expressed this adherence to Scripture and confession in such a way. Therefore we recommend the re-enactment of that Confessional Declaration as follows:

"The Lutheran World Convention acknowledges the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments as the only source and infallible norm of all church doctrine and practice, and sees in the Confessions of the Lutheran Church, especially in the Unaltered Augsburg Confession and Luther's Small Catechism, a pure exposition of the Word of God."*

The purpose of the Lutheran World Convention movement includes the discovery and furtherance of existing unity in the faith among the Evangelical Lutheran Churches throughout the earth for the promotion of conscious Lutheran unity and solidarity; the maintenance of a simple agency for the discharge of common responsibilities in the international sphere, which may be assigned to it from time to time, in relation to migrating Lutherans, foreign missions, etc.; the relief and strengthening of the weak, suffering and endangered Lutheran Churches; the encouragement of an international Lutheran press service; and other detailed services fully outlined in the volumes of The First Lutheran World Convention and The Second Lutheran World Convention.

On the recommendation of the Executive Committee for Continuation Work, the following General Principles were adopted by the Second Lutheran World Convention at Copenhagen:

"1. The continuation work of the Lutheran World Convention shall be spiritual and churchly in character, being governed and determined by the truth as it is in Jesus Christ, revealed in the Holy Scriptures and witnessed to positively by Luther's Small Catechism and the Augsburg Confession. The discovery and furtherance of inner unity in the truth in loyalty to the confessional principle therefore is a primary object.

"2. The Lutheran World Convention shall be of the nature of a free conference or a free association of Lutheran Churches and organizations.

"3. The complete autonomy of all existing organized Evangelical Lutheran Churches shall be fully recognized and shall under no circumstances be interfered with.

"4. The Lutheran World Convention shall exclude politics, national or international, from its programs of discussion and work, confining its activities to the spiritual interests of the Church and the Kingdom of God.

"5. In all of its work of serving love, the Lutheran World Convention and its Committees shall, so far as the means are available, assist the needy and deserving Churches of the faith without respect to race, language or political alignment.

"6. Looking unto God for wisdom and strength, it shall be the declared purpose of the Lutheran World Convention and its authorized committee or committees to become the servant of all in the Gospel and in the faith that worketh by love.

"7. Since the power is of God and His Word, the utmost simplicity in organization is right in principle and wise in the present situation."*

The method of the movement is (a) to provide for the holding of successive representative Lutheran world conventions at intervals of about six years, the cooperating Church Bodies approving; (b) to constitute an Executive Committee to continue the activities of the Lutheran world movement during the interims between conventions; and (c) to request the participating Evangelical Lutheran Churches and groups throughout the earth to appoint Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention for their several Church Bodies or countries to cooperate with the central Executive Committee for continuation service.

The Rev. Prof. L. W. Boe, D.D., Assistant Treasurer, Northfield, Minn.

The Very Rev. Bishop August Marahrens, D.D., Recording Secretary, Hanover, Germany.

The following resolution designed to encourage and secure systematic provision year after year for the administrative expenses and the support of the approved activities of the Executive Committee was adopted by the Second Lutheran World Convention:

"10. The cooperating Churches and Church territories should contribute according to their ability to the expenses of the Executive Committee and to the duly approved budget of the Relief Work."*

The cooperating Evangelical Lutheran Church Bodies in America through the National Lutheran Council have provided on a temporary basis the requisite ways and means to enable the President of the Executive Committee to devote all of his time and strength to the work of the Lutheran world movement.

B. National Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention within the Churches of the Different Countries or within the Jurisdiction of Particular Church Bodies.

1. Resolutions of the Convention.—In lieu of the "Large Committees" in vogue after the First Lutheran World Convention at Eisenach, the following provisions were adopted by the Second Lutheran World Convention at Copenhagen:

"The large Committee shall not be renewed in the form which it has hitherto had. In its stead there are to be organized within the Churches and Church territories larger and smaller special committees, which, in connection with the Executive Committee, are to be active in the cause sponsored by the World Convention within their respective Churches. Each Church or Church territory shall regulate the extent, composition, order of business, method of operation and name of its special committee, according to its own best judgment, as its own peculiar circumstances may indicate as being appropriate and conducive to the attainment of its objects. The chairman of each special committee shall keep the president of the Executive Committee informed concerning the organization of such special committee and of all important items pertaining to its work."*

Pending the actual appointment of the national Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention by the cooperating Churches within various countries throughout the earth, a Rule of Transition was adopted, namely:

"The delegates to the second World Convention are, within their own Churches and Church territories, responsible for the organization of the special committees (vide 7-9). Until the organization of the committees, they are personally responsible for the work to be entrusted to these."*

2. Action of cooperating Evangelical Lutheran Churches and groups under the new plan of field organization.—The appointment of the Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention was begun shortly after the adjournment at Copenhagen. Prompt action was taken by some cooperating Churches, others acted with "due deliberation," and a few others have not even yet reported definite decisions. However, in general the process of field organization, for which the cooperating Churches and groups are entirely responsible, has been carried forward sympathetically and cordially to successful completion by an overwhelming majority of the Churches and groups represented at Eisenach and Copenhagen. Just as the decisive majority of the regular delegates in attendance at the Second Lutheran World Convention were the official representatives of the Churches from which they came, so the majority of the cooperating Evangelical Lutheran Churches, directly or indirectly, have officially appointed their national Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention. Hence the tendency of the Lutheran World Convention to become more and more a free association of general Evangelical Lutheran Church Bodies upon the basis of the comprehensive doctrinal statement adopted at Eisenach and re-affirmed at Copenhagen, is again in evidence. The principal exception is Germany. The Lutheranism of Germany elected, instead of forming its national Special Committee on the Lutheran World Convention for that country out of representative officially named by the cooperating German Evangelical Lutheran Churches, to appoint for this purpose fifteen representative churchmen, including one each from the special activities of the church press, inner missions and foreign missions.

The national Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention so far as appointed and reported are as follows:

In harmony with the Rule of Transition quoted above under "B. National Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention," in the cooperating Evangelical Lutheran Churches of such countries as Norway, Finland, Iceland, Esthonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Austria, Jugoslavia, Rumania, the young Lutheran Churches on the foreign mission fields in India, China and Africa, as well as in individual Churches in several countries, the delegations to the Second Lutheran World Convention at Copenhagen have been serving, pending the appointment of national Special Committees by the Churches concerned. During the year 1930, the United Evangelical Lutheran Church in Australia began cooperation with the Lutheran World Convention in its approved program for the relief and support of the weak and suffering Lutheran Churches. Official action to the same effect was taken by the Ev. Luth. Synod of St. Catharina, Parana and other States in Brazil at its annual convention in August, 1931.

Continuing Service.—The Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention met in September, 1930, in Norway as the guest of the Lutheran Pastors' Association in Oslo and as the guest of honor in Trondheim of the Joint Convention of the Lutheran Pastors' Associations of Norway, Denmark, Sweden and Finland. The hosts of the Committee in all cases extended to its members generous hospitality, in which the Royal Government of Norway participated, and gave ample opportunity for the presentation of the position, purposes, growth and program of the Lutheran World Convention during the sessions of the Joint Lutheran Pastors' Association at Trondheim, as well as before congregations, groups of pastors, and during social occasions considerably planned at Oslo. The representatives of the Lutheran World Convention were privileged to be present at an assembly of the professors and students of the Menighetsfakultet when a member of the Executive Committee, Bishop Marahrens, delivered an address on "Lutheran Piety."

Prior to arrival in Norway for their annual meeting, five members of the Executive Committee as a deputation visited Sweden and Finland. The first business session of the 1930 meeting of the Committee was held in Upsala where its members were the guests of the lamented Archbishop Soederblom. Members of the Committee were privileged to present the Lutheran world movement to a large congregation in the Storkyrkan in Stockholm, which was followed by an evening reception at the parsonage offering the opportunity of conference with pastors of Stockholm.

In Finland like boundless hospitality and opportunity of contact with the life of the Lutheran Church were offered. Suitable social occasions, conferences with pastors and laymen, or public services were arranged in Abo, Helsingfors and Tampere. The Minister of Education and Religion in Helsingfors entertained the Committee at dinner. They were conveyed by automobile for 200 kilometers through the beautiful Finnish country in the company of Bishops Gummerus, Kaila and von Bonsdorff. The climax of the Finnish itinerary was reached in a public service in the Lutheran Cathedral in Tampere (Bishop Gummerus), which included a sermon and addresses by the visitors.

The official visits of the members of the Executive Committee to Norway, Sweden and Finland, as on previous occasions to Denmark, were heartily welcomed. The opportunity was readily given for intimate knowledge and understanding of the faith, life, institutional development, special movements, problems, difficulties, achievements and leadership of the Evangelical Lutheran Churches of these four countries of Northern Europe. The Committee was profoundly impressed with the virility, strength and vigor of the forces of historic Lutheranism within the Churches of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland. It was gratifying also to observe in the Churches of these countries a growing interest in the Lutheran World Convention movement.

During the 1930 meeting of the Executive Committee, many sessions were devoted to a careful study of the condition and needs of the weak and suffering Evangelical Lutheran Churches throughout the earth, particularly that of Soviet Russia. It was reported that approximately $75,000 had been received during the year 1929 from cooperating Lutheran Churches and distributed for the relief and encouragement of many suffering Churches, including the maintenance of the Seminary in Leningrad, Russia. The intensification of the needs of the suffering Churches by the world-wide economic depression, the special problem of the maintenance and development of the Lutheran Church in Russia, the trials of fellow believers of the Lutheran minorities and of the States bordering on Russia, the turn of the tide of European emigration to South America, and other special conditions led to the conviction and conclusion that in the present circumstances the moral and material support of needy Lutheran Churches must still for a time be given chief emphasis among the activities of the Lutheran World Convention. It was decided to approve and recommend that the cooperating Evangelical Lutheran Churches throughout the earth endeavor to raise annually $8,000 for the administrative and operating expenses of the Executive Committee and $100,000 for the relief and support of the suffering Lutheran Churches, including that especially of Soviet Russia. An increasing number of the Churches represented at Copenhagen are contributing regularly to the fund for the relief of the needy Churches, particularly those which have constituted active Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention.

But, while in the view of the Committee the times temporarily compel concentration upon practical tasks, the Committee also gave much time to the discussion of spiritual ways and means for the greater realization of an increasing measure of conscious inner unity in the faith, solidarity, and free co-operation through the consideration of the fundamental issues confronting the Church. The extension of the exchange of church news, literature and visitors was approved. The more frequent issuance of the News Exchange Bulletin or Mitteilungen des Lutherischen Weltkonvents was authorized. In principle, the Committee approved of the proposal of arranging summer theological courses under the auspices of the Lutheran World Convention, to be given successively in different countries, as soon as economic conditions shall justify it. Discussion of the project of the production of a comprehensive "Lutheran Encyclopedia" throughout an extended period of years by the mobilization and cooperation of the best intellectual resources of the Evangelical Lutheran Churches throughout the earth was initiated. While of course not every proposal considered by the Committee is ultimately found to be wise or practicable, there exists a deep-seated conviction that the organized Evangelical Lutheran manifestation of Christianity in the earth is under obligation to make available for all a well ordered and complete account of itself for the enrichment of its own spiritual life and for testimony to Christendom and to the world.

Dr. Pehrsson and the President of the Executive Committee went directly from Norway to Augsburg to present the greetings of the Lutheran World Convention on the occasion of the great gathering of the Allgemeine Evangelisch-Lutherische Konferenz in that city in September for the celebration of the quadricentennial anniversaries of the Augsburg Confession and of the presentation of the Apology. The Very Rev. Bishop D. Dr. Ludwig Ihmels, Vice-President of the Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention and President of the A. E. L. K., was in charge of the great Lutheran celebration at Augsburg. As indicative of the changes the years have wrought, it is worthy of note that the Roman Catholic Mayor of Augsburg gave the address of welcome at the opening meeting of the A. E. L. K. in the "Gold Room" of the Rathaus, where the Confessio Augustana originally was signed. Symptomatic of the revival of positive Lutheranism in Germany was the fact that the theological section had to move from a committee room to the Church in order to accommodate the large attendance of interested participants and visitors. Hence there is ground for the expectation that the A. E. L. K., as in the past, will continue to make fundamental contributions, through the strengthening of the confessional consciousness and the vindication of the value and vitality of the heritage of the conservative Reformation, to the Lutheran world movement. Bishop Marahrens, under invitation to be the guest preacher at a Reformation service in Amsterdam in October, 1930, was requested as the official representative of the Committee to visit and confer with the Lutherans of Holland. Dr. Jorgensen was appointed to represent the Lutheran World Convention and to extend its greetings in Zagreb, September 22nd, 1931, on the occasion of the consecration of Dr. Philipp Popp as Bishop of the "German Evangelical Christian Church of the Augsburg Confession" in the Kingdom of Yugoslavia. He was also commissioned to bear greetings to the Slovak Evangelical Lutheran Church in Yugoslavia, the Rt. Rev. Dr. Adam Veres, Bishop. The Lutheran members of the delegations from Europe to the World Conferences of the Y. M. C. A. in Toronto and Cleveland, 1931, by arrangement of the Lutheran World Convention were invited to luncheon conferences with American Lutherans on their arrival in New York and at the convention cities. Members of the delegations at the Second Lutheran World Convention and members of the national Special Committees on the Lutheran World Convention are making public addresses at universities, at church assemblies and to individual congregations on the ecumenical Lutheran movement and its approved programs for the inward spiritual consolidation of the Lutheran forces throughout the earth and for their free cooperation in practical tasks.

In individual countries, growing Lutheran solidarity on the basis of the commonly accepted faith and confessions of the Church have found expression further in various forms of organic union or churchly cooperation. The American Lutheran Conference, centering in the Middle-Western section of North America, was organized in the year 1930. The Church Bodies cooperating include the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, the American Lutheran Church, the Evangelical Lutheran Augustana Synod of North America, the Lutheran Free Church, and the United Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. Four young indigenous Evangelical Lutheran Churches on the foreign mission fields of India have formed "The Federation of Evangelical Lutheran Churches in India." This well organized and aggressive Federation of Indian Lutheran Churches has undertaken the publication of an organ, The Gospel Witness, and has decided to unite in the support and patronage of "Gurukul," the higher Lutheran theological institution of Madras, five Lutheran Church Bodies cooperating. The Union Lutheran Theological Seminary in Shekow is a factor of increasing importance in the life of Lutheranism in China. The organization of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Japan under a carefully prepared constitution has been completed. The practical necessity of Lutheran world cooperation on the basis of the common faith and confession of the Church is especially apparent on the great foreign mission fields.

The ecumenical movement on the basis of their common faith and confession among Evangelical Lutherans in their many autonomous Church Bodies throughout the earth has met and is still meeting many cross-currents as well as opposing tendencies. A more intense racial or national consciousness, manifested here and there since the World War, tends to limit, suppress or override the rightful place and determining influence of the faith in all matters of religion, of the Church and of its relationships. Some, in over-emphasizing the "practical necessity" of an external union in some form to create a common "Protestant front," minimize the value of confessions of faith and relegate them to the background or to the individual congregation. Thus the paramount necessity of antecedent inner unity in Christ as "the way, the truth, and the life" in harmony with the spirit and teaching of the New Testament, is dangerously under-emphasized. Against the principle that all external forms of church unity must be the expression of the inner reality of living faith laying hold on Christ and His Gospel, stubbornly stand also the rationalists, modernists, professional unionists, and others of like opinions who maintain that what is believed does not matter but that the consolidation of the human forces of religion is the main consideration! Naturally, blighting secularism and militant atheism make common cause with all others who oppose positive Christianity in general and confessional Evangelical Lutheranism in particular. But wherever throughout the earth there is a true valuation of the heritage of the conservative Reformation, a clear Lutheran consciousness, a strong Lutheran conviction, as well as a convinced, virile and robust devotion to the Evangelical Lutheran Church and its mission, the Lutheran World Convention movement receives encouraging sympathy, hospitality, support and cooperation. Despite all divisive forces and adversaries, however, the unifying power of the Gospel of Jesus Christ among Lutherans is increasingly seen in manifest results. Has not the decisive hour struck for the Evangelical Lutheran Church to gird up her loins and to enter the door of opportunity to a greater, world-wide service? It may be that in God's providence the Evangelical Lutheran Churches have been brought face to face with the issues of a time like this,—with its economic, social and spiritual distress, in order that they may with insistent seriousness seek through the grace of God in Christ a fuller inward appropriation of the heritage of the Reformation, a stronger faith, a deeper spiritual life, a larger exercise of Christian love for the relief of human distress, a profounder comprehension and more effective proclamation of the Gospel, and a sounder and more inclusive federation of the forces of World Lutheranism. Thus the gracious God whom Luther was enabled to find in his generation is even now surely working for the spiritual revivification and solidarity of the constituency of the Evangelical Lutheran Churches throughout the earth that they in conscious unity, oneness of conviction and purpose, and harmony of movement may in the power given from above accomplish their divine mission within Christendom and to the world to the honor and glory of God.

JOHN A. MOREHEAD.

SECTION III

General Lutheran Church Bodies in the United States and Canada

REV. DR. F. H. KNUBEL
Pres., United Lutheran Church

1. THE UNITED LUTHERAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

In a notable convention at Milwaukee in October, 1930, the United Lutheran Church in America reviewed the achievements of another biennium and made her plans for furthering of her work. Conscious of the importance of the task for which she is responsible, and humble before its magnitude, she finds encouragement in many unmistakable evidences of sound and continued progress.

Foreign Missions

In the field of Foreign Missions, notwithstanding difficulties of a financial character, notable progress has been made. The debt of the Board has been reduced by over $200,000, and the current operating budget fully balanced. In Japan, the local church has prepared and adopted a constitution, approved by the U. L. C. A. Three new buildings have been added to the boys' school. A new main building for the Tokyo Seminary is planned. In China a General Lutheran Hospital has been opened by the Mission in Tsingtao. The work in that troubled country is going forward in spite of great obstacles caused by the unsettled conditions. In India, encouragement comes from the continued growth and development of the Andhra Evangelical Lutheran Church. This year 23 pastors were graduated from the Seminary at Luther Giri. A seminary is being set up at Madras. The Andhra Christian College project goes forward with promise. In South America, a promising work is being developed among the German population in the Missions in Argentina.

American Missions

The Board of American Missions has emphasized in its work the policy of strengthening Home Missions already established rather than multiplying new missions. The customary work of the Board has gone forward along many lines. Canadian Finnish Missions have increased 400 per cent. Notable expansion of Linguistic Missions in the Northwest is a feature. Nearly 40,000 new members were received in the Home Mission Churches during the last biennium. Thirty per cent of the U. L. C. A. Missions are rural. Russian refugees, chiefly in Canada, are grateful for the ministrations of the Word. A training school for kindergarten teachers and parish workers in San Juan, Porto Rico, at a cost of $25,000, is the gift of the Luther League of America. A Home for Boys has been opened in St. Croix, the first of its kind in the Virgin Islands. The American Board ministers to 748 missions in 16 languages in the U. S., Canada and the West Indies.

The Board of Education

The Board of Education has reorganized the operation of the general staff, in the interests of economy and efficiency, and has started work upon the correlation of the educational agencies of the Church. The remaining 4,000 sets of the Survey of Higher Education have been sold and distributed. A plan of cooperation with the Luther League of America has been worked out in the field of recruiting and Christian guidance, accomplishing better results for both the Luther League and the Board. The Board has recently prepared a unified plan for administering church scholarships to students preparing for service in the Church, and has started work on the curriculum correlation between colleges and seminaries, so far as ministerial students are concerned. A special study of the religious life and activities of the colleges is now under way.

The educational institutions of the Church are taking increasingly important places in the academic world. Gains are noted in improvement of physical plants, enlarged endowments, and in increasingly efficient educational service to students. These schools constitute a phase of the work of the church essential to its life and growth.

Theological Education

In the field of theological education the general body has indicated its interest in a more efficient plan of theological education based upon a study of the needs of the Church as a whole. A special Committee is at work upon the study of this important field. There is sentiment in favor of fewer seminaries. However, hopes and localized plans looking toward the merging of certain existing institutions have thus far failed of realization.

Inner Mission Board

Under the leadership of the Inner Mission Board special efforts have been made by the congregations to aid in meeting the distressing problems arising from the unemployment situation.

The Board has been carrying out a plan for providing spiritual and social care for those in non-Church institutions; has guided the enlargement of the work on behalf of deaf mutes; and has co-operated in the work of the Brotherhood in the proposed Konnarock School for Boys in the mountains.

The Brotherhood

The Lutheran Brotherhood, in addition to its more general service, has undertaken the special project just mentioned and has been influential in the establishment of the Mulberry Home for the Aged in Indiana.

Laymen's Movement

The Laymen's Movement is laying increased emphasis upon education for stewardship throughout the church. Through its leadership in emphasizing the educational and spiritual values as well as the financial efficiency of the Every Member Canvass, this method of providing support for current needs and benevolent purposes is increasingly appreciated, and more and more widely used among the congregations. The work of this organization has been helpful in securing an approximate maintenance of normal contributions for the general church work in this time of economic depression and financial stringency.

The Laymen's Movement is gradually discontinuing its special work of providing aid for selected students for the ministry.

Board of Deaconess Work

In addition to the preparation of deaconesses for full time service (sixty-three are now connected with the Baltimore Motherhouse) the Board of Deaconess Work offers special courses for Christian workers. Over 300 young women have taken such courses in recent years. About one-fifth of these young women are now engaged in full time service in parishes or institutions and nearly as many more are the wives of ministers or missionaries. Through a recent purchase, the Board has added additional property to its plant.

Parish and Church School Board

The most significant recent accomplishment of the Parish and Church School Board has been the introduction of "The Christian Life Course," a new series of literature for the Sunday Church School, covering the pupils from four through seventeen years of age. The Board has called an Executive Secretary, and has made provision for an editor for a standard leadership training course.

Board of Publication

The Board of Publication has improved its printing facilities by the erection of a new $136,000 building. Among major new activities are the issuance of the graded lesson course for the Sunday school, and the publication of a new English Edition of the principal works of Martin Luther. A new edition of the Church Hymnal has been issued.

The Luther League

The Luther League holds its place as one of the most alert and progressive organizations in the Church. With the definite purpose of training leaders for the Church of tomorrow, the League carries on effective service through its local, regional, state and national organizations. Its three program departments are Education, Missions, and Life Service.

Commission of Adjudication

The Commission of Adjudication has continued its valuable service as a "supreme court" for the handling of appeals from synods or the general body. The wisdom of the establishment of this judicial tribunal of the Church has been abundantly justified, through its valuable and constructive decisions as to questions of polity and practice.

Important Committees

Certain special Committees, as for instance the Committee on Moral and Social Welfare, have undertaken the study of important questions and have served the Church by the presentation of reports which constitute authoritative and noteworthy expressions of Lutheran principles.

Evangelism has received increased emphasis. The development of a sound plan of evangelistic work has reached, through synodical and conference organizations, effective application in the local churches.

The pensioning of retired pastors has been placed upon a permanent basis, and the size of pensions modestly increased through the establishment of a pension fund now well in excess of $3,000,000.

The possibility of centralized handling of the endowment funds of boards and agencies has been considered and a committee established to devise and establish a proper procedure.

During a period of nine weeks from August 16 to October 11, 1931 over the nation-wide net work of the National Broadcasting Company, President Dr. F. H. Knubel preached each Sunday afternoon on the National Sunday Forum program.

A friendly fraternal relationship to other Lutheran bodies has been indicated by the continuance of affiliation with the National Lutheran Council, the Lutheran World Convention, and other general Lutheran bodies.

Among matters for thankfulness as the work of the biennium is reviewed are:

Increasing efficiency in handling the customary work of the church in congregations, synods, and the national body; continued harmony and increasingly sympathetic handling of general problems; a praiseworthy loyalty of our people in the face of a disturbed economic situation; intelligent and happy adherence to our heritage of Lutheran belief and practice; and an uninterrupted loyalty to all that is gathered together in the phrase "Evangelical Christianity." The U. L. C. A. humbly and earnestly seeks to perform faithfully the work committed to her.

—Rees Edgar Tulloss.

2. THE AMERICAN LUTHERAN CHURCH

Lutheran church historians will take note of August 11, 1930, as the birthday of the American Lutheran Church. The new body came into being at Toledo, Ohio, through the merger of The Lutheran Synod of Buffalo (organized June 25, 1845), The Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Iowa and Other States (founded August 24, 1854), and The Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio and Other States (organized September 14, 1818).

The union of these three historic synods is based upon real unity in faith, doctrine and practice. For many decades doctrinal controversies kept the three synods apart. In the course of time, however, and by the grace of God, the synods came to a full understanding, and, convinced that a more perfect union would enhance the ability of the several bodies to carry out the objects for which they were formed, the merger was consummated.

REV. DR. C. C. HEIN
Pres., American Lutheran Church

Organizations

The American Lutheran Church numbers 510,153 baptized members, 340,809 communicant members, 1,577 pastors, and 2,019 congregations. The officers of the body are: President, Dr. C. C. Hein; Vice-President, Rev. K. A. Hoessel; Second Vice-President, Rev. C. G. Prottengeier; Third Vice-President, Dr. Em. Poppen; Secretary, Prof. E. J. Braulick; Director of Stewardship and Finance, Rev. Henry F. Schuh. The general offices are located for the present at Columbus, Ohio. The Church is chartered by the State of Illinois and the plan is eventually to locate the general offices at Chicago. Assets of the body total over $10,000,000.

Although the incorporation of the American Lutheran Church was completed in August, 1930, the new body did not begin to function as an organization until January 1, 1931. In the interim the organization of each of the thirteen districts (California, Texas, Northwestern, Minnesota, Iowa, Canada, Wisconsin, Dakota, Illinois, Central, Ohio, Eastern, and Michigan) was completed.

At Lakeside, Ohio, on August 13, 1930, the General Luther League of the Joint Synod, the Wartburg League of the Iowa Synod, and the Young People's Society of the Buffalo Synod, merged into The Luther League of the American Lutheran Church. The Luther League is authorized by the Church to establish a full-time executive secretaryship so soon as it can see its way clear to do so.

At Toledo, Ohio, on May 12, 1931, the Women's Missionary Conference of the former Joint Synod and the General Federation of Lutheran Women's Organizations of the former Iowa Synod, together with representatives from the former Buffalo Synod, organized the Women's Missionary Federation of the Lutheran Church, with Miss Katharine Lehmann as full-time salaried president, and with the headquarters to be established at Columbus, Ohio.

The American Lutheran Church has endorsed the establishment of a synodical brotherhood and has appointed a committee to arrange an organization convention. The advisability of combining the Men's Missionary Conference with the Brotherhood movement is under consideration.

Intersynodical Relations

On October 30, 1930, the synods comprising the American Lutheran Church took part in the organization of The American Lutheran Conference. Pulpit and altar fellowship had already been established between these three synods and the other four bodies—The Norwegian Lutheran Church, The Augustana Synod, The Lutheran Free Church, and The United Danish Lutheran Church—which comprise the Conference.

As to further intersynodical relations, The American Lutheran Church has gone on record as being ready to negotiate, on the basis of the "Minneapolis Theses," with any Lutheran synods from which it is still separated, in the hope of bringing about ultimate mutual recognition and co-operation between all the Lutheran forces in America. The body is a member of the National Lutheran Council and co-operates with the Lutheran World Convention.

Missions

The missionary, educational and charitable work carried on by the three synods prior to the merger is being continued under the direction of boards elected by the American Lutheran Church.

Approximately 216 home missionaries serve 315 mission stations in twenty-six states and four Canadian provinces. The Home Missions Board is composed of the several district presidents. Dr. Wm. H. Lehmann is superintendent of Home Missions. The Board of Home Missions also constitutes the Church Building Board and administers the $800,000 Church Building Fund.

Foreign mission work is done in New Guinea and in British India. The work of the Hanoverian Free Church in South Africa receives some support and the work of the Lutheran Orient Mission in Kurdistan is recognized and recommended for support. In New Guinea the American Lutheran Church labors in conjunction with the Neuendettelsau (Germany) Society and with the United Evangelical Lutheran Church in Australia.

The baptized membership of the New Guinea Mission is over 25,000; that of the India mission about 5,500. The statistics found elsewhere in this volume reveal that the year 1930 saw a fine harvest of souls in both these foreign fields. In India two Indian pastors were ordained to the holy ministry and are now serving the congregations that called them. These congregations are making good progress toward complete self-support.

The Board of Colored Missions and the Board of Mexican Missions of the former Joint Synod of Ohio were authorized to continue, under their present rules, as boards of the American Lutheran Church.

Work among the Mexicans received an impetus with the commissioning of Pastor William Schnier as missionary to the Mexicans on July 6, 1930. He is the first ordained missionary to enter this field from one of the Church's seminaries. Work among the colored folk received a similar impetus when Miss Elda Geyer of Pittsburgh, Pa., was commissioned on April 26, 1931. Miss Geyer's headquarters are in Mobile, Ala.; Missionary Schnier's, in San Antonio, Tex. The Board of Mexican Missions is authorized to erect an institution of learning where Mexicans may be prepared for missionary work. The Board of Colored Missions has been authorized to raise a fund, through private solicitation, for the erection of an educational institution in the South in which colored workers may be trained.

Inner Missions are conducted in a number of large centers, under the management of local societies, one of which is intersynodical.

Education

Ten academies, colleges and seminaries are owned and controlled by the Body and support is also given to the Pacific Lutheran College, Parkland, Wash. The institution at Petersburg, W. Va., formerly an academy, has been expanded into a junior college and academy. These institutions of higher education are under the supervision of Section A of the Board of Education, which is confronted with the problem of determining which of the schools should survive. Arrangements have already been made for the merging of the Theological Seminary at St. Paul with the Wartburg Seminary at Dubuque, Iowa.

Beginning January 1, 1931, the "Kirchenzeitung" merged with the "Kirchenblatt," under the latter name, with the Rev. J. Bodensieck as full-time editor. At the same time the "Lutheran Herald" merged with the "Lutheran Standard," under the latter name, with the Rev. El. W. Schramm as full-time editor.

The work of organizing this new Church Body proceeded with dispatch and general satisfaction. Evidence has already been given that the constituency of the body is of one mind and spirit. In common with all other church bodies the American Lutheran Church was confronted with grave financial problems during the year 1931.

REV. DR. G. A. BRANDELLE
Pres., Augustana Synod

3. THE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN AUGUSTANA SYNOD OF NORTH AMERICA

The present plan of the home missionary activities of the Augustana Synod does not appear to bring the desired results. An attempt is therefore being made to reorganize it. This helping hand, in order to give lasting satisfaction, must build more or less for the future. Right now this is not being done in the degree required. It is admitted that sentiment should enter into this work but not as a controlling factor. If this happens, the expenditures on the various fields are apt to bring small permanent results. Every field must be chosen with the utmost care. Communities possessing large numbers whose forbears were Lutherans are entitled to and should be given most studious attention. From now on it becomes more necessary than heretofore, as well as a pleasure, to co-operate with Lutheran synods that are willing to work with us. The religious, moral and intellectual conditions of the day, not to speak of the financial, stress much more than formerly the need of larger funds for this work and the exercising of very great care in selecting and sending forth the home missionaries of tomorrow.

Support

It is felt more and more that an increasing number of our people are willing to sustain the work of the Church quite materially, but that it is somewhat difficult for many of these to give during their lifetime larger sums to one or more objects of special interest. To make it possible for these people to have the use of their funds while here and know as well that at their passing their gifts will really go to the Church, the Synod did organize at its late meeting the Augustana Foundation. The object of this incorporation is to receive, invest and hold for the Synod and for its various educational and eleemosynary institutions monies which at the death of the depositor shall go to some designated phase of work of the Synod. During the lifetime of the depositor a certain per cent interest will be paid per year to him or her, thus assuring them of the same income as if they themselves were holding and investing the funds.

Educationally the Synod is holding its own. The Sunday School Secretary is planning to make the Sunday school of the greatest possible service to the children. Efforts are constantly put forth for the purpose of reaching the Sunday school teachers by way of institutes, lectures and printed material. Many thousands of our boys and girls attend the vacation schools and their needs are also in the mind of the Sunday School Secretary, and also for them does he provide as much as is within his power. The colleges and junior colleges of the Synod are making good and do steadily push on to greater heights. Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kans., has recently completed a music building, the gift of the Presser Foundation, costing upwards of two hundred thousand dollars.

Publication

As to the publication interests of the Synod, there is the Board of Christian Education and Literature which is ever seeking to secure the best manuscripts obtainable for devotional books, for juveniles as also for text books to be used in the education of the young both in the Sunday schools and elsewhere. It endeavors to have published books that will be read by the young people in particular, for on the young is pinned the future hope of the Church, hence these must be introduced to and possessed by the spiritual values of the same.

Our present Ministerial Pension Fund has been in existence for twenty-five years or more. It has served us well. But the pension amount is not what it ought to be. For some time the actuarial basis for the Fund has been projected. If this can be done successfully, it is thought the income will be more regular and larger, and the pension amount will also be increased. That will mean, so they tell us, the end of all our worries as to this affair. The provisions of some of the proposed changes of the Constitution of the Fund are somewhat objectionable to many. The whole plan is before the Synod this year for thoughtful and reverent consideration by both the clergy and the laity. The next annual meeting of Synod will see its adoption or defeat.

During the last two years there has been quite a bit of reasoning among us as to whether the Budget is a good thing or a bad thing. It has served us for two years. It has a lot of ardent friends and plenty who look upon it with disfavor. As a matter of fact, it has brought us just about as much as was received when the apportionment system was in vogue. Due to the exigencies of the times, however, the amounts asked for have not been equal to the apportionments of former days. And so we have been obliged to get along on shorter rations. Many individuals and families have had the same experiences. All in all, the Budget has worked out quite well and the indications are that it is here to stay.

—G. A. Brandelle.

REV. DR. J. A. AASGAARD
Pres., Norwegian Lutheran Church

4. THE NORWEGIAN LUTHERAN CHURCH OF AMERICA

In the summer of 1931 the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America had no general convention. Each of the nine districts, however, met at some point in its own territory.

In his annual report to the convention, the president of each district recognized the existence of the prevailing economic difficulties and added encouragement and hope drawn from the Word of God. In similar vein the general president, Dr. J. A. Aasgaard, in his report, spread cheer and optimism, closing with the following paragraph:

"A church and a people that will place their hope in God will live through difficult economic and social periods and emerge more fit for the Master's use. These things are not of men. The Church of God must ever have her heart and her life open to the divine and spiritual impulses that come from the everlasting hills, from the throne of God itself. This condition, this attitude will alone be brought about by the constant application of His divine Word to the life of the individual, so that men and women may say, 'Thy Word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against Thee.' With such a promise of grace, with such a mighty offer of God Himself, we should not be discouraged; but our Church in its districts, in its circuits, in its congregations, and in its thousands of homes should say joyfully, trustingly and believingly: 'My faith looks up to Thee'; then we shall not be ashamed and then we shall not be disobedient to the heavenly vision. This is our task. If this conviction becomes a living part of our lives, there will be the means, men and interest needed to far out-distance the work that we have done up to this time. God grant that in His great mercy and grace His work and His will may be done among us."

Steadfast in Faith

Reports from the presidents and the various boards indicated that the general work of the Church had been carried on steadily without any serious interruptions at any point. The ministry remains steadfast in the faith that has come down through and from the fathers and in this spirit proclaims to sinners the message of salvation in Christ. The modernistic proclamation of salvation without the merits of Christ and obtained only by development of character and the performance of good works has not found foothold in our Church.

Our educational institutions have during the academic year, 1930-31, ministered to 3,850 students. The outstanding event at Luther Theological Seminary was the installation of Dr. T. F. Gullixson as president of the institution and professor of practical theology. This occurred on the sixteenth day of October, 1930. This gave to the veteran, Dr. M. O. Bøckman the welcome opportunity to lay aside responsibility for the administrative office, which to a man at his age of eighty-one, was heavy beyond his strength. He continues in the more quiet work of the lecture room.

Luther College celebrates its seventieth anniversary in October, 1931. Great has been the service rendered by this institution to the cause of Christianity and Lutheranism primarily among the Norwegian people.

Missions

The activity of the home mission department extends over a wide field. At the date of this writing one hundred and eighty-nine pastors minister to four hundred forty-nine congregations, on the basis of support from the home mission treasury. Included in this department also are the activities in the Seamen's mission, Indian mission, Eskimo mission, immigrant mission, deaf and blind mission, evangelistic work, church extension and book mission.

While our foreign mission work has, in common with others, had difficulties in China, yet the door has been open for the spreading of the Gospel. People in Madagascar show hunger for the Christian message. The same is true also of South Africa. A total of eighty-nine men and women are at this date working in three fields. Seventeen are home on furlough. In addition to our missionaries, a large force of native workers render valuable service in these fields.

In its work of mercy, the Church maintains eight children's homes and nine sunset homes. Deaconess homes, hospitals, city and institutional missions, funds for needy pastors and pastors' widows, are other ways and means of ministering to those who are in need of a helping hand.

The Board of Pensions devotes much attention to the problem of finding a way by which the Church can properly provide for its superannuated pastors.

—L. A. Vigness.

5. THE LUTHERAN FREE CHURCH

The Lutheran Free Church was organized under its present name in the year 1897, but dates its beginning as a movement back to the founding of Augsburg Seminary, its divinity school, in 1869.

The Church is a comparatively small body, consisting of nearly 50,000 members. The number of the congregations is about 400, besides some preaching points. The total number of pastors is about 200.

Its polity is congregational. It is not incorporated, and consequently is not a synod in the ordinary sense of that word. It emphasizes strongly the independence and autonomy of the individual congregation, and "lays the greatest stress on practical Christian experience on the part of all church members and especially all teachers and preachers in the congregation."

In confession this Church is strictly Lutheran. Its position may be stated thus:

REV. T. O. BURNTVEDT
Pres., Lutheran Free Church

"The Lutheran Free Church adheres with unflinching fidelity to the Lutheran Confession" because it "holds Lutheranism to be the correct and sound union of the most profound insight into the way of salvation, and of the most intense experience of the power of grace unto a new life in the hearts of men."

Among the interests supported and served are: (1) Augsburg Seminary, Minneapolis, Minn.; (2) Oak Grove Seminary, Fargo, N. Dak.; (3) Lutheran Board of Mission; (4) Board of Home Mission; (5) Women's Missionary Federation; (6) Deaconess Home and Hospital, Minneapolis, Minn.; (7) Grand Forks Deaconess Hospital, Grand Forks, N. Dak.; (8) Hospital Mission, Minneapolis, Minn.; (9) Bethesda Homes (orphans and old people), Willmar, Minn.; (10) Martha and Mary Orphans' Home; (11) Ebenezer Old People's Home, Paulsbo, Wash.; (12) Seamen's Mission, Seattle, Wash.; (13) Young People's Federation; (14) Ministers' Pension Fund; (15) Augsburg Park Association; (16) The Lutheran Free Church Publishing Company, Minneapolis, Minn., with its three publications: (a) "Folkebladet," (b) "The Lutheran Free Church Messenger," (c) "The Child's Friend."

The past biennium was a period of steady development, characterized by quiet, regular and faithful work; with no conspicuous movements or outstanding events, but constant progress along all lines of activity.

The work of home missions has been hampered by lack of sufficient funds. The present field, including the United States and Canada, comprises about 100 congregations and several preaching points served by between 40 and 50 ministers who are supported in part from the home mission funds. Twenty-two churches have lately been added to the field. About $30,000 is spent annually for this work.

Foreign missions are carried on in Madagascar and China. The field in Madagascar has an area of 17,500 square miles with about 125,000 inhabitants. There are seven main stations, 76 congregations and 3,467 native Christians. 539 were baptized during the last year. There are thirteen native pastors and eighty-one evangelists and catechists. 2,273 attended Sunday school during the past year.

The field in China has an area of 3,100 square miles, with 2,325,000 inhabitants. There are four main stations and several outstations. Between twenty and thirty native workers have been preaching, visiting the people, teaching and distributing Christian literature. The contributions to the work in both fields amounted to about $31,000 in the last fiscal year.

The Lutheran Free Church is now a member of the American Lutheran Conference.

—L. Lillehei.

REV. S. M. STENBY
Pres., Eielsen Synod

6. THE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF AMERICA (The Eielsen Synod)

In doctrine the Eielsen Synod is in accord with the "pure Lutheran faith and doctrine as derived from the Bible, the Word of God, together with the Apostles' Creed and the Augsburg Confession."

The Yearly Conference for 1931 was held at Centerville, S. Dak., June 4-7. The conference was very well attended, one of the best in many years.

The President in his yearly report mentioned that all bills were paid by the various treasuries and there was a balance in each.

He recommended that we all try to do our best in these difficult times and not to go into debt, but pay all bills as we go.

The missionary work of the Synod is under the superintendence of the Home Mission Board and the Indian Mission Board with the aid and advice of the Church Council. The Synod has for the past thirty years maintained a mission among the Indians of Northern Wisconsin and Michigan, the headquarters being at Carter, Wis., where a church and parsonage have been established. The past year has been the most profitable one among these people. The attendance at Sunday school and service of worship has been most regular. The treasury closed the year with a balance.

At the yearly conference the book committee was authorized to print a song book in both English and Norwegian.

The official synodical paper called "Den Kristelige Lægmand" has enough subscribers to make it self-supporting. It is a Norwegian paper, but at a recent conference it was decided that a few articles should be printed in English, also.

The Synod also supports the Santal Mission, The Jewish Mission, and The Ebenezer Old People's Home.

—S. M. Stenby.

REV. M. E. SLETTA
Pres., Church of the Lutheran Brethren

7. THE CHURCH OF THE LUTHERAN BRETHREN OF AMERICA

The Church of the Lutheran Brethren was organized in 1900, and celebrated its 25th anniversary during its annual conference held at Minneapolis, 1925.

Only those who profess their faith in Jesus Christ are accepted as members of the local church, that is, they must have an experimental knowledge of His saving power. Members of secret organizations are barred from membership according to Article IV, Paragraph 5, of the Constitution.

The Lutheran Bible School with Prof. E. M. Broen as dean, located at Grand Forks, N. Dak., offers the following courses: Bible Course (three years); High School (four years accredited); Music Course (three years).

The Church was organized particularly as a missionary movement. It stands for the "old-time" religion, laying stress on revival and evangelistic work. Toward this aim pastors and laymen are working hand in hand.

The Synod has two foreign missions. Rev. E. M. Strom, 801 Chestnut Street, Grand Forks, N. Dak., is president of the Mission Boards; Rev. M. E. Sletta, Grand Forks, N. Dak., secretary.

The field in China is in the Provinces of Hupeh and Honan with 16 missionaries, several of which are now in the U. S. A.—due to the unsettled conditions in China. The three main mission stations are Tsao-yong, Pingshe and Tungbeh.

The other mission field which is in French Sudan, Africa, with ten missionaries, was begun in 1916.

The Synod has also a home for the aged, Sarepta Home, Sauk Center, Minn. "Broderbaandet," is the official paper, edited by Prof. E. M. Broen, Grand Forks, N. Dak.

—E. M. Strom.

REV. N. C. CARLSEN
Pres., United Danish Church

8. THE UNITED DANISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

The United Danish Lutheran Church is a member of the American Lutheran Conference.

Considerable progress has been made on the home mission field both in the United States and in Canada. New fields have been occupied, churches have been built, and the membership of Synod has increased by about nine per cent during the biennium.

Dana College and Trinity Theological Seminary are progressing. To accommodate young men and women who can not spend thirty-six weeks of the year at school, Dana College now offers a one semester accredited winter course. The number of students taking this course is encouraging. Prof. Hans C. Jersild was added to the theological seminary faculty in 1931. The immediate objective is to enlarge the endowment fund and to build up the institution as a Senior College, meeting all requirements for membership in the North Central Association of Colleges by 1934 when the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the institution will be celebrated. Dana College is now a member of the Nebraska Association of Church Colleges, a member of the National Association of Collegiate Registrars, and a member of the National Lutheran Educational Conference. The work of the institution is accredited by the University of Nebraska, and in other states.

The work of the Cherokee Indian Mission at Oaks, Oklahoma, has been expanded. A chapel was built and dedicated at Flint and a modern six-room school house, meeting all requirements of the state, is now under construction at Oaks. The first ten grades will be taught by four teachers, all professing Christians of our Lutheran Church.

Synod still co-operates with the United Lutheran Church in the Japan Mission. The Rev. Hajimi Inadomi, who is one of the first fruits of our Japan Mission, attended the Lutheran World Convention as official delegate of the Lutheran Church of Japan.

The work of mercy is now carried on at four children's homes, four old people's homes and the Ebenezer Mercy Institute. The latter is also supported by the Danish Lutheran Church in America.

Since September, 1930, the president of Synod has devoted all his time to his office with residence at Blair, Nebraska.

—N. C. Carlsen.

REV. HAKON JORGENSEN
Pres., Danish Lutheran Church

9. THE DANISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH IN AMERICA

The Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, generally called The Danish Church, has carried on its work as usual, with a small gain in membership. Two years ago it suffered a severe loss when the college and seminary in Des Moines, Iowa, was destroyed by fire, but through contributions of the church people the old building was replaced and a much needed addition built for library and class room purposes.

At present the church feels the economic depression, but is determined to carry on, convinced that it has a definite contribution toward the making of America.

In the past year three of the pioneer pastors have been called home. Rev. R. Andersen for almost fifty years pastor of Our Savior's Church in Brooklyn; Rev. P. Gotke and Rev. Adam Dan. Andersen and Dan were among the first ministers to arrive in America from the Mother Church in Denmark. In 1872 they helped start the work which led to the forming of the Danish Lutheran Church.

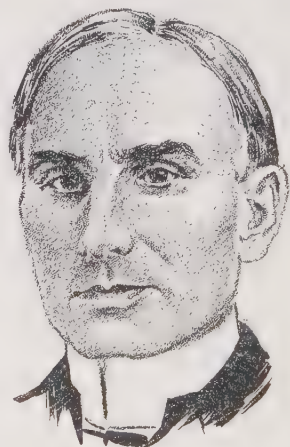

—Hakon Jorgensen.

10. THE ICELANDIC EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN SYNOD IN NORTH AMERICA

No report from the Synod having been received, the editors are using the report found in "Religious Bodies," 1926, II, 802, which in part is as follows:

"The growth of the Synod has continued, though limited by immigration and the scattering of the constituency. At its 1927 convention it numbered 56 congregations and 18 pastors, 14 of these congregations being located in the United States. The Synod maintains an educational institution, the Jon Bjarnason Academy, in Winnipeg, Man., giving a full preparatory course and one year of collegiate work. The Rev. R. Marteinsson is president of the institution. The United Lutheran Church in America and the Norwegian Lutheran Church have in recent years aided the Icelandic Synod in this work. The Synod maintains a well-equipped old people's home, Bethel, at Gimli, Man. In foreign mission work the Synod co-operates with the United Lutheran Church and is represented by the Rev. S. O. Thorlaksson in the Japan field of the United Lutheran Church. The work of home missions is being pressed with renewed vigor. The official organ of the Synod is the monthly 'Sameiningin', published at Winnipeg, Man., now (1926) beginning its forty-third year."

REV. A. HAAPANEN
Pres., Suomi Synod

11. THE FINNISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH (The Suomi Synod)

The Suomi Synod celebrated its 40th anniversary in 1930 in connection with its 41st convention at Calumet, Mich., where it was organized. The convention and anniversary celebration were very inspiring and well represented by the congregations. The archbishop of Finland was represented by a special delegate, Provost K. R. Kares, a member of the Executive Council of the Diocese of Turku (Abo). Although the Church is not officially connected with the Church of Finland, yet the participation of the Mother Church in this historical celebration was greatly appreciated.

The Synod is in a transition period. The first generation is rapidly passing away, and the younger generation is gradually taking more active and responsible interest in the work of the Church. The language question and other problems are being solved in the natural way in the process of changing conditions. The English language is coming increasingly into use in Sunday schools, confirmation classes and young people's work, also in church services.

Education

The elementary Christian education has been carried on mostly in the home. Sunday school and summer school. The Board of Education, appointed by the Synod, is in charge of the Sunday schools and young people's work. The young people's work is organized into local societies and conference leagues. The length of instruction for confirmation classes in most congregations is one year.

For higher learning there is one institution, Suomi College and Theological Seminary, located at Hancock, Mich. The College offers a two-year college course, and the Seminary a three-year course. It also has music and commercial departments. Its academy department will be discontinued in 1932. Special attention will be given to the development of the college course and the Seminary. The College put up a campaign to raise $300,000 for an Endowment and Extension Fund in 1930, but on account of this period of depression it was not carried through, only about one third of the sum being raised. The campaign will be continued when conditions become more favorable.

Missions

The home mission work has been conducted jointly with the United Lutheran Church. This joint work has been going on for ten years. The Canadian work of the Synod was transferred to the United Lutheran Church by decision of the annual convention of Suomi Synod at Eveleth, Minn., 1931, in consonance with the Canadian congregations and mission stations. The work has progressed comparatively well during past years.

Inner mission work is yet in its early stages of development. The Synod has maintained a seamen's mission in San Francisco. The work for orphans and the aged is under development.

Foreign mission work has been carried on jointly with the Foreign Mission Society of Finland. The Synod supports one missionary in China and also aids the work in Africa.

Publications

There are two publication concerns. The oldest one is located at Hancock, Mich., the other one at Astoria, Ore. Both publish several church papers, year books, periodicals and literature for the use of the Church. The Hancock concern has progressed well, the Astoria concern not so well.

Many opportunities are open to the Synod to do earnest and effective work for the promotion of the great cause of the Kingdom.

—A. Haapanen.

REV. G. A. AHO
Pres., Finnish National Church

12. THE FINNISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN NATIONAL CHURCH OF AMERICA

At the present time the Finnish National Church comprises 66 congregations and 19 pastors. Of these, eight congregations and three pastors are in Canada. According to its Annual Report for 1931 the membership is 7,415 souls, of these 4,949 are communicant members and 2,466 are children. Its pastors also serve 12 independent congregations with 1,182 communicant members and 475 children. Including these its membership is 9,072 souls. There are 42 church edifices and eight parsonages.

Its 33rd annual convention was held July 1-5, 1931, at Fairport Harbor, Ohio.

The Synod owns a publishing house at Ironwood, Mich., where the synodical paper "Auttaja" is issued weekly. A paper for Sunday schools, "Lasten Ystävä," is published monthly. Besides these a quarterly is published for Easter, Midsummer, Advent, and Christmas. Pamphlets and a few larger books are occasionally published.

At the present it has no seminary of its own. But it is sending boys to study for the ministry to the Theological Seminary of the Missouri Synod at Springfield, Ill. Mr. J. E. Nopola graduated from this institution last June and was ordained at its convention at Fair Harbor, Ohio.

Home mission work is being carried on both in the United States and in Canada. In this it has enjoyed the help of the Missouri Synod. During recent years series of lectures, sponsored by young people's societies, have been held in various parts of the synod. The burden of these lectures has been: (1) Indoctrination, and (2) Instruction of its young people in church work. The various young people's societies have also been organized into a league which holds its annual meeting in conjunction with the synodical convention.

It is not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.

—G. A. Aho.

REV. JOHN OBERG
Pres., Finnish Apostolic Church

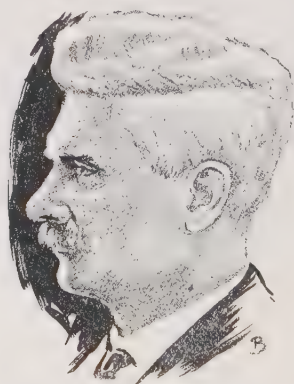

13. THE FINNISH APOSTOLIC LUTHERAN CHURCH

As no report has been received from the Finnish Apostolic Church the following is copied from "Religious Bodies," II, 1926, 828-829:

"The Finns, who first settled in Calumet, Mich., came principally from the northern part of Norway, and were identified with the State Church. Among them, however, were a number belonging to a party founded by Provost Lars Levi Laestadius, of Pajala, Sweden. Disagreements which arose between these and the other Lutherans at last became so acute that some of the followers of Laestadius were excluded from the Sacrament. Under the lead of Salomon Korteniemi these excluded members formed a congregation of their own in December, 1872, under the name of the Salomon Korteniemi Lutheran Society. In 1879 this name was changed to the Finnish Apostolic Lutheran Congregation. As other congregations of Finns in Mass., Mich., Minn., and Ore.

were organized on the same basis, they came into fellowship with this body under the name of the Finnish Apostolic Lutheran Church, or, as ordinarily termed, the Apostolic Lutheran Church (Finnish). The churches accept in general the creeds of the Evangelical Lutheran Church and emphasize the necessity of regeneration and the practical importance of absolution from sin."

Although an absolute congregational polity prevailed in the past, on January 7, 1929, The Finnish Apostolic Lutheran Church of America was incorporated, with two districts, Eastern and Western, 20 ministers and 41 congregations enrolled. The annual convention held in Clatskanie, Oregon, June, 1931, was attended by about 3,000 Finns.

REV. DR. F. PFOTENHAUSER
Pres., Synod of Missouri

14. THE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN SYNOD OF MISSOURI, OHIO AND OTHER STATES

A Synodical Committee, early in the year, issued a statement of the doctrinal position of the Missouri Synod, treating the principal articles of Christian faith, especially those which have been in controversy in the Lutheran Church of America in recent decades. Dr. F. Pieper was a member of the committee issuing the statement, and it may be recorded as the final message of this leading dogmatician of the Lutheran Church of America to his people. Dr. F. Pieper was unable to teach his classes during the second semester of the year 1930-31. He died June 3rd.

Radio

The Lutheran Laymen's League sponsored for a term of 37 weeks the Lutheran Hour, a weekly broadcast over the Columbia Chain System. Much favorable comment was received at the headquarters of the League and Plans are under way to continue country-wide publicity by means of radio in one of the various forms of broadcasting. The Lutheran Hour was an effective aid to the Missionary Forward Movement which the Synod's Board of Directors organized late in 1930, and which came to a climax in the Centen season of 1931.

Aside from raising to a higher level the interest of the congregations in Home and Foreign Missions, the work of the "Call of the Hour" Committee resulted in a special offering amounting to $160,000 to be expended outright in the field of Home Missions. Concordia Seminary of St. Louis graduated its largest class (141) in the spring of 1931. Adding to this number the graduates of Springfield Seminary the missionary board was able to place 160 new workers in the field, also a record figure for this synodical body. A new feature of the Home Mission effort was the calling of missionaries at large by synodical district boards. In the 29 North American districts, 21 missionaries at large were placed in strategic centers. Missionary assistants were called by twenty congregations. These are to labor in the local field of the individual congregation. Their position somewhat corresponds to the internship of medical graduates.

Journals Merged

In agreement with a Synodical resolution the German theological organ, founded many years ago by Dr. Walther under the title of "Lehre und Wehre," has been merged with the "Theological Monthly" founded by the late Dr. A. L. Graebner, and is now published under the title, "Concordia Theological Monthly." It is still a bilingual paper, the English, however, predominating. In the fall of 1930 Prof. M. Sommer of Concordia Seminary and Rev. H. Zorn of Indianapolis, members of the Board of Foreign Missions, visited the India Mission fields, returning early in 1931. The Concordia Historical Institute has established a museum in Concordia Seminary which already contains a fine collection of manuscripts and rare prints, historical relics and a splendid collection of Luther medals. The institute publishes a quarterly edited by Prof. W. G. Polack.

Motion Picture

In the fall of 1931 a Committee acting under the Board of Directors issued a Motion Picture portraying in four reels the missionary, educational and charitable work of the Missouri Synod. The picture circulates among the congregations and is said to fulfill its purpose of arousing greater interest in missions and in the work of the Synod generally. Mission work has been started in Mexico City and the possibility of working in other Central American and South American countries is being investigated. For many years work has been done in Brazil, more lately also in Argentina, with most gratifying results. The Board of Colored Missions, acting as agent for the Synodical Conference, is contemplating entrance into the African field. The Colored Lutherans in the South have a fund of several thousand dollars for the sending out of the first missionaries to Africa.

In Lutherland a new playground has been established for Lutheran youth and also for their elders. The season of 1931 was a highly successful one. Lutherland is located at Pocono Pines, Pa. The Walther League has now some thirty flourishing summer camps in as many different areas. These camps are for young Lutherans only and are conducted for a period of one to three weeks each season. They operate under rules established by the Walther League Board.

REV. G. E. BERGEMANN
Pres., Joint Synod of Wisconsin

15. THE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN JOINT SYNOD OF WISCONSIN AND OTHER STATES

The following is taken from "Religious Bodies," 1926, II, 746-747, since no report has been received from the Joint Wisconsin Synod:

"The doctrinal standard of the Joint Synod of Wisconsin is in no way different from the standard to which Lutherans the world over charge their pastors. If anything characterizes the Joint Synod in distinction from other Lutheran bodies, it is its staunch and firm adherence to the confessional declarations laid down in the 'Book of Concord' of 1580. In 1872 the then Wisconsin Synod joined with the much larger Missouri Synod and several other bodies in forming the Evangelical Lutheran Synodical Conference, which perhaps is acknowledged to stand at the extreme right in strict observance of Lutheran doctrine. This union still holds, though there has been a shift in the membership. The Wisconsin Synod of 1892, together with the synods of Minnesota and Michigan, formed the Joint Synod of Wisconsin. In 1917 (1919?) a reorganization within the limits of the Joint Synod resulted in the breaking up of the original territorial distribution of the constituent synods into eight units, called districts. The eight districts are Southeastern Wisconsin, North Wisconsin, West Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakota-Montana, Michigan, Nebraska, and Pacific-Northwest. Of the organized congregations only 488 have voting membership in the Synod (1926), though official membership in the synod body is optional. Voting members of the individual congregations are usually limited by rule to men over 21 years of age. Many congregations have a way of counting separately women who have been regularly received as members. The faculties of the synodical colleges and seminaries are composed of 35 professors (1926). The parish schools are taught by 259 teachers, of which number 122 are men. Besides upholding the synodical institutions for the complete training of pastors and teachers, the Synod maintains and supports in part about 100 pastors whose work is in the field of home missions scattered throughout the territory covered by the Synod. There is also an extensive mission among the Apaches in Arizona, begun in 1893. As a member of the Synodical Conference the Joint Synod co-operates with the other synods of that Body in the Colored Missions of the South."

According to the "Synodical-Bericht" of 1929, the following schools are maintained by the Joint Wisconsin Synod: Theological Seminary, moved from Wauwatosa, Wis., to Thiensville, Wis.; Northwestern College, Watertown, Wis.; Michigan Lutheran Seminary, Saginaw, Mich.; Dr. Martin Luther College, New Ulm, Minn.; Northwestern Lutheran Academy, Moberidge, S. D. Two Lutheran academies—at Kenosha and Winnebago, Wis., asked for synodical support. The Theological Seminary had an attendance of 52 in 1928-29, 14 graduating. There were 269 attending the New Ulm school, 61 at Saginaw. The school at Moberidge opened its doors for the first time Sept. 5, 1928, with 32 students. The Indian Mission in Arizona reported four schools and seven congregations with a few additional preaching stations. A mission among the Germans in Poland was also reported as having been started. The cost of the new seminary building at Thiensville was about $350,000. The old Wauwatosa building has been sold. The Northwestern Publishing House, 263 Fourth Ave., Milwaukee, reported a net worth on June 1, 1929, of $237,300, of which $20,841 was a net profit for that fiscal year. There were 115 elected delegates present at the Milwaukee convention, and 47 ex-officio members—officials of the general body, the districts, the institutions and boards. At this convention four congregations and ten pastors joined the Synod.

REV. JOHN S. BRADAC
Pres., Slovak Lutheran Synod

16. THE SLOVAK EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN SYNOD OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

The principal work of every Lutheran Synod should be mission work. The Slovak Evangelical Lutheran Synod of U. S. A. is at the present time engaged in extensive mission work in Canada and in the Republic of Czecho-Slovakia. The work in Czecho-Slovakia was begun in 1920 and has always been fraught with great difficulties. At present the Synod has three organized congregations there and a fine and valuable property at Velka, pod Tatrou. The Rev. John Somora is missionary and official representative in that new republic.

In Canada the work was begun in the year of our Lord 1928. A very large percentage of the Slovak immigrants in the Dominion of Canada are of the Lutheran faith. Until the Slovak Synod began this work, there was not one Slovak Lutheran pastor or teacher settled in the Dominion. Most Slovaks are settled in Montreal and Toronto. Other cities where the Slovaks are to be found are: Windsor, Sudbury, Ft. William, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver. The Rev. John Horarik is missionary in Canada. The Mission in this vast country is very promising. The Synod empowered its Mission Board to call another man for the work in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. According to estimate there are about 8,000 Slovak Lutherans in Canada. What a harvest! In the face of these figures is it really doing its duty by taking hold of the opportunities God has placed before its very doors? The Synod's total disbursement for this mission was $2,625.07 for the past 22 months.

Besides taking care of all the domestic congregations and mission places here in the United States it is extending help into other missionary fields. The contributions for Foreign, Negro and Jewish Missions are sent through the channels of the Missouri Synod and the Synodical Conference. All missions and missionary endeavors are under the jurisdiction of one General Mission Board. The Board consists of five members, and its secretary is Rev. Joseph Kucharik of Garfield, N. J.

The Synod has published lately various books for church and school use, most important among them is the second edition of its hymn book, the so-called "Tranoscius." A very urgent and important issue facing the Slovak Synod is the organizing of Christian day schools, of which at present there are only three within the Synod.

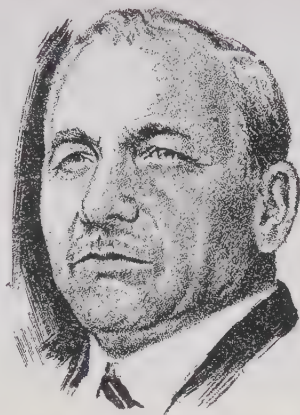

The pastors and teachers of the Synod are educated in the colleges and seminaries of the Missouri Synod. Last year the Slovak professorship at Fort Wayne, Ind., was discontinued. Although there is an urgent necessity for another instructor in the Slovak language, the Synod is not in position to remedy this want at present.

The Synod's official organ the "Svedok" (Witness) has been spreading its message widely for the past 25 years. It has many subscribers in Czecho-Slovakia and Jugoslavia. For the young people of the Church is published "Mlady Luteran" (Young Lutheran). At the last convention, held at St. Louis, Mo., the Synod officially recognized the Slovak Luther League, an organization of young people within the Western District of the synod, fashioned after the Walther League of the Missouri Synod.

17. THE NORWEGIAN SYNOD OF THE AMERICAN EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

The one great aim of the Norwegian Synod is to reach out as far as it can to "make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you." It recognizes no means of value in the great harvest field except the means of grace given and prescribed by our Lord and Savior. Therefore it regards the preservation of these means, pure and unadulterated, as of prime and vital importance. The means of grace, being by the grace of God preserved in their purity, it becomes the Christian's duty to use them diligently for his own edification and to bring them to as many as possible who do not belong to the Kingdom of God.

REV. H. M. TJERNAGEL
Pres., Norwegian Synod

The Synod is not satisfied by having only the adults of its membership diligently using "the power of God unto salvation." The lambs must also be fed regularly. Christians dare not dismiss with a mere friendly gesture the injunction to bring up their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. Knowing of no better way, nor of any as good, to help parents in keeping their children engrafted in Christ, the Christian day school is definitely on the program of the Norwegian Synod. Its Christian grade schools and its Christian high school are special branches of the work that receive tenderest care.

As a record of the Synod for the past biennium, it is pleased to acknowledge visible blessings upon its humblest efforts. Congregations and pastors have been added to the rolls. The number of Christian day schools has increased. Attendance at the High School and Junior College at Mankato, Minn., has steadily grown.

That church discipline in the various congregations is employed more and more, is taken as encouraging evidence that pastors and congregations are taking their work seriously and that Christian love is growing.

SECTION IV

General Cooperative Groups

A. THE NATIONAL LUTHERAN COUNCIL

(An Official Agency)

The National Lutheran Council as a co-operative agency of a number of Lutheran bodies in the United States, was organized in Chicago, Illinois, on September 6, 1918. The scope of its objects and purposes are briefly stated in Article II of the regulations governing it, as follows:

Division A. Regular Work

1. To witness for the Lutheran Church and give publicity to its utterances on all matters which require an expression of the common conviction and sentiment of the Church.

2. To represent Lutheran interests before
(a) National and state governments whenever needed. This is not to exclude direct approach to the governments which any General Body may wish to make.

(b) Organized bodies and movements outside of the Lutheran Church that may require common action. This is to be undertaken only after consultation with the authorities of the General Bodies.

3. To bring to the attention of the Church all such matters as require common utterance or action.

4. To further the work and co-ordination of the activities and agencies of the Church in the solution of common problems affecting the religious life and consciousness of the people, e.g., social, economic and educational problems.

5. To foster true Christian loyalty to the State, and to labor for the maintenance of a right relation between Church and State as distinct, divine institutions.

6. To publish information about, and to promote the gathering and publication of, accurate and uniform statistics of the Lutheran Church.

7. To undertake additional work with the specific consent of the participating bodies.

Division B. Emergency Work

1. To take the necessary steps to meet emergencies requiring common action, with special reference to the welfare and protection of the foreign missions and distressed Lutheran constituencies.

2. Each participating Body shall determine the extent of its co-operation in emergency work.

I. Regular Work at Home

1. Representation. It was necessary for the National Lutheran Council to represent the interests of its constituent bodies before the U. S. Government in a number of instances during the last biennium. The White House Committee on Child Health and Protection, the President's Organization for Unemployment Relief, visas for incoming pastors and students and the capture of Lutheran missionaries in China by bandits, required special attention. Representation was also made, where the circumstances required, before other religious bodies and groups. In addition a number of personal representations were made in behalf of individuals both at home and abroad.

2. Statistical and Reference Library Service. This phase of the service which has been committed to the National Lutheran Council is in charge of Rev. G. L. Kieffer, D.D., Litt.D., who serves as reference librarian and statistician, with Dean O. M. Norlie, Ph.D., as consultant librarian and contributor. It is the function of this service to acquire information and data on the Lutheran Church for the purpose of answering the many inquiries that are referred to it and to prepare articles which will give the true figures and facts of the Lutheran Church. Information furnished in the last two years included historical data on such subjects as early Lutheran settlements, organization and development of Lutheran synods and church bodies, information concerning pioneer pastors and congregations, dates and personages connected with the Reformation, as well as information and bibliography on the Lutheran teachings concerning marriage, and the Church and the labor problem.

Articles were also prepared on such subjects as "U. S. Census of Religious Bodies 1926," "The Percentage of Different Languages in the Lutheran Church in the United States and Canada," "The Percentage of Illiteracy of the Various Countries of the World," "The Lutheran Churches of America," "The Lutheran Churches of Greater New York" and many similar articles. Assistance was also given to editors in the preparation of articles, as for instance, on the subject "The Present Organization of the Lutheran Church in America" for use in the revision of Schaff's "Creeds of Christendom"; to Dr. H. K. Carroll in preparation of an article for the "American Year Book"; an extended bibliography to the National Advisory Committee on Education and Child Welfare, appointed by President Hoover; an extended correspondence with G. and C. Merriam Company, publishers of Webster's International Dictionary concerning the historical statement about the Lutheran Church; the submission of information to the Department of Institutions and Agencies of the State of New Jersey, and many other similar cases. A bibliography of the Lutheran Church of Europe which will be authentic and to a great extent official is now in the course of preparation. The Reference Library has been at the disposal of other agencies, such as Dr. John R. Mott's Library of Social and Religious Research, the Foreign Missionary Atlas, the Home Mission Council and others.

The statistical service of the National Lutheran Council, as in former years, has been rendered to Lutherans and to non-Lutherans alike; to the Lutherans in preparation of the annual "Year Books" and the completion of the "Lutheran World Almanac" for 1929-1930, and 1931-32; to the non-Lutherans in the preparation of statistical tables for Dr. H. K. Carroll, United Stewardship Council, "Encyclopedia Americana," "International Encyclopedia," "Brooklyn Eagle Almanac," "New York World Almanac," "Los Angeles Times Almanac," "Philadelphia Bulletin Almanac," "Chicago News Almanac," and so forth.

Upon the death of Dr. H. K. Carroll, who, for a number of years, had prepared statistics of the religious bodies in the United States for "The Christian Herald," Dr. Kieffer was asked to finish his report for the year 1930. Later on he was named as his successor and elected as president of the Religious Statisticians of America in their first meeting in New York in April, 1931 and named by them to prepare the statistics of the churches for 1931. He thus officially becomes general church statistician of America.

Seven editions of the "Lutheran World Almanac" have been published since 1921. The gathering and compiling of the historical and statistical matter in the Lutheran World Almanac is done by the Statistical and Reference Department of the National Lutheran Council. This handy book of reference which appears biennially serves as a current history of Lutheran trends and achievements.

3. Publicity Service. The publicity work of the National Lutheran Council continues under the direction of Mr. W. P. Elson. During the past two years the Publicity Bureau has maintained active contact with the wire agencies and newspapers throughout the United States and Canada, being recognized by them as an authentic, official source of church news. Through correspondence and the press service of the European Lutheran church organizations, world Lutheran news was gathered and distributed through the weekly News Bulletin to the editors of Lutheran periodicals and synodical officials in America and other lands. General news releases were made to 1,400 dailies in the United States and Canada. Special releases were made to sectional lists of newspapers and to selected religious editors of secular journals, as well as to religious journals. Throughout the past biennium a series of syndicated articles on the Augsburg Confession was furnished to all Lutheran editors, as was also a series of designated articles requested by the Lutheran Editors' Association.

One of the functions of the Publicity Bureau is to serve Lutheran Church agencies in an advisory capacity on matters of publicity and advertising and to give assistance to such agencies whenever called upon. Such service has been in frequent demand throughout the past two years. Other types of service rendered included the distribution of Augsburg Quadri-centennial stamps, a five-part serial story illustrated for church papers, the writing of special articles for editors of several publications, the delivery of addresses on publicity before several gatherings, assisting in the work of the Religious Publicity Council and assistance in the publication of the "Lutheran World Almanac."

II. Emergency Work

1. European Relief. Since January, 1930 the National Lutheran Council has been relieved of the administration of World Service funds intended for European relief, that being committed to the Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention as one of its definite functions. As a matter of record it should be reported that during 1919-1930, money, clothing and provisions in the amount of almost $8,000,000 were raised and administered by the National Lutheran Council for World Service. As the common agency of seven Lutheran bodies, the National Lutheran Council continues to raise funds for this purpose, even though it no longer administers the distribution of the same. In 1930 the amount raised was $41,531.94.

2. Foreign Missions. The records show that since 1919 the Council contributed the imposing sum of $701,274.51 toward the support of Lutheran foreign missions which otherwise might have been lost entirely to the Lutheran Church. The following is a record of the missions and the amount each received over the whole period:

Berlin Mission (North and South China)	$151,333.00
Breklum Mission (China)	35,788.39

B. FEDERATIONS

REV. DR. OTTO MEES
Pres., American Lutheran
Conference

1. American Lutheran Conference

The American Lutheran Conference was organized in Minneapolis, Minnesota, October 29, 30 and 31, 1930. The organization meeting was held in Central Lutheran Church on the 400th anniversary date of the adoption of the Augsburg Confession as the Magna Charta of the Lutheran Church.

This meeting was the culmination of efforts toward unification of Lutheran forces in America dating back as far as the year 1924. In this year preliminary steps for a closer co-operation between the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America and the Joint Synod of Ohio had already been taken. Negotiations looking to a possible merger between the Joint Synod of Ohio and the Iowa and Buffalo Synods were under way. A colloquy by these groups was held on November 18, 1925. The synods here represented adopted the so-called "Minneapolis Theses" as common ground upon which to build subsequent efforts for closer affiliation. In 1928 pulpit and altar fellowship was established between the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America and the Joint Synod of Ohio. Later, colloquies took place with the Augustana Synod, Iowa, Buffalo and Ohio as participants, followed by the same groups including the Lutheran Free Church. Again, the now organized American Lutheran Church, The Norwegian Lutheran Church of America and the United Danish Lutheran Church conferred.

Following the definite conviction that all these bodies were in complete agreement with the pronouncements of the Minneapolis Theses, the question of closer affiliation was raised. A preliminary draft of a proposed constitution and by-laws was prepared by the heads of the respective synods. This draft was submitted to each of the interested groups and was adopted by all of them individually in session assembled. After such favorable action on the part of each synodical body the proposed constitution was published for the first time in March, 1930.

The Committee on Arrangements for the organization meeting of the American Lutheran Conference consisted of the General Presidents of the church bodies favoring the proposed Conference. It met on September 12, 1930, in Chicago, where the preliminary arrangements and the program for the organization meeting were prepared and adopted.

The meeting at Minneapolis chose Dr. C. C. Hein as temporary president and Rev. T. O. Burntvedt as temporary secretary. One hundred and seventeen accredited delegates from the various bodies were present—sixty-seven clergymen and fifty laymen. A very large number of deeply interested visitors attended.

The object of the Conference as adopted by the organization is stated in Article III of the constitution and reads as follows:

"This organization is founded for the purpose of giving testimony to the unity in the faith of the participating church bodies, and to this end has as its objects:

1. Mutual counsel concerning the faith, life and work of the Church.
2. Co-operation in matters of common interest and responsibility, such as:
 - a. Allocation of work in Home Mission fields.
 - b. Elementary and higher Christian Education.
 - c. Inner Mission work (Christian Social Service).
 - d. Student service in State schools and universities.
 - e. Foreign Missions and other missionary activities.

f. Joint Publication of Christian literature.

g. Periodic exchange of theological professors at the theological seminaries.

h. Such other interests as from time to time may call for consideration."

The American Lutheran Conference has only such powers as may be specifically delegated to it by the constituent bodies. Otherwise its province shall be limited to counsel and advice in matters of common interest and those in which its advice may be sought.

An Executive Committee was elected to execute the resolutions or mandates of the Conference. It meets periodically between the regular biennial conventions of the Conference.

Seven commissions have been authorized and appointed. Their purpose is to study carefully the problems and bring recommendations to the Conference in various fields of church activity. The commissions make their recommendations to the Executive Committee which in turn refers the matter to the Conference. The field and personnel of the commissions and committees are as follows:

"This Conference, composed of Lutheran church bodies in America, confessing a common faith and practicing pulpit and altar fellowship, humbly and thankfully accept the grace and guidance of the Triune God who has now crowned with success our endeavor to organize into a conference for the purpose of fostering fraternal relations and of co-operating in the extension of the Kingdom."

The next meeting of the American Lutheran Conference will be held in Milwaukee, Wis. on November 16-18, 1932.

—Otto Mees, President.

REV. DR. L. FUERBRINGER
Pres., Lutheran Synodical
Conference

2. Synodical Conference

The Evangelical Lutheran Synodical Conference of North America is a federation of synods comprising, at the present time, the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio and Other States; the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Wisconsin and Other States; the Slovak Evangelical Lutheran Synod of America; and the Norwegian Synod of the American Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The purpose of the Synodical Conference is to give an expression of the unity of the spirit existing among the respective synods; mutual encouragement as to faith and confession; promotion of unity as to doctrine and practice, and the removal of any threatening disturbance thereof; co-operation in matters of mutual interest; an effort to establish territorial boundaries for the synods, provided that the language used does not separate them; and, the uniting of all Lutheran synods of America into one orthodox American Lutheran Church.

The Synodical Conference is a federation, not a merger, of synods, being merely an advisory body. The synods retain their full sovereignty, have full control of their educational, benevolent and missionary activities, the colored mission alone being conducted by the Synodical Conference as such. While the synods of the Synodical Conference are thus externally, though rather loosely, united they are internally knit together by the closest and firmest ties, the unity of the spirit.

The Synodical Conference was organized

July 10 to 16, 1872, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and holds biennial meetings, the last meeting having occurred on August 6th to 11th, 1930 at Quincy, Illinois. The next convention will take place in August 1932 at a place to be determined.

Most of the institutions, within the bounds of the Synodical Conference are owned and conducted by the individual constituent synods. The Synodical Conference as such owns and conducts only the institutions in its Negro Mission: Immanuel Lutheran College, Greensboro, North Carolina; Alabama Lutheran College, Selma, Ala.; and the Lutheran Preparatory School, New Orleans, Louisiana.

The work among the negroes was established in 1877 and today is being conducted in fifteen states—Alabama, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, Missouri, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia; and, also, Washington, D. C.

The Synodical Conference as such employs only the workers in the Negro Mission. 132 persons are employed—32 whites and 100 colored. This Negro Mission work of the Synodical Conference is the common work of the Conference. It consists of 64 organized congregations, 11 preaching places, 7,070 baptized members, 3,756 communicant members, 54 mission schools, 69 Sunday schools. The budget for 1931 was $192,600 for current expenses and $23,763 for buildings.

The literature published by the Synodical Conference, with the exception of the three papers published in the interest of Negro Mission work, is owned and published by the individual constituent synods. The three papers published in the interest of Negro Missions by the Synodical Conference are "Die Missionstaube," "The Lutheran Pioneer" and "The Missionary Lutheran." Although Negro Missions is the only work conducted jointly by the constituent synods of the Synodical Conference, the individual congregations, in cities where congregations of the several synods of the Synodical Conference are located, join in conducting educational, missionary and charitable work such as Lutheran high schools, deaconess work, home finding societies, and hospices.

SECTION V

HISTORICAL ESSAYS AND DIGESTS

A. TRENDS AND EVENTS AMONG THE LUTHERANS

(In the following paragraphs the Statistician of the National Lutheran Council chronicles and outlines some of the outstanding events and tendencies during 1930 and 1931.)

Introduction: With vision, courage and fidelity to truth as revealed in God's Word, the Lutherans of America and the world have carried on their work during the past two years. Pastors in Russia have become martyrs for their faith. In the main the Lutherans have manifested a firm adherence to the principle and conviction that the Bible is the only authoritative source of revealed truth, and, therefore, the only safe guide for faith and practice, indicating a universal approachment to the ideal—the Church's unshaken faith in conservative Lutheranism and solidarity of the Lutheran Church on questions of doctrine. The Lutheran Church in America and the world has achieved much during the past two years by simply, faithfully and patiently administering the Sacraments and adhering to God's Word.

There has been a new evaluation and appreciation of things spiritual. Greater emphasis has been laid upon the doctrine of the universal priesthood of believers as the Every Member Evangelistic Visitation work developed. In 1930 the entire Church of America and the world re-evaluated the doctrine of the Church as the Church celebrated the 400th anniversary of the promulgation of the Augsburg Confession. The last two years were also marked by greater emphasis upon publicity, both in the press and by radio broadcasting.

In stewardship the Church developed, despite the economic conditions, and grew in service and consciousness of the obligation to the unfortunate both in America and abroad. In America the National Lutheran Council changed the emphasis of its work as the Lutheran World Convention took over the distribution of World Relief. The National Lutheran Council again took up and began to develop the work for which it was originally organized, namely, that of representation, publicity, statistics and reference service.

The past two years were especially notable for reorganizations and mergers within the Lutheran Church, and for federations and associations that were formed by the various linguistic groups of America.

Summary of Statistics: The statistics of the Lutherans of the United States and Canada, and also other parts of the world, are given in minutiae elsewhere in this volume. Space here permits only the briefest summary. Statistics for the past two years for the Lutherans of the United States and Canada only may be summarized as follows:

Organization: Among the Lutherans of the United States and Canada and the world, an ever present and increasing consciousness of the innate desire and open striving for closer unity and fellowship was apparent.

In 1930 the United Lutheran Church held its biennial convention in Milwaukee, Wis., October 7-14. The next convention will be held in Philadelphia, Pa., October, 1932. Each of the 33 constituent synods of the United Lutheran Church in America held annual conventions during the spring and summer months of 1930 and 1931. Preceding the Milwaukee Convention of the United Lutheran Church in America, which projected plans and recorded achievements in the Church's work, the Women's Missionary Society met in biennial convention in Racine, Wis.

In Pennsylvania, the negotiations between the various synods belonging to the United Lutheran Church in America located in the State of Pennsylvania looked toward a merger of these synods or a synodical re-division of the state. Accordingly the same number of synods have been continued throughout the biennial, and committees are still at work on this problem. In New Jersey the projection and the formation of the Synod of New Jersey has been discussed in both the New Jersey Conference of the United Lutheran Synod of New York and the New Jersey Conference of the Pennsylvania Ministerium, but the proposition has hardly developed beyond the discussion stage. The formation of the New Jersey Conference of the East Pennsylvania Synod was also projected, and the merger between the Indiana Synod and the Michigan Synod of the United Lutheran Church was proposed, to be completed by 1934.

On August 11-12, 1930, the organization of the American Lutheran Church was finally effected in Toledo, Ohio, by the merger of The Lutheran Synod of Buffalo, The Evangelical-Lutheran Synod of Iowa and Other States, and the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio and Other States. The convention was characterized by enthusiastic co-operation in the organization of the separate districts, and in all the necessary preparatory and consequent work. The new organization comprising about 2,000 congregations, 500,000 members, and more than 1,500 pastors, is the third largest general Lutheran church body. The first convention took steps to affiliate with the American Lutheran Conference, a federation consisting of the American Lutheran Church, the Augustana Synod of North America, the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, the United Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church, and the Lutheran Free Church, the federation being based upon unity in the faith—each of the synods having accepted the Minneapolis Theses.

Thirteen districts were organized before the end of 1931. The various boards and committees functioned, and the Women's Missionary Federation of the American Lutheran Church was formed by the reorganization of the Women's Missionary Conference. A general Luther League with District Leagues was also organized out of the Luther Leagues of the former Iowa, Ohio and Buffalo synods. The organization, effected at the meeting, began to function June 1, 1931.

The general bodies affiliated with the Synodical Conference and the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio and other States, and the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Wisconsin and other States meet triennially and did not hold meetings in 1930 or 1931. The districts of these general Lutheran church bodies, however, held their annual meetings during the summers of 1930 and 1931. The annual convention of the Walther League of the Synodical Conference was held in 1930 in Cleveland, Ohio, on July 13-17, and in 1931 at Luthersland, Pocono Pines, Pa., on June 21-25.

October 31, 1930, the representatives of the following general Lutheran church bodies: the American Lutheran Church, the Augustana Synod of North America, the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, the United Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church, and the Lutheran Free Church, met in Minneapolis and organized the American Lutheran Conference, a federation, appointing almost a dozen commissions on various problems on relationship. Since the organization of The American Lutheran Conference there have been effected parallel organizations and federations of young people's Luther Leagues, brotherhoods and even pastoral associations in various cities and some of the states.

The record of conventions held by the general Lutheran church bodies affiliated with The American Lutheran Conference are:

American Lutheran Church, Toledo, Ohio, August 10-11, 1930.
The Augustana Synod of No. America, Jamestown, N. Y., June 11-16, 1931.
Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, Minneapolis, Minn., May 21-28, 1930:
United Danish Ev. Lutheran Church, Blair, Neb., June 2-7, 1931.
The Lutheran Free Church, Fargo, N. Dak., June 9-14, 1931.

The First Lutheran Youth Conference met in the early part of April, 1930, at Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio. Four hundred and sixty-four enrolled young people attended this meeting, representing the Ohio Synod of the United Lutheran Church, which called the meeting, the Indiana Synod, the Michigan Synod, and the West Virginia Synod. Also, several hundred young people and visiting adults attended the sessions, and 1,800 were present at the closing service on Sunday morning.

The Lutheran Inter-synodical Seminary Conference organized at the Augustana Lutheran Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill., December 21, 1929, held its 1930 convention in Hamma Divinity School, Springfield, Ohio, and the 1931 convention in Minneapolis, Minn.

In the Norwegian Lutheran Church there was formed on November 10-11, 1930, a synodical Norwegian Lutheran Brotherhood, which took action to affiliate with the American Federation of Lutheran Brotherhoods. There was also organized in the Norwegian Lutheran Church the Young People's Luther League.

On June 9, 1930, the Augustana Historical Society was organized at Rock Island, Ill. The Society started auspiciously with no less than 120 charter members.

At the third biennial convention of the American Federation of Lutheran Brotherhoods held in Pittsburgh, Pa., November 10-11, 1930, the Norwegian Lutheran Church Brotherhood was received as a new member.

The assurance that a Brotherhood of the American Lutheran Church would be formed, was also received. The convention adopted a new financial plan and approved the plan of simultaneous meetings of the various synodical brotherhoods at future conventions of the Federation. It was resolved to create a Radio Broadcasting Commission to co-operate with similar committees of various synodical units and to continue the publication of "Lutheran Men." A committee was authorized for the purpose of arranging regional federation conventions in Lutheran centers. It approved the plan for Ministerial Pension Retirement Funds, and urged the whole-hearted support of the synodical church papers, adopting the slogan, "A Lutheran church paper in every home."

The pastors of the American Lutheran Conference organized an inter-synodical inner mission society at Los Angeles, Calif., during June, 1931.

The Synodical Conference representatives of inner mission work on March 3, 1931, in New York, N.Y., organized the Lutheran Federation of Charities. The 29th annual convention of the Associated Lutheran Charities Conference was held at Fort Wayne, Ind., on September 30 to October 10, 1930. The Zion Society for Israel held its 53rd meeting at Story City, Iowa, on October 8, 1931. The American Lutheran Statistical Association met in the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Mount Airy, Pa., on February 11-12, 1930. Their 1931 meeting was held at Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., on April 7 and 8.

The biennium was also noted for the organization of pastoral associations such as the Milwaukee Pastors' Association of the American Lutheran Conference, the Racine Pastors' Association of The American Lutheran Conference, and the Long Island Pastors' Association of the United Lutheran Church. The Hungarian Lutherans in the United States and Canada, with a view to uniting all Hungarian Lutheran churches and societies, organized a conference on November 26, 1931, in Pittsburgh, Pa. Also there must be noted the formation of choral societies in the Synodical Conference at Herrington, Kansas, and in the Long Island Conference of the United Lutheran Church. The United Danish Church undertook to carry out its policy for a full-time president in January, 1930.

Space will not permit for the enumeration of all the conventions of associations and societies, and the conferences and circuits of the various constituent synods, districts and conferences, but a review of these conventions presents an extensive picture of intensive and aggressive activity along every phase of church work and organization.

Publicity: The publicity concerning the Lutheran Church in America and the world in 1930 centered chiefly about the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the adoption of the Augsburg Confession in 1530. Publicity concerning the many celebrations appeared in the public press, magazines and periodicals, church and secular, and a notable series of articles written by outstanding men were released by the Publicity Bureau of the National Lutheran Council. The subjects and authors were as follows:

- "Martyrs of the Faith," by Rev. Adolf Hult, D.D., Professor of Church History, Augsburg Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Ill.
- "The Birth of a Great Confession," by Rev. Prof. J. M. Reu, Th.D., Litt.D., Wartburg Theological Seminary, Dubuque, Ia.
- "In the Crucible of the Word," by Rev. J. H. Kuhlman, Loudonville, O.
- "The Conservatism of the Augsburg Confession," by Rev. Charles M. Jacobs, D.D., LL.D., L.H.D., President, Philadelphia Theological Seminary.

"The Protest of the Augsburg Confession," by Dr. A. G. Voigt, Dean, Lutheran Theological Southern Seminary, Columbia, S. C.

"The Heart of Our Doctrine—The Christ Idea," by Dr. F. H. Knubel, President, United Lutheran Church in America.

"The Sum of Our Doctrine," by Dr. E. P. Pfatfeicher, President, Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania.

"The Truth of Our Doctrine," by Rev. Henry J. Pfum, Pastor, Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Buffalo, N. Y.

"The Fruits of Our Doctrine," by Rev. George Taylor Kygh, Litt.D.

"The Catholicity of Our Doctrine," by the Rt. Rev. Sam Stadener, D.D., Bishop of Växjö, Sweden.

"A Bond of Union," by Prof. Werner Elert, D.D., Erlangen, Germany.

"The Power of the Church," by Bishop Ihmels, D.D., Dresden, Germany.

"The Church of the Augsburg Confession," by Dr. Alfred Th. Jorgensen, Copenhagen, Denmark.

"A Confession for the Ages," by Rev. T. F. Gullixson, D.D., St. Paul, Minn., First Vice-President, Norwegian Lutheran Church of America.

There was also a notable development in radio broadcasting; two outstanding events being a Lutheran Hour sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League of the Missouri Synod and the Walther League. The latter organization appropriated $50,000 for the purpose and the speaker was Dr. Walter A. Maier, Professor at Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., and editor of the "Walther League Messenger." This program appeared on the radio broadcast WABC chain of 36 radio stations each Thursday evening at 10 o'clock. It began on October 2, 1930, and ended on June 11, 1931, 22 broadcasts in all, costing $4,000 for each half hour, or more than $100,000 for the entire program. These addresses have since been published by the Concordia Publishing House, St. Louis, Mo. Another outstanding feature in 1931 was the radio broadcast of Dr. Frederick H. Knubel, President, United Lutheran Church in America, over the National Broadcasting System during the radio religious forum on Sunday afternoon. This broadcast was sponsored by Lutheran laymen, and lasted from Sunday, August 16, to Sunday, October 11, inclusive. The addresses have been published and copies are available by addressing Dr. F. H. Knubel, 39 East 35th Street, New York, N. Y.

A notable broadcast is that of the Church of the Air over WABC, inaugurated in the fall of 1931 and covering 38 stations. The Rev. Dr. Augustus Steimle, pastor of the Church of the Advent, New York City; the Rev. Dr. Samuel Trexler, President, United Lutheran Synod of New York, and the Rev. Dr. T. F. Gullixson, President, Lutheran Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., appeared on Sundays, September 27, November 8 and December 28, respectively.

According to a list of broadcasting stations over which Lutheran services are broadcast regularly, or occasionally, as published in a number of issues of "The National Lutheran," the record of Lutheran broadcasts is as follows: KFUO—St. Louis, Mo.; WLCI—Ithaca, N. Y.; WCAL—Northfield, Minn.; and KWLC—Decorah, Iowa.

There are also occasional broadcasts over 24 stations, and regular broadcasts with from one to four or more programs a week over 52 stations. A list of these stations has been published in "The National Lutheran." One of the notable regular broadcasts was that conducted by the Publicity Committee of the Long Island Conference of the United Lutheran Synod of New York. These broadcasts were in charge of Rev. C. W. Valentine of Brooklyn, N. Y.

On December 12, 1931, there was a short wave broadcast over the Westinghouse network, KDKA, to all the missionaries in Asia. These broadcasts are to be repeated January 9, February 9, and March 12, 1932. The Australian Lutheran Church broadcasts noon-day devotions over the Adelaide, Australia, radio station, and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church in Australia broadcast the quadricentennial celebration of the Augsburg Confession on June 22, 1930, over station 5CL, and broadcasts regularly, at least once a month, a Lutheran service over this same station. On November 2, 1931, a Reformation service held in Wittenberg, Germany, was broadcast over Germany and central Europe.

In addition to the special celebrations and broadcasts, there must be noted the special publicity efforts during the National Lutheran publicity weeks sponsored by the American Lutheran Publicity Bureau of 69 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y., and also the special Lenten season displays in windows and so forth. This Bureau during a four-month period in 1930 reported the release of 450,000 printed tracts and pamphlets, five-sixths of which were distributed throughout the United States and Canada, South Africa, India, China and South Australia. These pamphlets and tracts were made possible by volunteer contributions.

An interesting feature initiated by the late Dr. J. N. Lenker has been the Lutheran display booths at State Fairs, notable among these were the exhibit of the Kansas Synod at the Kansas state fair in 1930, and the Missouri Synod display at the Western Washington Fair at Puyallup, Washington. At the forthcoming World's Fair in Chicago, 1932, the Norwegian American Historical Association proposes to have an exhibit. The Milwaukee churches in 1930 inaugurated a program of display advertising. The Lutheran News Bureau of Eastern Pennsylvania was established September 29, 1930, to assist in rendering better news and for broadcasting news and printed matter concerning the Lutheran church. The secretary of this News Bureau is the Rev. C. K. Fegley of Phillipsburg, N. J.

In music, the St. Olaf Choir of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., continues its annual tours of America and Europe, giving unique publicity to the character and spirit of the Lutheran church. The European tour of the St. Olaf Choir and of Organist Edward H. Rechlin are especially to be noted. The Choir appeared in the Trondhjem Cathedral celebration and in the leading centers of Europe, and Mr. Rechlin took part in the Augsburg Confession Celebration, Augsburg, Germany, as well as appearing in a number of other places. The Augustana A Capella Choir, Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., recorded for the Columbia Phonograph Company two double disc records, released to the number of 5,000 records, and the United Danish Church organized a gigantic choir which sang at the convention of the United Danish Church held at Dana College, Blair, Neb., in the summer of 1931. During the Young People's Luther League Convention of the Norwegian Lutheran Church held in Chicago on June 21, 1931, 4,000 voices sang in the Chicago Stadium. A set of chimes costing $65,000 was installed at Old Zion Lutheran Church, Franklin Square, Philadelphia, Pa., in 1930.

In 1931 the motion picture "Freedom" depicting the early life of Martin Luther was finally released in the State of Pennsylvania. This motion picture was filmed in Germany and was edited and titled in English in America by the Rev. G. L. Kieffer, D.D., Litt.D., and the Rev. Karl Kretzmann; and was introduced in America under the auspices of the Lutheran Ministers' Assn. of Metropolitan New York.

In summarizing and evaluating the type of publicity the Lutheran Church has received during the past two years, both by press releases and radio broadcasts, it stands out as being dignified, substantial and worth while.

To this end publicity bureaus, committees and departments have been established, and are working throughout the various synods of the church. They must keep the press informed of the various activities and their outcome, in order that the details of such functions may be presented to the public and not be forgotten. These bureaus also have the responsibility of circulating news about synods to the very members, officers and pastors of the particular synod in which the news originated. Often this information is sent out in bulletin form, and it is at once vitalizing and stimulating. It shows what others are doing, what can be done, and urges the work onward with renewed effort and hope.

Publication: There has been a marked improvement of Lutheran literature both as to volume and contents. Many outstanding books by Lutherans are named in another part of this volume listed under "Authors." They are the books published by the Lutheran publication houses. Notable among

There was a tendency manifested during the past two years to enlarge upon the student pastor work carried on by different general Lutheran church bodies in the universities and colleges of America. A great interest was taken in the promotion of Bible Institutes and Week Day Religious Education. Camps for young people—boys and girls—were established with the object of giving opportunity for instructions in the Bible and the Sunday School teachers were organized for the training. The holding of conferences, meetings and discussion groups among college and university students, supervised by executive officers of boards of education and student pastors, as a movement grew in importance and value.

In the field of music, St. Olaf Choir still holds first place as a notable and far-reaching influential musical organization. The choirs of Augustana College, Sioux Falls, S. D., and Rock Island, Ill.; the Pacific Lutheran College, Parkland, Washington; Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kansas; the musical organizations of Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, and Hartwick College, Oneonta, N. In the Augustana Synod there was also organized a preachers' choir consisting of the pastors of the New York Conference.

The tendency of co-operation among all Lutherans in carrying forward educational work was manifested by the general Lutheran church bodies of the American Conference. The 17th annual meeting of the National Lutheran Educational Conference occurred in Chicago, Ill., in January, 1930, and the 18th annual meeting in Indianapolis, Ind., in January, 1931.

Missions: The Lutherans of America are primarily interested in missions—foreign, home and inner. Every phase of the Church's work is being organized more and more to carry out the great commission of Christ.

Foreign Missions: In the foreign mission fields the movement for separately established and native autonomous churches continued during the past biennium. The Board of Foreign Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America took steps to expand the missionary work carried on in South America.

A mission house at Tsingtao, China, was remodeled to serve as a hospital which was dedicated on January 1, 1931. A Lutheran Theological Seminary was opened at Hankow, China, September 16, 1929.

The United Lutheran Church Foreign Mission Board, in 1930, established a balanced budget and reduced its indebtedness from $412,000 to $254,000, maintaining its present foreign missionary activities and taking many forward steps. During the Epiphany season, 1931, an appeal was made to 3,925 congregations to reduce the indebtedness of $254,000.

The Mission of the United Lutheran Church in the Telugu country of India was recognized as the largest Lutheran mission in the world. In India "The Gospel Witness," the official publication of the Lutheran Churches of India, celebrated its 25th anniversary in September, 1930. On July 26, 1930, Anna S. Kugler, M.D., the first American woman missionary to India and founder of the American Lutheran Hospital at Guntur, India, after almost fifty years of service, died in India. In 1931 the American Lutheran Hospital at Guntur, founded in 1883, was renamed "The Kugler Hospital" in honor of Dr. Anna S. Kugler. Dr. Lydia Woerner, former medical missionary of the Rajahmundry field, India, died July 3, 1930. The Executive Committee of the Andhra Lutheran Church recognized 12 new parishes by assigning Indian pastors to them. It also appointed a full time secretary for Young People's Work, beginning July 1, 1930. Mr. V. Ch. John, Headmaster of the Guntur High School for 900 boys, was received at the Milwaukee Convention of the United Lutheran Church, October 30, 1930. The Lutheran Church of Japan was organized on April 17, 1931, in the Lutheran Church in Tokyo, the Rev. I. Miurs being elected president. Five of the congregations in Japan have assumed self support. They are churches at Kurumi, Fukuoka, Kumamoto, Tokyo and Kyushu Gakuin. The latter celebrated its 20th anniversary on October 1, 1931. The constitution of the Lutheran Church in Japan was presented to the United Lutheran Church convention in Milwaukee, 1930, and adopted. This is the second daughter church received by the United Lutheran Church. Three years ago the Andhra Lutheran Church of India was organized. In China on June 21-28, 1931, the fourth general assembly of the Lutheran Church in China was held at Tsingtao, Shantung, China, comprising ten synods. Missionary Dr. C. J. Voskamp has about completed his translation, into Chinese, of Luther's work on "Freedom of the Christian Man." "The Foreign Missionary," the English monthly magazine of the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America, celebrated its golden jubilee in 1930. It began with a subscription list of 2,000 which had increased to 10,000.

The Augustana Synod strengthened its work in the Tanganyika territory, Africa, and in spite of difficulties found in the fields such as in China, they have reported a greater willingness on the part of the members of the Augustana Synod to support foreign mission work. The revision of the Santal Bible was finished in 1930 by Missionary P. O. Bodding. In East Africa on August 23-26, 1930, the first Lutheran Church Conference was organized by fifteen Lutheran congregations in the Killmandjaro, the Meru and the Para districts.

The Rev. R. Taeuber, Chairman of the Foreign Mission Board of the Iowa Synod, in 1930, while attending a conference of the Australian Lutheran Church, also attended by the representatives of the Neuen Dettelsau Foreign Mission Society of Germany, held at Brisbane, Australia, arrived at a working agreement with the Bavarian and Rhenish Mission Societies as to the division of the mission field in New Guinea. Upon formation of the American Lutheran Church the Rev. R. Taeuber took charge of the home secretaryship for the New Guinea Mission, and the Rev. C. V. Sheatsley of the Indian section. The mission forces of both these fields were reported making splendid progress, and on January 12, 1931, two Indian pastors were ordained. The American Lutheran Church reported 41 missionaries in the Indian field, and the support of 500 beneficiary pupils in the elementary, middle and high school grades, also two scholarship endowments of $500 each. The Luther League of the American Lutheran Church dedicated $4,000 to the support of the American Medical Mission in New Guinea. The Women's Missionary Federation raised $10,000 for the hostel in Kodai, India. A Mexican Mission was dedicated at Escobares, Texas.

The Norwegian Lutheran Church's force of foreign missionaries in China was reduced to 38, but the native workers have continued the work of the missionary field in China despite the war and conditions arising from bandit raids. The Revs. K. N. Tvedt and Bert Nelson were captured and held for ransom. In Madagascar the Norwegian Church has thirty-eight missionaries beside the native workers. In South Africa, although a new missionary venture, progress was made. Hermannsburg Mission Society transferred its missionary work in India to the Joint Ohio Synod in 1930.

The China field of the Missouri Synod was not endangered by war conditions. The Missouri Synod built a chapel at its mission at Kodakanal, India, and continued its missionary work among the Moslems of India.

Three new missionaries were sent to the mission field at Argentine, and steps were taken to establish mission work among the negroes in Brazil. A negro student is now preparing for this work in the Porto Alegre Seminary of the Brazil District of the Missouri Synod. The Missouri Synod met an emergency appropriation of $10,000 for the relief and rehabilitation of China's flooded area in Hankow and elsewhere in Hupeh Province. The Walther League of the Synodical Conference sent 125 Bibles and 210 hymn books to the Brazil District of the Missouri Synod. In 1931, convention of the Lutheran Foreign Missions Conference was held in Baltimore, Md., in January.

The Lutherans recognized on November 15, 1931, the 25th anniversary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement which was organized by the Foreign Mission Conference of North America.

Home Missions: The outstanding event of Home Missions was the formation of the Home Missions Council which met in preliminary meeting in Chicago, Ill., March 27, 1930, for the first time, the call having been extended as a result of an action of the Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America at their meeting in the Hotel Astor, New York, January, 1930. The invitation was extended to the home mission representatives of all the general Lutheran bodies. The purpose of the Council is to establish comity and co-operation in home mission work, thereby eliminating duplications. The American Lutheran Conference extended this co-operation upon their formation, taking action to support the Lutheran Home Mission Council. On January 27, 1931, the first annual session of the Lutheran Home Missions Council of America, which was formed by the co-operation of five general Lutheran church bodies: the United Lutheran Church in America, the American Lutheran Church (Buffalo Synod, Iowa Synod and Joint Synod of Ohio), the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, the Augustana Synod of North America, and the United Danish Church, on July 1-2, 1930, met in Chicago, Ill.

Another outstanding event was the calling of Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, retiring president of the Pittsburgh Synod, to the post of Missionary Superintendent of the metropolitan area of the United Lutheran Synod of New York. The Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America has 467 missionaries at work in 774 congregations and 588 parishes. It has maintained its missionary operations without retrenchment; has placed greater emphasis upon the linguistic interests and opportunities of the church by the appointment of a full time general secretary for this work, the Rev. Dr. Ernst A. Tappert. The Board of American Missions, after lengthy negotiations with the Suomi Synod, has taken over all of the Finnish work in Canada and assumed the full support of that work so far as support is necessary.

The home mission work, as well as the foreign and inner mission work of the Lutheran Church, could not be carried forward without the activity of the missionary societies, especially the women's societies. The Women's Missionary Society of the United Lutheran Church, at the latter's convention in Milwaukee, reported gifts to the Board of the United Lutheran Church for missionary work totaling $648,400. The Women's Missionary Federation of the Norwegian Lutheran Church, with 3,000 local organizations and 90,000 members in 1930, contributed about $200,000. A similar story might be told concerning the Missionary Societies of the American Lutheran Church, the Augustana Synod, in fact, all general Lutheran church bodies.

The Rev. Henry Einspruch completed the translation of Luther's Catechism into Yiddish. Dr. F. F. Fry, Executive Secretary of the Board of American Missions, and the Rev. Rudolph G. Schulz, Jr., Executive Secretary of the Luther League of the Ohio Synod of the United Lutheran Church, attended the Missionaries' Conference in Porto Rico in February, 1930. The cornerstone was laid for the new Zion Lutheran Church at Bayamon, Porto Rico. This church has the largest Sunday school in Porto Rico. The Luther League of America in the past year completed their missionary project of $25,000 for a training school building in Monte Flores, Porto Rico. This was a special missionary project. It not only brought financial results, but also brought about the education of our youth in our missionary activities. This money was turned over in full to the American Mission Board of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The Allentown Conference of the Pennsylvania Ministerium commissioned the first missionary of the conference on July 5, 1931. The Board of Home Missions of the Pennsylvania Ministerium moved into new offices in the Muhlenberg Building, Philadelphia, Pa., during 1931. Complete new office equipment was donated by Pastor Kramlich.

Dr. Ernst A. Tappert in the fall of 1931 visited the Lutheran churches in Brazil. The Virginia Synod placed emphasis upon the Lutheran missionary work among the people of the mountains of Virginia where 3,000 mountain people live scattered over a wide area in southern Virginia. Anniversaries to be noted are: 47th anniversary of the Women's Missionary Society of West Pennsylvania; 27th of the Women's Missionary Society of the Rocky Mt. Synod; 20th of the Chicago Conference of the Illinois Synod; 50th of the Kansas and Adjacent States held in Lawrence, Kansas; and 50th of the Alleghany Synod held in Berlin, Pa.

The American Lutheran Church took definite steps upon its formation for emphasizing its Mexican Mission work and on July 6, 1930, Pastor Wm. Schnier was commissioned by the Joint Ohio Synod as missionary to the Mexicans, he being the first graduate of the Lutheran seminaries to enter this work. The American Lutheran Church maintains 216 home missionaries serving 315 missions in 26 states and 4 provinces of Canada. The first church of the American Lutheran Church for colored folks was dedicated in Mobile, Ala., in the fall of 1930. At the Toledo Convention of the American Lutheran Church, the Board of Colored Missions was given permission to raise, through private solicitation, $50,000 for erection of a school in the south for the training of colored workers. The American Lutheran Ministers' Conference of the Bay Cities of California organized the Elun-Ezer Swedish Lutheran Church of San Francisco, the Rev. M. E. Stensrud was elected President. The Rev. Wm. H. Lehmann was appointed Superintendent of Home Missions. The Iowa Synod reports the movement of extension for home mission work. The Board of Colored Missions of the American Lutheran Church on April 26, 1931, commissioned its first white woman missionary, Miss Elda Geyer.

The Norwegian Lutheran Church maintains 250 home mission pastors in its effort to reach the unchurched, maintaining a mission for the Indians at Wittenberg, Wis., and a mission for the Eskimos in Alaska. The United Danish Church is building a high school for its Indian Mission in Oakes, Oklahoma, and reported expansion of the Indian Mission among the Cherokees of Oklahoma. Three new Danish Lutheran churches were built in 1930 in western Canada.

In the Synodical Conference the mission endeavor called "The Call of the Hour," which helped to provide positions for the graduates of the seminaries in 1931, must be recorded.

Inner Missions: The Inner Mission work of the Lutheran Church was advanced during the past biennium as the realization of the call to service and love gripped the Lutheran Church in the time of depression and need. Some of the outstanding events were the meeting of the National Lutheran Inner Mission Conference in Columbus, Ohio, in 1930, and Rochester, N. Y., in 1931. At a cost of $350,000 a new six-story building was completed for the Lutheran Hospital in Manhattan. The Hospital Standardization Committee of the American College of Surgeons approved the Lutheran Hospital of Manhattan, the Lutheran Hospital of Brooklyn (Mo. Synod), and the Norwegian Lutheran Deaconess Home and Hospital of Brooklyn, as safe places for patients, placing these institutions upon the accredited list. The Lankenau Hospital of Philadelphia announces a gift of $5,000, to endow a free bed, from the late Miss Kate Mann of Philadelphia, Pa. Miss Mann also designated in her will $1,000 for the Board of Pensions and Relief of the U. L. C., and $500 to each of the following institutions: Germantown Orphanage, Philadelphia Lutheran Seminary, Mount Airy, Philadelphia Lutheran Hospital, Frankfort Avenue Settlement House, Kensington Tubercular Dispensary and the Lutheran Church of the Ascension. The Lutheran Welfare Society of the Twin Cities, Minn., on September 30, 1931, celebrated its 25th anniversary and inaugurated a definite work and relief plan under the leadership of Dr. Ambrose Hering, Executive Secretary. The establishment of an Inner Mission Society at Rochester was projected by a meeting of the National Lutheran Inner Mission Conference held in that city. The Board of Inner Missions of the United Lutheran Church became affiliated with the International Federation of Inner Missions and the Diaconate in 1930. The Stubenrauch-Treckmann Memorial Building at the Wartburg Orphans' Farm School in Mount Vernon, N. Y., was dedicated, and the Reuss Memorial Lutheran Hospital was established in Texas in 1930. On June 21, 1931, the hospice of the California Synod was dedicated and an inner mission society was organized.

The National Lutheran Sanatorium acquired property and equipment of the Albuquerque Sanatorium of Albuquerque, New Mexico, in 1931. The Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church emphasized the development of its inner mission program and support in the congregations of the synod through the work of depression relief in 1931. The Rev. S. C. Michelfelder, Superintendent for a number of years of the Lutheran Inner Mission Society of Pittsburgh, Pa., resigned to accept the pastorate of a Lutheran congregation in Toledo, Ohio, in the summer of 1931. The American Lutheran Church dedicated two buildings for mission work among students—the Luther House at Monmouth, Oregon, and a student center at Pullman, Wash., in 1930.

Steps were taken by the Augustana Synod in 1931 to consolidate the Board of Home Missions. The Lutheran Hospice at Colorado Springs, Colo., was completed and will serve convalescents, old people, young girls, tourists and friends. In 1931 the Augustana Synod dedicated the Immanuel Deaconess Institution, Omaha, Neb., as a new home for the aged. The Board of Christian Service of the Minnesota Conference of the Augustana Synod authorized the building of a new Bethesda Hospital in St. Paul to cost approximately $500,000, projected plans for the building of a home for the aged at Mankato, Minnesota, and adopted the name "Lakeshore Lutheran Home" for the new home for the aged in Duluth, Minnesota, erected at a cost of $100,000. The California Lutheran Hospital was completed in Los Angeles, in 1931. The Lutheran Women's League of Wheeling, W. Va., reported interest in their work of missions, and a total attendance at their meetings of 29,000. The Inner Mission Pension and Aid Fund of the Augustana Synod added $50,000 to this fund bringing its resources to $1,250,000.

In 1930 the Rev. G. H. Bechtold of Philadelphia, Secretary of the Board of Inner Missions of the Pennsylvania Ministerium, was invited by President Hoover to represent the Lutheran interests as a delegate to the Child Health and Protection Conference held in Washington, D. C. In 1930 the United Danish Church appointed a committee to work out rules and regulations for the Pastors' and Widows' Pension Fund. This church also established an old people's home in the Pacific District at Selma, Calif. The Norwegian Lutheran Church maintains deaf and blind missions in Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota and North Dakota; and immigrant mission in Brooklyn, N. Y.; and seamen's missions in Boston, Galveston, San Francisco, Seattle and Ketchikan, Alaska; and has reached vast multitudes of souls thereby. The Associated Lutheran Charities of the Synodical Conference show 16 city missions with 32 full time workers.

Among the anniversaries in 1930 were—40 years anniversary, Immanuel Deaconess Institute; 40 years, Lutheran Deaconess Home and Hospital, Minneapolis, Minn.; 40 years, the Beloit Children's Home, Beloit, Ia.; 64 years, Wartburg Orphans' Farm School; 40 years, National Lutheran Home, Washington, D. C.; 25 years, Ev. Lutheran Home Finding Society of Chicago; 25 years, Lutheran Hospice for Young Men, Minneapolis, Minn.; 25 years, Lutheran Sanitarium, Wheat Ridge, Colo. Anniversaries in 1931: 50 years, Bethlehem Orphan Asylum Association; 50 years, Iowa Lutheran Children's Home, Stanton, Ia.; 25 years, Lutheran Settlement, 1340-44 Frankfort Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.; 25 years, Lutheran Welfare Society.

Stewardship: During the past biennium there has been definite efforts toward conservation of trust funds and the keeping of expenditures within definite fixed budgets. The United Lutheran Church, at its convention in Milwaukee in 1930, established a commission on investments to guard property holdings and endowments of the various boards and institutions, striving to bring about a more secure basis for the care of all trust funds. At the convention in Milwaukee the United Lutheran Church adopted a budget of $2,400,000 for the years 1932 and 1933. The Pittsburgh Synod in 1931 approved tithing as a goal of endeavor throughout the synod. The United Lutheran Church in 1931 inaugurated throughout the church, which included the United Lutheran Church itself, synods, boards and other agencies, an effort to so adjust expenditures to receipts that the church and its agencies may avoid incurring unnecessary indebtedness in the coming year. Efforts were also made, through the Every Member Canvass, to promote among the members of the United Lutheran Church an interest in the work of the church so that their contributions may be increased, if possible, rather than diminished. The United Lutheran Church paid in apportionment, in 1927, $1,523,443.93; in 1928, $1,239,562.89; in 1929, $1,439,469.20; in 1930, $1,405,386.17; in 1931, $1,265,090.52, a little more than 50 per cent of the apportioned amount.

The Augustana Synod in 1931 formed the Augustana Lutheran Foundation to guard its property, investments and trust funds. Of interest is the reduction of indebtedness by the Augustana Synod, as well as a gift of $100,000 from one man for an institution of mercy. This synod made plans for an ingathering of $1,000,000 for a pension fund. The Iowa Conference of the Augustana Synod launched an appeal to its members for $250,000, and the Lutherans in the vicinity of Dodge City, Iowa, raised a considerable amount of money for the bringing its hospital into operation, the buildings having been completed some time ago.

The American Lutheran Church: As the Joint Synod of Ohio, Iowa Synod and Buffalo Synod were about to merge into the American Lutheran Church, they cleared up their entire indebtedness by the end of 1930, and projected an effort to operate the entire amalgamated church on a much reduced budget as an example of good stewardship; actual apportionment of synodical work being limited to expected income. The budget established for the American Lutheran Church was $808,500 annually; $247,000 for educational institutions; $203,300 for home mission; $107,000 for foreign mission; $30,000 for colored, Mexican and Hermannsburg missions; $52,000 for charitable institutions; $53,200 for the Board of Aids; $40,500 for administration; $65,000 for the church building fund, and $10,500 for other charities. Thankoffering in the Joint Ohio Synod pledged $950,000, and all but $200,000 was applied to cancellation of indebtedness.

In 1931 Luther College of Decorah, Iowa, raised $70,000 in honor of its 70th anniversary.

The United Danish Church put on a campaign for liquidating synodical indebtedness and for the reduction of the Dana College indebtedness by 15 per cent.

The Lutheran Free Church reported "a reduction in indebtedness by means of a determined effort which ended most successfully"; also reported greater zeal for spiritual life in the churches. The jubilee campaign resulted in about $105,000 for running expenses and debt retirement, $80,000 more than any former appeal.

The Missouri Synod was also engaged in a very definite and united effort to cancel its synodical indebtedness. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gauss presented a church edifice in Detroit costing nearly $400,000 to the Missouri Synod.

There was also conservation in the spiritual life of the church, the Lutheran Church adhering to its task as a church and leaving politics and kindred matters to be worked out by other agencies.

The continued help rendered the needy Lutherans in Europe and throughout the world by the Lutherans of America through the Lutheran World Service of the National Lutheran Council and the Lutheran World Convention Executive Committee is an outstanding mark of the stewardship and unselfish love of the Lutherans of America.

Evangelization: Educational evangelization grew apace during the past biennium in the establishment of summer schools, camps, Bible schools, week day schools, etc. In addition the movement for Lenten Evangelism and membership canvasses grew in many parts of the church, resulting in increased accessions, the Lutherans reporting large percentages of increases. The evangelization emphasis resulted in increases in membership in practically every part of the Lutheran Church in America despite the current and usual membership losses reported by other religious bodies.

The book mission of Norwegian Lutheran Church printed and distributed without charge 120,000 booklets and 115,000 pamphlets. This record of free distribution of literature was only exceeded by the record of the American Lutheran Publicity Bureau of the Synodical Conference. The Norwegian Lutheran Church distributed about 50,000 copies of the "Jubilee Translation" of Luther's Small Catechism.

Sixteen Vacation Bible Schools were reported established in the Laoag, Ilocos Norte district and other places in the Philippines.

In the Canada Synod of the United Lutheran Church the Gospel is being preached in seven tongues, English, German, Hungarian, Finnish, Danish, Swedish and Lithuanian, and in New York City in seventeen languages, namely, English, German, Swed-sh, Norwegian, Danish, Finnish, Slovak, Lithuanian, Estonian, Italian, Lettish, Wendish, Hungarian, Magyar, Spanish, Polish and Yiddish.

"The Lutheran" published an outstanding article on Evangelization in 1931 and the Executive Secretary of the Luther League, Rev. Paul M. Kinports, reported that there had been a growth in the membership of the Luther League of America, the increase having been brought about by the emphasis on Personal Evangelization in the League. This effort on the part of the League has been a large factor in the increase of the Lutheran Church in America.

The Lutheran churches of Toledo conducted classes in Evangelization.

The Synodical Conference, the Missouri Synod leading, inaugurated a nation-wide campaign against Modernism as a cult, the American Lutheran Publicity Bureau leading in the effort.

General: The outstanding event among the Lutherans, both in America and throughout the world, in the biennium was the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the Augsburg Confession of Faith in 1930.

America: The 400th anniversary of the reading of the Augsburg Confession of Faith before Emperor Charles V and the Diet of Augsburg on June 25, 1530, was celebrated by the Lutherans of America, not only by individual congregational celebrations, but by large mass meetings held in the principal cities of America. Ten thousand Lutherans gathered in Minneapolis for the celebration, and 92 congregations and missions in Detroit united in a mass meeting service on the Michigan State Fair grounds. Three thousand attended a mass meeting at Prairie du Sac, Wis. A mass meeting celebration was held in the Soldiers' Memorial Park, Chicago, Ill., and in various centers in the metropolitan area of New York and other places. Herbert Hoover, President of the United States, sent a congratulatory message to the American Lutherans at the time of the celebration. The Augsburg Confession celebration has resulted in spiritually helpful uplift among the Lutherans of America.

A notable change that occurred among the Lutherans was the turning of the National Lutheran Council, the agency for many of the general Lutheran church bodies, to intensive development of work for which it was originally organized. The administration and distribution of World Service work of the National Lutheran Council was transferred in January, 1930, to the Lutheran World Convention, and the Rev. Dr. John C. Morehead, President of the Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention severed his relationship with the National Lutheran Council as Executive Director to devote all of his time to the presidency of the Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention. The King of Denmark and Iceland bestowed upon Dr.

Morehead, in 1930, Knighthood in the Order of Dannebrog. The Rev. Ralph H. Long, D.D., Stewardship Secretary of the Joint Synod of Ohio, was called to serve as Executive Director of the National Lutheran Council. The continued support of the National Lutheran Council by the Lutherans of America must be noted.

The Augustana Synod was honored on February 4, 1930, by the Lutheran Church of Sweden through the donation of a cross given by the Archbishop Nathan Soderblom to its President, Dr. G. A. Brandelle. The presentation of the Archbishop's cross was made by the Swedish Consul, Carl de Dardel of Chicago, Ill., in Fort Armstrong Hotel, Rock Island, Ill.

In 1930 President von Hindenburg of Germany bestowed upon Dr. G. L. Kieffer, the Reference Librarian and Statistician of the National Lutheran Council, the German Red Cross and Diploma.

First of all must be noted that the Rev. G. U. Wenner, D.D., L.H.D., LL.D., now 85 years of age, in 1930 celebrated the 65th year of his pastorate in his first charge, the congregation having been organized by him, namely, Christ Lutheran Church, 406 E. 19th St., New York City. As this article is written at the beginning of 1932, Dr. Wenner is still the active pastor of Christ Church.

In 1930 there were a number of towns through Kansas reported to have been without crime during the past several years. These are settled mostly by Lutherans and the citizens receive their education in Lutheran schools. Some of the towns mentioned were the Block Settlement near Paolo; Atchison; Sylvan and Sabetha, the latter town having a record of no arrests during the past thirty years.

Notable celebrations of congregations, proving that the Lutheran Church is indigenous in America, are as follows:

In 1931 the convention of the Sixth International Young People's Luther League and Choral Union was held in Chicago. They brought out a paid registration of almost 3,000 and a Choral Union Concert of 4,000 voices which were heard in the Chicago Stadium, Chicago, Ill., by more than 15,000 people.

On August 6, 1931, "The Lutheran," the official periodical of the United Lutheran Church in America, issued its centennial number commemorating the first issue of "The Lutheran Observer" on August 1, 1831. "The Lutheran Witness," the official organ of the Missouri Synod, marked its 50th anniversary, it being first printed in May, 1881.

The first convention of the Synodical Brotherhood of the Norwegian Lutheran Church was held in Sioux Falls, S. D., October 25-26, 1931, and the convention of the Federated Brotherhood of the Lutherans in America was held in Pittsburgh and was notable for its prophecy and call for one Lutheran Church in America.

Dr. Joshua Oden, pastor of the Irving Park Lutheran Church, Chicago, Ill., in 1931, was made general chairman of the Protestant Division of the Century of Progress in Religion to be a part of the Century of Progress Fair to be held at Chicago in 1933.

The Rev. Emil Swenson was held in contempt of court in Minneapolis for not divulging information given to him in confidence by one of his parishioners. The case was carried to the higher courts which upheld the sacredness of the Protestant confessional, reversing the decision of the lower courts.

Prof. O. E. Rolvaag, Litt.D., well-known writer and educator, also professor at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., died November, 1931. The death of Prof. F. Pieper, President of Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., occurred on June 3, 1931. He had been president of the seminary for 44 years and instructor in that institution for 53 years, having instructed 3,000 pastors in the Missouri Synod. Prof. H. G. Stub, D.D., Litt.D., L.H.D., LL.D., President Emeritus of the Norwegian Lutheran Church and for many years a theological professor and leader among the Norwegian Lutherans died August 1, 1931.

Summarizing: It must be said that all Lutheran bodies in America have experienced in the past biennium more intense feeling of responsibility for the evangelization of America, the widening of the influence of the Lutheran Church, the extension of God's Kingdom through determined efforts in the work of home missions, a deeper and more intelligent interest in the training of the youth in the home and in the schools of higher learning, a growing consciousness of the church's duty toward the aged and disabled pastors and laymen, and the awakening of the realization of the fact that in order to be Lutheran the church must be Biblical and Evangelical.

Lutheran Church in the World: The worldwide celebration of the 400th anniversary of the Augsburg Confession, in practically all of the countries where the Protestant Church is, must be noted.

Outstanding was the celebration held in Augsburg, Germany, June 25, 1930, the actual celebration date, as a Pan-Protestant celebration, attended by from 40,000 to 50,000 people. Especially are to be noted the celebrations in the congregations of Germany, Scandinavian countries, the Lutheran churches of Poland, Yugoslavia, Australia, Spain, South America and even among the Lutherans in Russia.

Emphasis was laid upon the celebration by the Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention as it invited Lutherans everywhere to mark this 400th anniversary. The biennium was notable for the continuation work of the National Lutheran Council by the Lutheran World Convention in its World Service distribution under the leadership of the President of the Executive Committee, Dr. John A. Morehead, developing the work as a joint agency for all the Lutherans of the world, a notable event after 400 years as it definitely functions as a world organization with a secretary, president and treasurer, stressing relief work among the distressed Lutherans in Russia and striving for closer co-operation for all Lutheran churches in the world. Contributions to carry forward this work of relief and reconstruction coming from the Lutherans of many lands and going to the Lutherans of many countries; perhaps most notable being the maintenance of the Theological Seminary in Leningrad, Russia.

Bishop Marahrens of Germany succeeded Baron von Pechman on the executive committee for the Lutheran World Convention.

Austria: October 31, 1931, marked the 200th anniversary of the dispersion of the Salzburger from Austria. A celebration was held in Salzburg commemorating this dispersion which has blessed many a country, including America.

Czechoslovakia: The Rt. Rev. George Janoska, senior bishop of the Slovak Ev. Luth. Church in Czechoslovakia, died Jan. 27, 1930, at the age of 74 years. The new bishop of the Slovak Lutheran Church in Czechoslovakia is the Rev. Vladimir Cibrda.

Esthonia: In Esthonia in 1930 there were discovered fragments of Luther's Small Catechism. This was from an Esthonian edition dated 1535.

Finland: In Finland the death of one of the two Lutheran archbishops of the world occurred in 1930. Archbishop Gustaf Johansson died in Turku, Finland, on July 24, aged 86 years, having been archbishop for 46 years and a former professor of Helsingfors University. His successor as archbishop is Prof. Lauri Ingman, also a university professor and a great statesman, having been several times a member of the Parliament of Finland and a member of the Cabinet of the President of Finland.

France: The Rev. Lewis Appia, President of the Ev. Lutheran Synod of Paris, France, regularly broadcasts over the "Radio Paris" broadcasting station of the Generale de Telegraphie sans Fil. The lectures have been printed in a book entitled "What Is Faith?" by the religious society "La Cause."

Germany: Germany on March 23, 1930, celebrated the 400th anniversary of the Torgau Articles in Torgau, Germany. The Lutheran church in Dresden, Saxony, celebrated its first millenium, having been built at the close of 929. It joined the reformation in 1539. The centenary of Bodelschwingh's birth was celebrated in Germany on March 6, 1931. The First Lutheran Free Church in Germany, the Ev. Lutheran Church in Prussia, from June 24 to July 1, 1930, celebrated the first centenary of the Augsburg Confession at Breslau. 1930 also marked the 400th anniversary of the death of two Lutheran martyrs—Adolf Klarenbach and Peter Fliesteden.

Hungary: On March 20, 1930, the Lutheran churches in Hungary celebrated the 36th anniversary of the death of Louis Kosuth, the Hungarian Lutheran patriot.

Jugoslavia: In 1930 by the government action all churches, including the Lutheran, were put upon the basis of state churches, receiving support from the state. On September 18, 1930, at Stora Pazora, the Rev. Adam Veres was consecrated bishop of the Slovak Ev. Lutheran Church of Jugoslavia. He has since died. Also 1930 marked the induction into office of the first bishop of the German Ev. Lutheran Church in the Kingdom of Jugoslavia, the Rev. Dr. Philipp Popp.

Norway: The restoration of the Cathedral at Trondhjem was celebrated by all Norway and Norwegians throughout the world in 1930. The Lutherans and others of Norwegian birth raised $25,000 for a memorial altar and crucifix which was presented to the Nidaros Cathedral at Trondhjem. It was presented at the 900th anniversary celebration of Christianity in Norway.

Poland: The Lutheran Theological faculty of the University of Warsaw, Poland, in 1930-31, reported striking progress in the training of students for the ministry. On January 22, 1930, the 25th anniversary of the ordination of Dr. Julius Bursche as the General Superintendent of the Lutheran Church in Poland took place. On this occasion he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Theology from the University of Warsaw.

Russia: A remarkable fact concerning the Lutheran Church in Russia is the staunchness and the reverentiality of the church despite persecution, exile and martyrdom. The protest against the tyranny, Bolshevism and Russian terrorism has been general and universal. The names of Hans Bielenstein and Wilhelm Gruener are to be recorded as Lutheran martyrs along side of many others, known and unknown. There has been a world-wide effort made to colonize Lutheran refugees in Saskatchewan and Alberta, Canada, and in South America in Argentine and Brazil.

Spain: The religious liberty which came with the establishment of the Republic now permits the Lutherans of Spain to carry on their mission work more aggressively.

Sweden: Sweden celebrated the 1100th anniversary of St. Ansgarius and the coming of Christianity to Sweden, and Dr. Nathan Soderblom, then Archbishop of Uppsala, Primate of the Lutheran Church in Sweden and Pro-Chancellor of the University of Uppsala, led the celebration. He also received the 1930 Nobel Peace Prize. His death occurred on July 12, 1931. His successor is Professor Erling Eidem of Lund University who was appointed Archbishop of Sweden on December 18, 1931. In 1930 an active Lutheran churchman, the Right Rev. Sam Stadener, D.D., Bishop of Växjö, Sweden, was appointed Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs of Sweden. The Evangelical Lutheran Fatherland Foundation of Sweden in 1931 celebrated the 75th anniversary of its organization. The Lutherans in both Germany and Sweden, in 1931, celebrated the 300th anniversary of the Battle of Brietenfeld, which occurred during the Thirty Years War.

B. Centennials and Anniversaries

I. 500 YEARS

Rostock University Theological Faculty, founded in 1532. This University, the third oldest in Germany, was founded in 1419 with two departments—Law and Medicine. Theology was added in 1532. Rostock has contributed much to Lutheran theology. The German university has been the greatest laboratory of free thought ever since the days of Luther. C. F. Thwing says in his "American and German Universities": "Mountain ranges, even if sterile, are often the makers of the fertile, harvest-bearing lowlands lying at their feet. The German university has helped to create the American, and the American university, in turn, has helped to enrich all grades, and orders, of education in the United States." American students have attended the German universities and have returned to America as leaders of thought. German professors have come to America and occupied leading positions at American Schools. The ideals of the German university have appealed to the people everywhere—freedom of thought and speech and press; thoroughness in research; adequate libraries and laboratories; emphasis on specialization and definiteness of aim.

II. 450 YEARS

Christian II, King of Denmark and Norway from 1513 to 1523 and of Sweden from 1520 to 1523. Born at Nyborg, Fyen, Denmark, July 2, 1481; died at Sonderborg Castle, Alsens, Denmark, January 25, 1559. His severity as a ruler caused the Swedes to revolt and to set up under Gustavus Vasa in 1523 an independent kingdom. Thus the Calmar Union, which began in 1380 with Queen Margaret as the sovereign ruler of the three Northern Kingdoms, was at an end. Norway remained in union with Denmark until 1814, and at the Peace of Kiel was transferred by the great powers of Europe to Sweden until 1905, when she, like Sweden in 1523, obtained her complete political independence.

Martin Luther, the leader of the Protestant Reformation, was born at Eisleben, Saxony, Germany, November 10, 1481, and died at Eisleben, February 18, 1846. Luther has been the subject of numerous biographies and bibliographies (see G. L. Kieffer's, 1917). Preserved Smith, a Luther scholar, says: "Estimated by the catalog of the British Museum, which certainly would not err in favor of the German, more has been written about the Reformer than about Shakespeare or Napoleon or Dante. In fact, no other name in this catalog, save that of Jesus Christ, exceeds or approaches the amount of space given to registering the titles of works about Martin Luther."

III. 400 YEARS

Smalcald League, a defensive alliance formed February 28 (April 4), 1531, by five Protestant princes and eleven cities for religious and political freedom and mutual protection against the oppressions of Charles V and the approaching war threatened by him at Augsburg in 1530. Others joined, including, Denmark, France and England wished to join. "Pressed by the Turk and impressed by the League," Charles did not make war, but was forced to grant the Nuremberg Religious Peace, July 23, 1532.

The year 1934 will mark the Quadricentennial of the publication of the Bible as translated by Martin Luther into the German language.

IV. 350 YEARS

Johann Gerhard, Master Lutheran dogmatist, born October 17, 1582, at Fredlinburg, Germany, died August 20, 1637, at Jena. Induced by Johann Arndt to study theology, he attended Wittenberg, Jena and Marburg. Was appointed superintendent at Heldburg and made a D.D. after having preached only four times. In 1615 he became general superintendent at Coburg, in 1616 a professor at Jena. Here he remained the rest of his life though called no less than 24 times to other universities. His activities were prodigious, his writings vast. Though the foremost champion of Lutheran orthodoxy, he was of a mild and irenic disposition.

V. 300 YEARS

Battle of Luetzen, November 16, 1632. Luetzen is a small town in the Prussian Province of Saxony, ten miles southwest of Leipzig. It is famous for two battles fought in this vicinity. The first Battle of Luetzen only will be mentioned here. It was fought in the Thirty Years' War, between King Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, Lutheran leader, and General Wallenstein, commander of the Imperial and Catholic forces, on November 16 (Old Style) November 6, 1632. Though Gustavus Adolphus was killed early in the day, the Swedes with 15,000 men against 25,200 remained the masters of the field. Each side lost 10,000 men in killed and wounded. The death of the Swedish king was an irreparable loss to Protestantism, for he was the one man who could unite German Protestants and successfully withstand the ambitions of Richelieu of France and of the Emperor Ferdinand. When he fell, "all moral and religious ideals died out in the Thirty Years' War." The Battle of Lutzen helped to save the Lutheran Church of Germany from being entirely wiped out.

VI. 250 YEARS

Thomas von Westen, the Norwegian "Apostle to the Lapps," was born in 1682 at Trondheim, Norway, and died April 9, 1727, at Trondheim. He held a professorship in Lappish at the Trondheim Mission Institute from 1717 to 1727 and made three missionary journeys to Lapland. While there he located Kjeld Stub, Jens Bloch and others as missionaries. He was called to be the librarian at Copenhagen, Denmark, a professor of oratory at the University of Moscow, Russia, a professor of theology at the Trondheim Latin school, the bishop of Trondheim, the bishop of Kristiansand, and other high positions, but he declined all these honors so that he could bring the Gospel to the Lapps.

Bartholomaeus Ziegenbalg, the first Lutheran missionary to India, was born June 14, 1683, at Pulsnitz, Saxony, Germany, and died Feb. 23, 1719, at Tranquebar, India. Educated by August Hermann Francke at Halle, Ziegenbalg and a companion—Henry Pluet-schau—were sent by Frederick IV of Denmark as missionaries to India. They arrived at Tranquebar in July, 1706. Ziegenbalg learned the Tamil language in a year, preached, established a church, founded a school for native helpers, translated the New Testament into Tamil and assisted in translating the whole Bible into this language. His version, published in 1728, was the first translation of the Bible into one of the languages of India. In 1715 he returned to Europe because of ill health. He was received with enthusiasm even by King George I of England (who was a German). In 1719 he returned to India and died soon after his arrival. His influence is still felt and his work goes marching on.

VII. 200 YEARS

George Washington, the first president of the United States, was born Feb. 22, 1732. The 200th anniversary of his birth will be made a national event. Churches and schools particular will be called upon to study his life and character, his work and influence, and numerous books and other literature are being prepared for a nation-wide celebration. The Lutheran Church will no doubt take part in these festivities. It should also renew its own contributions to the making of this country, call to mind again the Lutheran men who supported Washington and the American cause. Some brief mention was made of Lutheran contributions to American independence in the "Lutheran World Almanac" for 1924-1926 by G. L. Kieffer. It is to be hoped that many Lutheran scholars will publish books and programs featuring the Lutherans of Washington's time, as well as the greatness of the "Father of His Country."

VIII. 150 YEARS

John Ernest Bergemann, pastor among the Alzbürgers at Ebenezer, Ga., was born about 1800 at Peritzsch, Saxony, Germany, and died Feb. 25, 1824, at Ebenezer, Ga. He was ordained July 19, 1783, in the Duchy of Augsburg, and departed for Georgia in 1785. In 1792 he married Catherine Herb of Savannah, Ga., and had by her four children, only one of whom, his eldest son, who became a clergyman, survived him. He preached only in the German language. He was a graduate of the University of Leipzig, and his manuscripts show a mind richly endowed and acquainted with history, philosophy and science, Hebrew, Arabic and theology. He was a good preacher of the Gospel.

John Christian William Yeager was born Aug. 27, 1783, at Breslau, Germany, and died April 17, 1844, at Friends' Cove, Pa. Came to this country as a child. He was trained in Philadelphia and licensed to preach in 1818. He was emphatically the Apostle of Lutheranism in Bedford Co., Pa., where he began his ministry and continued the good work until 1840, when he moved to Friends' Cove. He was married twice. His first wife was a widow by the name of Cruse. By this marriage he had two children, one of whom became a physician. His second wife was also a widow, Mrs. Mary Magdalene Schaeffer, who survived him many years, dying in 1863. Preaching Christ was his constant employment, his chief pleasure.

Nikolai Frederik Severin Grundtvig, Danish theologian, reformer, historian and poet, was born at Udby, Zealand, Denmark, Sept. 8, 1783, and died Sept. 1, 1872. One-fourth of the clergy of Denmark attended his funeral. He was of a family of ministers, 15 of his name having already served in the Danish Church. Graduated from the University of Copenhagen in 1803. Pastor in 1821 at Prestoe and from 1822 to 1826 at Copenhagen. In 1825 he attacked the ruling ritualism in his "Kirkens Gjenmæle," a work which aroused much controversy and deprived him of office from 1826 to 1839. During these years he lived the life of a monk and spent his time in study and writing. In 1861 he became a bishop. He was a champion of religious and civic freedom and advocated the separation of the church and state. While zealous for a higher Christian life in the Church, he introduced rationalistic views and practices, as, for example, with regard to the Word and the Sacraments. He considered the printed text of Scripture more like a dead word and the Apostles' Creed to be the Word of Jesus and above the Bible. His views led to the founding of a school and party which have carried out his ideas and plans. He translated Saxo Grammaticus, Snorri Sturlason and "Beowulf" into Danish. He collected and wrote ballads and lyrics. He collected and published a five-volume edition of Danish church hymns and is considered one of the foremost hymnologists in the Danish literature. He wrote a history of the world and a Northern mythology. He was a leader in the Danish Diet and opposed German influence in Denmark. He was thrice married, and his youngest son, having come to America, served for several years in the Danish Lutheran Church, which is Grundtvigian in its theology.

IX. 100 YEARS

Gettysburg College was founded in 1832. Its charter was approved April 7th of that year and it was formally begun July 4th under a board of 21 trustees. Its name until 1921 was Pennsylvania College of Gettysburg, Pa. The College in a large measure grew out of the necessity of properly training men for the Theological Seminary, established in 1826 at Gettysburg. This is still one of the most important features of the institution. Today it is rated as a Class A college by the Association of American Universities, and by the University of Illinois, and is given a rating of the highest grade by the Department of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania, the Board of Regents of the State of New York, the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, and by other accrediting agencies. The presidents have been: S. S. Schmucker, founder, 1832-34; C. P. Krauth, 1834-50; H. L. Baugher, 1850-68; M. L. Valentine, 1868-84; H. W. McKnight, 1884-1904; S. G. Hefelbower, 1904-10; W. A. Granville, 1910-23; H. W. A. Hanson, 1923-. In 1929 Gettysburg had 46 teachers, 583 men and 59 women students, 3,073 alumni, and property valued at about $2,000,000.00.

David Lysnes, president of Augustana Theological Seminary, Beloit, Ia., was born July 31, 1832, at Larvik, Norway, and died Aug. 11, 1890, at Beloit, Ia. He was a graduate of Asker Seminary and a student at Oslo University, Norway. For many years a school teacher, he was one of the founders of a home mission society in Norway. He accepted a call to become the pastor at Pontiac, Ill., and immigrated to America in 1868. In 1870 he accepted a charge at Springfield, Ia. In 1874 he became the theological professor of the Norwegian Augustana Synod, the seminary—Salem Seminary—being established in his parsonage. In 1876 the school was moved to Marshall, Wis., and took the name Augustana Seminary. In 1881 it was moved to Beloit, Ia. In 1890, at Prof. Lysnes' death, it was merged into Augsburg Seminary, Minneapolis. Lysnes was married twice. By his second wife, Maren Jonetta Naes, he had three sons and one daughter. One son—Olaf Lysnes—is a pastor in the Norwegian Lutheran Church at Clinton, Wis. Prof. Lysnes was remarkable for his piety and eminent in prayer.

Luther Alexander Gotwald, theological professor at Hamma Divinity School, Wittenberg, O., was born Jan. 31, 1833, at York Springs, Pa., and died Sept. 15, 1900. He graduated from Gettysburg College and Gettysburg Seminary and served as a Lutheran pastor in Pennsylvania and Ohio from 1859 to 1888. Was a professor at Wittenberg from 1888 to 1895 and an emeritus professor until his death. He was the author of four books. In 1859 he married Mary E. King and from this union there were six sons and two daughters. Two of the sons have been in the ministry.

Otto Zoeckler, Lutheran theologian, was born May 27, 1833, at Gruenberg, Hesse, Germany, and died in 1906. He studied at Giessen, Erlangen and Berlin. In 1857 he became a private docent at Giessen; in 1866 a professor at Greifswald; in 1885 a consistorial counsellor. He had an encyclopedic learning and was a prolific writer, chiefly on apologetic subjects dealing with the inner harmony of revealed religion and true science. He wrote some of the commentaries in Lange's "Commentaries" and with H. L. Starck edited a "Commentary of the Bible." He wrote a "Handbuch der Theologischen Wissenschaften" and other scholarly works.

Peter Laurentius Larsen (Laur. Larsen) president of Luther College from 1861 to 1902, was born Aug. 10, 1833, at Kristiansand, Norway, and died March 1, 1915, at Decorah, Ia. He graduated from the University of Oslo with the A.B., A.M. and C.T. degrees. He received his D.D. from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. In 1857 he came to America and became a pastor at Rush River, Wis. In 1859 he became a theological professor at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis; in 1861 he became the president of Luther College, Decorah, Ia. (the first year located in Wisconsin). Besides the faithful discharge of his many duties as president and professor, he was for many years the editor of "Evangelisk Luthersk Kirketidende," the organ of the Norwegian Synod, and vice-president of that synod. He was an excellent scholar in Hebrew and history. He was married twice. One of his sons, Henning Larsen is professor of English at the University of Iowa. Another son, Jacob, is a professor of history at the University of Chicago. A third son, Lauritz, was the president of the National Lutheran Council, 1920-23. A fourth son, Nicolai, is a missionary in China. A daughter, Hannah, is a former missionary to Zululand and at present editor of the "American Scandinavian Review."

Erik Norelius, president of Augustana Synod, was born Oct. 26, 1833, in Helsingland, Sweden, and died at Vasa, Minn. In 1855 he came to America. He attended Capital University and was ordained in 1856 by the Northern Illinois Synod. The most of his ministry was spent in Goodhue County, Minn. At Red Wing, Minn. in 1857 he commenced the publication of "Minnesota Posten," the first Swedish paper in Minnesota. This was later united with "Hemlandet," published at Galesburg, Ill., and then moved to Chicago. He founded an orphanage at Vasa, Minn.,

865 and conducted it himself for eleven years. In 1862 he commenced a private school at Red Wing, which has grown up to become Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn. In 1874 he was elected president of Augustana Synod. He has been editor-in-chief of "Augustana" and other church papers. He has written a large two-volume work on the history of Swedes and Swedish Congregations in America (in Swedish). He was honored by the King of Sweden with knighthood.

CENSUS DIGEST AND STATISTICAL STUDIES

The 1929-30 "Lutheran World Almanac" contained some preliminary studies under the heading of "Census Digest." (a) "South Dakota and Iowa Censuses"; (b) "U. S. Censuses of Religious Bodies—1906, 1916 and 1926—Lutherans," and the Urban and Rural percentages for the General Lutheran Church bodies according to the 1926 Religious Census, as well as a summary of the 1926 U. S. Religious Census for all Religious Bodies. Under "Statistical Studies" comparisons between the reports as presented in 1919 and 1929 were recorded for "Parochial Statistics," and under "Detailed Statistics" summary reports for the years 1922, 1925 and 1927, covering various phases of institutional and organization work, were given.

Space in the 1931-33 "Lutheran World Almanac" will permit only two studies: the one approaching the subject from the angle of the history of the present General Lutheran Church Bodies and Conference Organization of the Lutheran Church in the United States; the other from the angle of the home mission opportunity revealed by the U. S. Censuses dividing territorily somewhat arbitrarily the United States into eight zones.

I. The Comparative Statistics of the Lutherans in the United States by States Based on the U. S. Censuses of Religious Bodies—1890, 1906, 1916, 1926.

Space again does not permit detailed discussion, the tables "J" Sec. XIV under their subjects will have to suffice, showing as they do the gains or losses for congregations and membership, both in actuality and in percentages. The gains are indicated without a plus sign; the losses are indicated with a minus sign. Percentages only are printed. The tables for 97 per cent of the Lutherans in the United States: namely, the United Lutheran Church in America and the two federations—the American Lutheran Conference and the Synodical Conference; and, also the 3 per cent comprising the seven General Lutheran Church Bodies, not included in the three former named, are to be found in separate individual tables at the end of Section XIV. In these tables where states are not given it is understood that no returns appeared in any of the given censuses. The names of the states with no returns are omitted in order to save space.

Let it be clearly understood that the history of the Lutheran Church which has resulted in the present organizations, has been fully taken into consideration in recording the facts of the earlier censuses. The comparisons are only thus possible by reading into the present organizations their history and treating the present organizations as though they were extant in the earlier censuses. These tables, when studied, will indicate weaknesses and strength, and without a doubt will stimulate everyone of the organizations to greater endeavor in the establishment of His Kingdom.

The tables given under "J II" in Sec. XIV properly come under the heading "General and Comparative Statistics," but the 1926 U. S. Census of Religious Bodies also recorded a number of so-called Independent or Non-synodical Congregations. No such record was found in any of the previous censuses. Herewith, therefore, are given the returns for these according to states:

U. S. Census of Religious Bodies 1926— Lutherans.

Independent or Non-synodical Congregations by States.

One might comment upon the fact that not one of these tables shows the entire picture nor tells the full story. Perhaps one may be permitted to hold that ere many future decade Censuses of Religious Bodies in the U. S. are recorded, the many tables will have been merged into one table and will thus perhaps more eloquently portray the development of the Lutheran Zion in the United States. One thing is sure, that when the U. S. Census Bureau will find it possible thus to record the Lutheran Church, the question which was discussed in the last issue of the "Lutheran World Almanac" as to misrepresentation of the strength of the Lutheran Church by arbitrarily reporting only those who could be measured by certain statistical restrictive rules, will have been done away with forever. Then will be reported the full Lutheran strength in each of the states of the United States and in each of the cities of the United States. God hasten that day!

The statistician and analyst presents as "J I" Sec. XIV the prophetic portraiture in a table titled "Lutherans" of the congregational and membership strength of the Lutherans in the United States since 1890. It is a composite of the many tables appearing under "J II" Sec. XIV plus the Non-synodical congregations. It is to be regretted that space the cities in the United States with a population of over 100,000. Such composite pictures can be compiled from Volume I of the 1926 U. S. Religious Census and similar volumes covering the earlier censuses.

II. The Home Mission Field, an Opportunity for Lutherans in the United States and Canada

Arbitrarily dividing the territory of the United States into eight zones, somewhat according to the spheres of influence and interest of the constituent synods and the theological seminaries of the United Lutheran Church in America, the estimated unchurched Lutherans for each of the zones are ascertained by comparing the population of the states as recorded in the 1930 U. S. Census of Population with the church membership as recorded in the 1926 U. S. Religious Census. Let it be remembered that membership when compared with population here means enrolled baptized membership. It is also to be noted that this in no instance portrays a picture of adherents variously estimated, excepting in the case of the estimated Lutheran population. The fact that one U. S. Census was of the date 1930 and that the other was of the date 1926 must be noted. Despite all of these deductions and adjustments, the picture becomes a compelling home mission appeal.

The 1931 Census of Population of Canada, which is at the same time a Religious Census of Population, is as yet not available. That portraiture has to remain for a later issue of this work. The regret is again recorded that the 1930 Census of U. S. Population did not include a census of religious membership or preference.

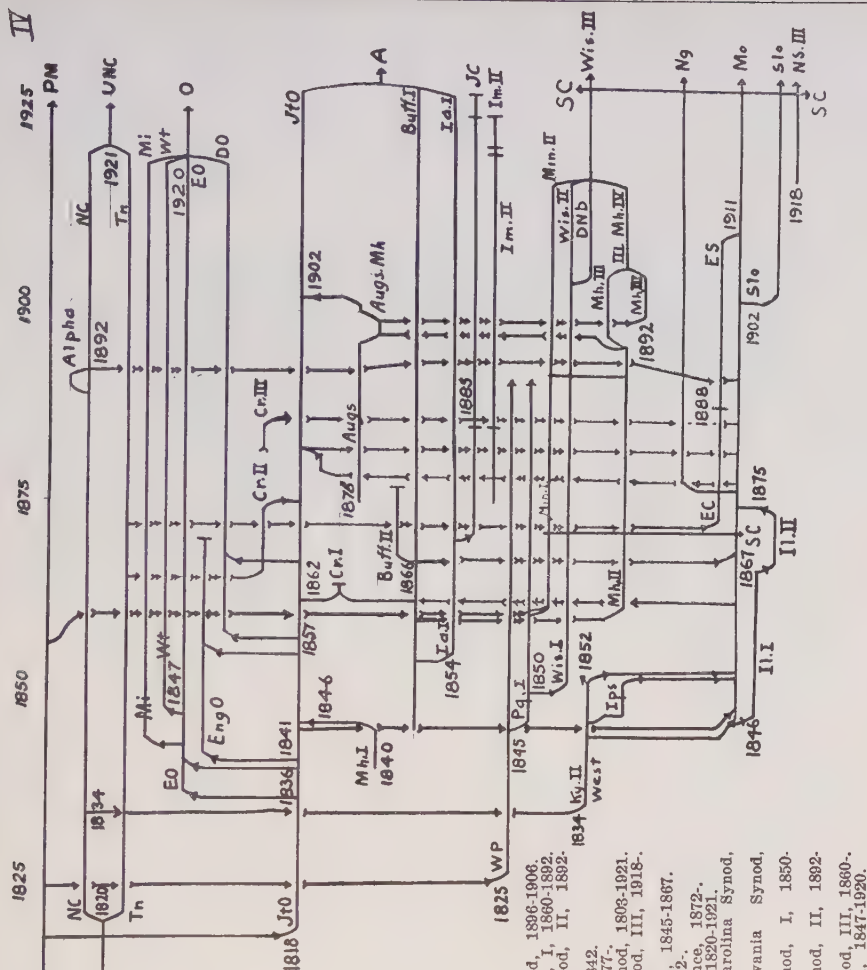

Zone for zone the home mission opportunity that lies before the Lutherans of the United States is now unfolded. Reference to the tables cited under "J II" Section XIV will reveal the principal Lutheran Church Bodies for each of the states. The home mission store by zones is as follows:

D. OUTLINE HISTORY OF THE LUTHERANS OF AMERICA

I. Annotations on Synods and General Bodies

These annotations state briefly the answers to the following questions about the Lutheran Synods and General Bodies: 1. Name, or names, of each body—official name and otherwise. 2. Date of organization. 3. Place of organization. 4. Origin of the body—by what group organized, by whom started. 5. Division and synodical offspring; if any. 6. Membership in general bodies, if any, with time of same. 7. Year of dissolution, if now extinct. 8. Year and circumstance of merger, if it has united with some other synod. 9. Language, or languages used in church work. 10. A few bibliographical references.

In this list will be found 151 organizations listed in the "Lutheran Almanacs" down through the years as synods. They are all independent bodies and synods, but not in the same sense and degree. Thus, Jehovah Conference is a federation of congregations; Steimle Synod, II, is a federation of pastors; Synodical Conference is a federation of synods. Again, Wisconsin Synod, I, 1860-1892, is an independent synod on friendly relations with its neighbors—Michigan Synod, II, and Minnesota Synod, I. Wisconsin Synod, II, 1892-1919, has entered into a union with these two neighbors—the three maintain a joint synod now, but also maintain their three distinct synodical organizations somewhat as heretofore, to which a fourth—Nebraska—was added in 1904. Wisconsin Synod, II, 1892 (1860)—, has completely merged, or submerged the synods composing it, so that the old synodical lines of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota (and Nebraska) synods have been completely wiped out.

The history of the synods is full of controversies and divisions. Most of the divisions have been peaceable and unavoidable being caused by difference in language among the immigrant Lutherans, difference in location and vastness of distance. Some have been caused by differences in doctrine and practice on several questions. There have also been many mergers among the Lutheran bodies and many attempts to get together. Most of these have been based on unity of doctrine and practice. In the matter of forming organic unions and federations the Lutherans have been the most successful of all the churches in America. Note in the accompanying diagrams the unique position of the Pennsylvania Ministerium as the Mother Synod of them all.

In the following annotations several kinds or mergers are revealed:

1. Federation: The Jehovah Conference, the Finnish Apostolic Church and the Lutheran Free Church are examples of the getting together of the congregations; and the Synodical Conference and the American Lutheran Conference are examples of the getting together of the synods. They emphasize purity of doctrine and purity of life. The same ideals are cherished and common tasks are done cooperatively, but they are not yet ready to merge into an organic unity.

2. Organic union: Most of the mergers are of this type. Consummated after due deliberation, they usually last. Such mergers are the following: (1) New York and New Jersey Synod, in 1872, from the union of New York Synod and New Jersey Synod; (2) United Norwegian Lutheran Church in 1890, from the union of the Anti-Missourian Brotherhood, the Norwegian Augustana and the Norwegian-Danish Conference; (3) United Danish Church in 1896, from the union of the Danish Church Association and the Danish North Church; (4) Central and Southern Illinois Synod in 1897, from the union of Central Illinois Synod and Southern Illinois Synod; (5) New York Synod, in 1908, from a union of Hartwick Synod, Franckean Synod and the New York and New Jersey Synod; (6) Norwegian Lutheran Church in 1917 (the 400th anniversary of the Reformation), from a union of the Hauge Synod, the Norwegian Synod, II, and the United Norwegian Church; (7) Wisconsin Synod, III, in 1919, from a union of the Wisconsin Synod, II, the Michigan Synod, III, the Minnesota Synod, II, and the District Nebraska Synod; (8) Pittsburgh Synod in 1919, from a union of the Pittsburgh Synod of the General Synod and the Pittsburgh Synod of the General Council; (9) Illinois Synod in 1920, from a union of the Northern Illinois Synod, the Southern Illinois Synod, the Central Illinois Synod, and a part of the Chicago Synod; (10) Indiana Synod in 1920, from a union of the Olive Branch Synod and a part of the Chicago Synod; (11) Michigan Synod in 1920, from a union of the Northern Indiana Synod and a part of Chicago Synod; (12) Ohio Synod in 1920, from a union of East Ohio Synod, Miami Synod, Wittenberg Synod and the District Ohio Synod; (13) United North Carolina Synod in 1921, from a union of North Carolina Synod and Tennessee Synod; (14) Virginia Synod in 1922, from a union of the Virginia Synod, the Southwestern Synod and the Holston Synod; (15) Susquehanna Synod of Central Pennsylvania in 1923, from a union of the Susquehanna Synod and Central Pennsylvania Synod; (16) Canada Synod in 1925, from a union of Canada Synod and Central Canada Synod; (17) United New York Synod in 1929, from a union of the New York Ministerium, the New York Synod and the New York and New England Synod; and (18) American Lutheran Church in 1930, from a union of the Joint Ohio Synod, the Buffalo Synod, I, and the Iowa Synod, I.

3. Adoption: (1) Joint Ohio Synod received the Michigan Synod, I, into its arms in 1846; (2) Joint Ohio Synod and Missouri Synod made room for the Indianapolis Synod in 1852; (3) in 1852 the Miami Synod and the Missouri Synod took over the remnants from the Kentucky Synod, II; (4) in 1866 one third of Buffalo Synod, I, went over to Missouri Synod; (5) in 1875 Illinois Synod, II, was merged into Missouri Synod; (6) in 1876 Concordia Synod, II, became a district of Joint Ohio Synod; (7) in 1882 there was an exodus from Joint Missouri to Joint Ohio and from Joint Ohio to Joint Missouri; (8) in 1886 Concordia Synod, III, was merged into Missouri; (9) in 1892 Alpha Synod of North Carolina became a part of the Negro Mission of the Synodical Conference; (10) in 1894 Middle Tennessee Synod was taken over by the Olive Branch Synod; (11) in 1895 Texas Synod, I, became a synod within Iowa Synod, I; (12) in 1902 the disbanded Augsburg Synod found a home and haven in Joint Ohio Synod.

4. Reunion: (1) Melancthon Synod came back to the Maryland Synod in 1877 after 12 years away from home; (2) Franckean Synod, II, returned in 1872 to Franckean Synod, I, after six years out in the world; (3) Steimle Synod, I, came back to the New York Ministerium in 1872 after being out six years; (4) German Maryland held out only two years (1874-1876) before applying for readmittance to Maryland Synod; (5) in 1877 Buffalo Synod, II, returned to Buffalo Synod, I, after an eleven-year independence; (6) New York Ministerium and New York and New Jersey synods welcomed back at least some of the men of the New York and Canada Ministerium, which was of short duration (1886 to 1890). Perhaps we could rightly place in this same class the return of Central Canada Synod to Canada Synod after a separation of 17 years (1908-1925). The case of the Tennessee Synod, which in 1921 came back to the North Carolina Synod after 101 years of separation (1820-1921) may also be cited.

5. Constituent union: To this class belong (1) The General Synod, with as many as 24 synods at one time; (2) The General Council, comprising 13 synods at one time; (3) The General Synod, South, with six; (4) The United Synod, South, with eight; (5) The United Lutheran Church, with 45 at the most, now reduced to 33 by the process of merging; and (6) the Joint Wisconsin, II, 1892-1919, in which the merged synods had overlapping territory in places and were independent, constituent synods.

A total of 53 synods have at some time or other belonged to the General Synod; 27 have belonged to the General Council; 7 to the General Synod, South; 14 to the Synodical Conference; 9 to the United Synod, South; 4 to the Joint Wisconsin Synod (1892-19); 45 to the United Lutheran Church; and 5 (as now constituted) to the American Lutheran Conference.

It will be seen that 98 of the organizations listed below are extinct. The 53 remaining ones fall into three major groups about equally large as to baptized members: (1) United Lutheran Church (1918), with 33 constituent synods—Alleghany, California, Canada, East Pennsylvania, Florida, Georgia-Alabama, German Nebraska, Illinois (III), Indiana (V), Iowa (II), Kansas, Manitoba, Maryland, Michigan (V), Mississippi, Nebraska, Northwest (II), Nova Scotia, Ohio, Pacific, Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh (IV), Rocky Mountain, Slovak "Zion," South Carolina, Susquehanna (II), Texas (II), United New York, United North Carolina, Virginia, Wartburg, West Pennsylvania and West Virginia; (2) American Lutheran Conference (1930), with five participating synods—American Lutheran Church, Augustana Synod, Lutheran Free Church, Norwegian Lutheran Church and United Danish Church; (3) Synodical Conference (1872), with five participating synods—Missouri Synod, Norwegian Synod (III), Slovak Synod, Wisconsin Synod (III) and the Negro Mission. There are also seven other Lutheran synods, about three per cent of the total Lutheran membership, that have not joined any general organization—Danish Church, Eielsen Synod, Finnish Apostolic Church, Finnish National Church, Finnish Suomi Synod, Icelandic Synod and Lutheran Brethren.

As to languages used, it is sufficient to say that all the older synods used the mother-tongue of the immigrants at the start. About 50 synods used German, 13 Norwegian, 4 Danish, 4 Swedish, 3 Finnish, 3 Slovak and 1 Icelandic. All are heading rapidly towards the use of English. Nearly one-half began with English as the only or chief language in use. In 1906 the "Religious Bodies" of the U. S. Census reported that in the Lutheran Church only 22% of the services were conducted in English, in the Catholic Church 60%, and in the Reformed Churches 94%. In the 1916 "Religious Bodies," the Lutherans had 28% in English, the Catholics 66%, and the Reformed 94% again. The "Religious Bodies" for 1926 does not analyze the gain in English, a gain that since the World War has been startlingly stupendous, yet inevitable. N. J. Lohre in his "Annual Report of the Norwegian Lutheran Church" for 1929 shows that of the 94,485 sermons for the year, over 60% were in English. He reports that of 182,249 receiving instruction in Sunday school, parochial school, week day school and Saturday school, only 12,178, or less than 5%, were using the Norwegian. In 1906 less than 1% of the work in the Hauge Synod, Norwegian Synod, and United Norwegian Church, now composing the Norwegian Lutheran Church, was done in English congregations; in 1916 only 4%. The work was bilingual, with the emphasis, as a rule, on the Norwegian. Rev. Ernst Eckhardt reports for Missouri Synod a net total of 40% English in 1920, 44% in 1922, 49% in 1924, 54% in 1926, 56% in 1928, 57% in 1929 and 58% in 1930 ("Year Book," 1930, 152), the rest being in German.

As to the bibliography, it should be remarked that there is no attempt to make an exhaustive list of references. The two books most frequently referred to are: J-H, "The Lutheran Encyclopedia" (1911) by H. E. Jacobs and J. A. W. Haas, both from the Pennsylvania Ministerium, and Conc. "Concordia Cyclopaedia" (1927) by L. Fuerbringer, Th. Engelder and P. E. Kretzmann, all from the Missouri Synod. The "Lutheran Encyclopedia" mentions only 90 of the 151 synods; "Concordia Cyclopaedia," being a later work, mentions 119. There are 21 synods not mentioned by either of these authorities. The "Lutheran Almanac" of the General Synod has been consulted for the years 1851, 1861-1862, 1864, 1867, 1870-1916; "The Lutheran Church Almanac" of the General Council for the years 1868-1881, 1900-1914; the "Lutheran Church Year Book" of Joint Ohio, General Synod, General Council and United Synod, South for 1917 and 1918; the "Lutheran Church Year Book" of the United Lutheran Church since 1919; the "Lutheran Annual" of the Missouri Synod for 1931; and the "Lutheran World Almanac" of the National Lutheran Council since 1921.

Franckean Synod, I, 1837-1908.

Franckean Synod of New York. Org. May 25, 1837, at Minden, N. Y., by members of the Western Conference of the Hartwick Synod, for whom the liberal position of that Synod was not extreme enough. It held aloof from all other Lutheran Synods until 1864 when it was admitted to the General Synod. This led to the disruption of the General Synod and the founding of the General Council. In 1908 the Franckean Synod merged with the Hartwick Synod, the New York and New Jersey Synod, into the New York Synod of the General Synod. It is now a part of the United New York Synod of the U. L. C. Franckean Synod, II, sprung out of Franckean Synod, I, and was soon suppressed by it. J-H, 479-480; Conc., 266-267; P. H. Franckean Synod, II, 1866-1872.

Mission Synod of the West: Missionary Synod of the West. The pastors of the Franckean Synod, I, had organized a synod in Iowa called Iowa Synod (II), in 1855. In 1866 a number of pastors from Franckean Synod, I, and Iowa Synod, II, seceded and formed Franckean Synod, II, known also as the Missionary Synod of the West. It was soon dissolved at the request of Franckean Synod, I. Conc., 266-267, 786; "Lutheran Almanac," 1870-1871.

General Council, 1867-1918.

General Council of the Lutheran Church in North America. Org. Nov. 20, 1867, at Fort Wayne, Ind., after a constitutional meeting held in December, 1866, at Reading, Pa., and a preliminary meeting at Lancaster, Pa., the same year, occasioned by the acceptance of the Franckean Synod as a member of the General Synod in 1864, a step that was protested by the Pennsylvania Ministerium, New York Ministerium, a part of Pittsburgh Synod, Minnesota Synod, Canada Synod, and others. Thirteen synods joined in 1867: Pennsylvania Ministerium; New York Ministerium; Pittsburgh Synod, III; Joint Ohio Synod; English Ohio Synod; District Ohio Synod; Michigan Synod, II; Wisconsin Synod, I; Minnesota Synod, I; Iowa Synod,

I; Illinois Synod, II; Canada Synod; Scandinavian Augustana Synod. Joint Ohio Synod withdrew already in 1867; Wisconsin Synod in 1869; Illinois and Minnesota in 1871; English Ohio Synod disbanded in 1872; Iowa withdrew before 1881 (Census Bureau has it GC in 1890) and Augustana in 1918. The General Council received the Texas and Steimle Synods in 1868; the Indiana, III, in 1872; the Norwegian Augustana Synod in 1873; the Holston Synod in 1874. The Texas Synod withdrew in 1895 becoming a part of Iowa Synod, I; Holston Synod withdrew in 1886 to become a member of the United Synod, South; Indiana Synod in 1895 became the Chicago Synod. In place of the Texas Synod, which had gone over to Iowa, a new Texas Synod was formed taking the date of the original synod, 1851. Also six new synods were added to the General Council having been organized by some of its constituent members: The Northwest Synod organized in 1891; the Manitoba Synod, in 1897; the Pacific Synod, in 1901; the New York and New England Synod, in 1902; the Nova Scotia Synod, in 1903; and the Central Canada Synod, in 1908. The movement to organize the General Council, led by Pennsylvania Ministerium, was to bring about a union of all true Lutherans in America. Its conditions of union based on 1 Cor. 1:10 were: The same faith in the same truth; the same confession in the same faith; and the same judgment under the same confession. In 1918 the General Council merged with the General Synod and the United Synod, South, to form the United Lutheran Church in America. J-H, 190-191; Conc., 280-281; J. L. Neve's "Brief History of the Lutheran Church in America," 214-256; "Religious Bodies," 1916, II, 359-366; F. Bente's "American Lutheranism," II, 176-227.

Oct. 22, 1820, at Hagerstown, Md., by the Pennsylvania Ministerium (founded 1748); the New York Ministerium (1786); the North Carolina Synod (1803); and the Maryland and Virginia Synod (1820). Only two synods then existing did not then join this general body. These were the Tennessee Synod, which has sprung out of the North Carolina Synod in 1820 and objected to the organization on doctrinal grounds, and the Joint Ohio Synod (1818), which refused to join for practical reasons. The New York Ministerium withdrew in 1821; the Pennsylvania Ministerium in 1823. The membership of the General Synod and its organization was 34,101, of which 82 per cent held membership in Pennsylvania and New York ministeriums. The disruption caused by the withdrawal of these two constituent bodies left the General Synod very weak indeed. The New York Ministerium came back in 1837 and the Pennsylvania Ministerium in 1853. Other synods were being formed and many of them joined the General Synod. For ex-ginia, South Western Virginia—withdrew in 1863 from the General Synod. The admission of the Melancthon Synod (in 1859) which stood committed to the "Definite Platform," a document which charged the Augsburg Confession with doctrinal errors, caused the Scandinavian members of the Northern Illinois Synod to withdraw and to organize the Scandinavian Augustana Synod. The admission of the un-Lutheran Franckean Synod in 1864 brought about the disruption of the General Synod in 1866 and the formation of the General Council. The General Synod, though weakened in members, continued its course. In 1867 it accepted Susquehanna Synod into membership; in 1869 Kansas Synod; in 1875 German Maryland; in 1871 Nebraska; in 1877 Wartburg Synod; in 1882 Middle Tennessee; Augsburg Synod in 1877 and in 1890 again; in 1891 German Nebraska and Rocky Mountain Synods; in 1892 California Synod; in 1859 New Jersey; in 1867 New York (I); in 1872 (?) the New York and New Jersey; in 1908 New York Synod. Jefferson Prairie, Wis., by Rev. Elling Ellsen, Ole Andrewsen and Paul Anderson, under the name the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (better known as Ellsen Synod). On June 5-12, 1875, at Arendahl, Fillmore Co., Minn., the matter of changing the so-called "Old Constitution" was discussed. On June 2, 1876, at Chicago, Ill., this step was taken and the Synod from that time bore the name Hauge Synod. The name is taken from Hans Nielsen Hauge, the Pietist Reformer of Norway (1771-1826). Ellsen and some of his friends continued the Ellsen Synod (which see "Ellsen" above). Hauge Synod became a part of the Norwegian Lutheran Church in America in 1917. Norwegian. Icelandic Synod, 1885-

Icelandic Evangelical Lutheran Synod of (in) North America. Org. Jan. 23, 1885 (June 24?) at Mountain, N. Dak., by Icelandic Lutherans belonging to the Norwegian Synod, II, their pastors having been trained at Luther College (Decorah, Iowa) and Concordia Seminary (St. Louis). Is bilingual—Icelandic and English. Has affiliated with the Norwegian Synod and the Norwegian Lutheran Church in school work, and with the General Council and United Lutheran Church in foreign mission work. A faction about 1910 left the Icelandic Synod, having become Unitarian. J-H, 240; "Religious Bodies," 1926, II, 801-802.

Illinois Synod, I, 1846-1867.

Org. Oct. 15, 1846, at Hillsboro, Ill., being one of the three bodies—Illinois, Indianapolis and Southwest—growing out of the Synod of the West (Kentucky Synod, II). Illinois Synod, I, brought forth Northern Illinois Synod, 1851; Southern Illinois Synod, 1855; Central Illinois Synod, 1867; and Illinois Synod, II, 1867. Illinois Synod was a member of the General Synod, having joined in 1848. The work in Illinois was begun by North Carolina Synod pastors—Jacob Scherer and William Jenkins in 1824; J. C. A. Schonberg in 1827; Daniel Scherer in 1832. Bilingual—English and German. J-H, 480-481; Conc., 346, 745; G. D. Bernheim and G. H. In 1867 Illinois Synod, II, entered the General Council; in 1872 it entered the Synodical Conference; in 1875 it became a district of Missouri Synod. German. Some of its original members plus new recruits, in 1875 formed the Wartburg Synod, true to

Illinois Synod, III, 1851-

Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America. Org. June 10, 1920, at Carthage, Ill., by representatives of the congregations of the Northern Illinois (1851), Central Illinois (1867), and Southern Illinois (1856) synods. Also by the Illinois congregations of the Chicago Synod, Illinois Synod now dates its origin back to that of its oldest component synod, Northern Illinois, Sept. 18, 1851. It is a member of the U. L. C. English. "Lutheran World Almanac," 1921, 87; "Year Book of the United Lutheran Church in America," 1931, 37; Conc., 779; J-H, 489-490.

Immanuel Synod, I, 1875-1885.

Immanuel Synod in America; Immanuel Synod, West; German Immanuel Synod. Org. 1875. No doubt Immanuel Synod, I, is the forerunner of Immanuel Synod, II. J-H, 501; "Lutheran Almanac," 1877-1883.

Immanuel Synod, II, 1885-1921.

German Immanuel Synod; Immanuel Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in North America; Immanuel Synod, West; Emanuel Synod. Org. in 1885, at Wall Rose, Pa., by a number of Lutheran pastors and congregations desiring to secure greater freedom in church life than was possible in some of the synods. Evidently a continuation of Immanuel Synod, I, 1875-1885. In 1891 Immanuel Synod reported 18 pastors, 21 congregations and 4,500 members. As the numbers gradually dwindled, the Synod decided to disband in 1917. Rev. J. Frederick then gathered a remnant about himself, retaining the name Immanuel Synod, but it disbanded soon after his death, in 1921. German. Conc., 348, 745; "Religious Bodies," 1916, II, 399; "Lutheran Almanac," 1877-1883, 1887-1891, etc.

Indiana Synod, I, 1835-1859.

Evangelical Synod of Indiana. Org. Aug. 15, 1835, at St. John's Church, Johnson Co.,

Ind., by six pastors and seven laymen, representing the conservative views of the Tennessee Synod rather than the more liberal views of the General Synod. Three generations of Henkels from Tennessee Synod had already done mission work in Indiana. In 1849 Indiana Synod was split by doctrinal controversies, and the courts adjudged the "Miller Faction," which opposed the liberalism of the leaders, to be the real Synod of Indiana. It did not join the General Synod. In 1859 it was dissolved, reappearing under the name of Union Synod. English. The "Lutheran Almanac" for 1851 assigns to the Indiana Synod 808 pastors, 30 congregations and 1,500 communicant members. This should probably read 18 pastors. It is listed in the "Lutheran Almanac" for 1861 (two years after it had disbanded) as having 14 ministers, 16 congregations and 2,500 communicant members. It is called Indiana in the "Almanac" up to 1864. In the "Lutheran Church Almanac" (Allentown), 1868, it is first called Union Synod; Conc., 355.

Indiana Synod, II, 1849-1851 (?)

The majority faction of the Indiana Synod, I, which in 1849 was ruled by the courts not to be the real Synod of Indiana, having exhausted its strength in lawsuits, soon disbanded. Conc., 355-356.

Indiana Synod, III.

Indiana Synod, IV, 1871-1895.

Org. Oct. 23, 1871, at East Germantown, Ind., by members of the former Union Synod (1859-1871) and the Joint Ohio Synod who wanted to join the General Council. It joined the General Council in 1872. As its field covered Illinois as well as Indiana, and its interest centered around Chicago Lutheran Seminary (1891), it adopted the name Chicago Synod in 1895. In 1918 it became a member of the United Lutheran Church. In 1920 it was divided among the newly-formed synods of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio. English. J-H, 489-490; Conc., 356, 746.

Indiana Synod, V, 1848-.

Indiana Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America. Org. June 23, 1920, at Indianapolis, Ind. It is a union of the Olive Branch Synod of the former General Synod and a portion of the Chicago Synod of the former General Council. Both these synods became constituent members of the U. L. C. in 1918. For its date of organization it reverts back to the date of the organization of the Olive Branch Synod—Oct. 28, 1848. English. "Lutheran World Almanac," 1921, 89-91; "Year Book of the United Lutheran Church," 1931, 37.

Indianapolis Synod, 1846-1852.

German Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Indianapolis. Org. in 1846 by men of the Synod of West who disagreed with the liberal tendencies of that Synod. It was formally organized in 1848 with five ordained and four licensed ministers and 10 congregations. It is listed by the "Lutheran Almanac" for 1851 as having 10 pastors and 20 congregations, "Independent." German. It was absorbed by Joint Ohio and Missouri after it disbanded in 1852. Conc., 356.

Iowa Synod, I, 1854-1930.

Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Iowa and Other States; German Iowa Synod. Org. Aug. 24, 1854, at St. Sebald, Iowa, by emissaries of J. K. W. Loehe in Neuendettelsau, Germany. Loehe was training ministers for America and directing their work here. He was instrumental in founding the Practical Theological Seminary at Ft. Wayne, Ind. (1846, since 1875 at Springfield, Ill.); also a normal school at Saginaw, Michigan, in 1852, for training parochial teachers. He directed the organization of Michigan Synod, I (1840-1846). J. A. Grabau of Buffalo Synod (I) had visited Germany in 1853 and induced Loehe to found a new synod. He gave his consent to the migration of some 20 of his colony at Saginaw, Mich., to Dubuque, Iowa. These founded the Iowa Synod. Iowa Synod held a partial membership in the General Council from 1867 into the '70s (the U. S.

Org. as the Evangelical Lutheran Conference of Iowa in 1852; org. as a synod Sept. 3, 1855, by seven pastors, some of them formerly of the Franckean Synod (I). Joined the General Synod in 1857. In 1866 some of its pastors together with some pastors from Franckean Synod, I, withdrew and organized the Mission Synod of the West, or Franckean Synod, II. This movement was of short duration. Rev. O. C. Miller, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., started the California Synod. Iowa Synod became a constituent synod of the U. L. C. in 1918. English. J-H, 479, 481-482; Conc., 779.

Evangelical Lutheran Jehovah Conference. Org. in 1885 in Michigan by pastors under the Lower Hessian Mission Association, Hesse-Cassel, Germany. Other missionaries followed, but the conference was never large. It had 9 congregations in 1906, 6 in 1916 and 3 in 1926; it had

Sept. 14, 1818, at Somerset, O., by members of the Western Conference of the Pennsylvania Ministerium (this conference was organized in Oct., 1912). J. Stauch, the first pastor in Ohio, was from the P. M. Paul Henkel, and some of his five ministerial sons, were also instrumental in founding Joint Ohio. They came first from North Carolina and then from Tennessee synods. Joint Ohio organized itself into Eastern and Western districts in 1831. In the "Lutheran Almanac," 1851, 45, they are listed as synods; E. Ohio German District and W. Ohio German District synods. In 1836 it organized an English district; in 1840 this district withdrew and became the East Ohio Synod of G. S.; in 1841 it organized a second English district; in 1855 this district withdrew and became the English Ohio Synod of the G. S., later of the G. C. until 1872, when it disbanded. In 1857 Joint Ohio organized a third English district, which in 1867 left the mother synod and joined G. C. under the name District Synod of Ohio, which, since 1918, has been a part of the U. L. C., and since 1920, together with East Ohio, Miami and Wittenberg, a part of Ohio Synod, of the U. L. C. In 1869 a fourth English district was formed within Jt. O. which lasted until 1930, when Jt. O. was merged into the American Lutheran Church. In 1851 the Northwestern District was organized. In 1877 Concordia Synod of Virginia became a part of Joint Ohio and was reduced to an English district, later a part of the Eastern District. In 1882 the Evangelical Lutheran Conference, seceders from Missouri Synod, joined Jt. O. and became the Northwestern District, II. The Northwestern District, I, has since become the Northern District (Michigan), and the Northwestern District, II, has since become several districts: Wisconsin, 1891; Minnesota, 1891; Washington, 1891; Texas, 1891; Kansas-Nebraska, 1892; Canada, 1906. An Australia district was formed in 1908. In 1846 the Michigan Synod, I, was received into Jt. O., in 1852 parts of Indianapolis Synod, in 1902 the Augsburg Synod. Around 1882 there was an exodus from Joint Ohio to Missouri and vice versa due to the Predestination views of the two bodies. Joint Ohio would never join the General Synod; joined the General Council tentatively in 1867, was a member of the Synodical Conference from 1872 to 1882; merged with Buffalo Synod (I) and Iowa Synod (I) in 1930 to form the American Lutheran Church, and was a factor in the organization of the American Lutheran Conference in 1930. Missionary Synod of the West. Org. in 1840 by Rev. F. Schmid, missionary of the Basel Missionary Society to the Indians of Michigan, and two others. J. K. W. Loehe, German church reformer and mission friend, supported the enterprise upon Schmid's pledge that confessional Lutheranism would be the unalterable program. Four of his men joined Michigan, but left in 1846, finding too much laxity in practice. The Synod was then dissolved, Schmid entering Joint Ohio Synod. German. Conc., 469, 470, 746.

Michigan Synod, II, 1860-1892.

The same year it became a member of the Synodical Conference. German. Conc., 470, 746.

Michigan Synod, III, 1892-1919.

The same as Michigan Synod, II, during the time of the merger, 1892-1919. Due to misunderstanding as to the running of the Theological Seminary of Michigan Synod, established in 1885 by A. Lange of Buffalo Seminary, Michigan Synod, III, suffered a division (Michigan Synod, IV, 1896-1906), which it took ten years and more to heal. J-H, 498; Conc., 470.

Michigan Synod, IV, 1896-1906.

Michigan Synod, III, a constituent member of the Joint Wisconsin Synod of 1892, wished to conduct its own theological school at Saginaw, as heretofore. Difficulties arose, some pastors were suspended by the Joint Synod, a majority of Michigan Synod, III, severed relations with Joint Synod and joined for a season (1897-1900) with the Augsburg Synod, then broke this union and reunited with the minority part (Michigan, III). Augsburg disbanded in 1902 and was absorbed by Joint Ohio Synod. Michigan Synod, IV, became again a part of Michigan Synod, III, and a member of Synodical Conference. German. In 1919 it merged with Wisconsin, Minnesota and District Nebraska into Joint Wisconsin. J-H, 498; Conc., 470.

Heyer, who had been a missionary from 1819 to 1839 in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, from 1842 to 1857 in India; and who worked the Minnesota field from 1857 to 1858, when he returned to India. Evangelical Lutheran Synod Missouri, Ohio and Other States; Joint Missouri Synod; Joint Synod of Missouri; German Missouri Synod. Org. Apr. 26, 1847, at Chicago, Ill. Among the pastors organizing the Missouri Synod were: F. C. D. Wyneken, German pastor at Fort Wayne, Ind., sent there by the Pennsylvania Ministerium and for a number of years a member of the Synod of the West; W. Sihler, for some years a member of the Joint Ohio Synod and a pastor in Ohio, later (in 1850) becoming Wyneken's successor at Ft. Wayne; and C. F. W. Walther, the leader of the Saxon immigrants of 1839 who settled at St. Louis and Perry Co., Mo. In 1852 it received a small remnant of the disbanded Indianapolis Synod and the Synod of the West; in 1866 eleven Buffalo Synod pastors were admitted into Missouri; in 1875 the Illinois Synod (formerly of the General Synod and then of the General Council) was merged with Missouri; in 1882 there was an exodus from Joint Ohio to Missouri; in 1892 Alpha Synod asked to be taken over by Missouri; in 1872, through a conference with a Tennessee Synod pastor, the English Conference of Missouri Synod was organized, and this became the English Synod of Missouri in 1888 and the English District in 1911. Missouri was partly instrumental in starting the Synodical Conference in 1872, of which it has always been a member; also the Negro Mission in 1877 and the Slovak Synod in 1902. The growth of Missouri Synod in area and numbers has necessitated the division of the Synod into districts. The first division was in 1854, when four districts were created—Eastern, Western, Northern and Central. These have since been subdivided so that there are now 30:25 districts

Western Virginia Synod (Southwestern Virginia Synod) went out of North Carolina Synod in 1842; Alpha Synod was created among the Negroes of North Carolina in 1889, but in 1892 went over to the Synodical Conferences. Shortly afterward the school was closed, but resurrected again by Illinois Synod, II, together with the Synodical Conference, of which it became a member, and is now known as Concordia Theological Seminary, Springfield; Northern Illinois Synod joined the General Synod in 1853, the United Lutheran Church in 1918. Rasmussen into membership in 1860—seceder from Eielson Synod; lost C. L. Clausen—its first pastor—in 1869, going over to the Norwegian-Danish Conference (the Conference was called Danish in addition to Norwegian because Clausen was a Dane and would attract Danes into membership). The Norwegian Synod was disrupted in 1887 when about one-third of the pastors, led by P. A. Rasmussen and F. A. Schmidt, withdrew and formed the Anti-Missourian Brotherhood. In 1872 the Norwegian Synod joined the Synodical Conference; in 1882 it withdrew so as to prevent disruption. A. with the addition of the Danish pastor, C. L. Clausen, coming over from the Norwegian Synod, II, and a few others. In 1873-1876 Norwegian Augustana affiliated with the General Council. Through these vigorous children it has begotten numerous synods stretching from coast to coast and speaking every language used in Lutheran worship. It took part in the formation of the General Synod, in 1820, but withdrew again in 1823 and stayed aloof until 1853. It caused a second rupture of the General Synod in 1866 when it protested the acceptance of the Franckean Synod as a member of the General Synod. It was chiefly instrumental in establishing the General Council, more conservative in its faith and practices than the General Synod. In 1918 it united with the General Synod and the General Synod, South, in creating the United Lutheran Church in America. It is bilingual—German and English. J-H, 493-395; E. L. Among the early pastors, Dr. W. A. Passavant, perhaps did most to shape the far-reaching missionary (home and inner) policies of the Synod. It was instrumental in starting the Texas Synod in 1851 and the Canada Synod in 1861. It joined the General Synod in 1853 and suffered a rupture at the Greenville convention in 1867, in view of the warfare between the General Synod and the newly-formed opponents, the General Council. The Pittsburgh Synod divided itself into two streams—the General Synod stream was the smaller, with 11 pastors and 37 congregations; the General Council stream was the larger, with 58 pastors and 103 congregations. In 1870 the Norwegian members, one-third of the total, withdrew in order to start a Norwegian Augustana Synod. Cyril Drope, a member of the Pennsylvania Ministerium. In the year 1890 a larger immigration of Lutheran Slovaks began. They were served by Missouri Synod, especially through Rev. Karol Hauser, who preached in their native tongue from 1888. He organized the Slovakian Synod of 1894 and became its president. The name of this Synod disappears from the "Lutheran Almanac" after 1898, although the Slovak work continued right along until the Slovak Synod was organized in 1902. Slovak. Evangelical Lutheran Tennessee Synod. Org. July 17, 1820, at Solomon's Church, Cove Creek, Green Co., Tenn., by men of the North Carolina Synod who opposed the laxity in doctrine and practice in the other synods. Its congregations lay in East Tennessee, Western Virginia, Western North Carolina, and, after 1852, in South Carolina. In 1860 the Tennessee congregations withdrew and formed the Holston Synod, so that after that for 61 years the Tennessee Synod did not have any work in Tennessee State. It was zealous in home mission work and helped to start the work in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky (See Joint Ohio Synod, Kentucky Synod, I, Indiana Synod, I, and Concordia Synod of Virginia, II). It did not join the General Synod, North, nor the General Synod, South. It joined the United Synod, South, in 1886 and the United Lutheran Church in 1918. In 1921 it reunited with the North Carolina Synod after 101 years of separation and is now a part of the United North Carolina Synod, except that its Virginia Conference, as well as Holston Synod, are now a part of Virginia Synod, and its South Carolina congregations now belong to South Carolina Synod. First Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Texas; Old German (Alten Deutsche) Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Texas. Org. Nov. 10, 1851, at Houston, Tex., by six pastors, under the leadership of Rev. C. Braun, who had been sent to Texas by Dr. W. A. Passavant of Pittsburgh Synod. In the year 1850 the South Carolina Synod had sent the Rev. George E. Guebner as a missionary to Texas and the band of workers was swelled also by additions from St. Chrischona, the missionary institute of the Basel Missionary Society. Texas Synod joined the General Synod in 1853, withdrew in 1863; joined the General Council in 1868, left the General Council in 1895, when a majority moved to go into the Iowa Synod (I). A small minority is known as Texas Synod (II) of the United Lutheran Church. In 1930, when Iowa Synod joined the American Lutheran Church, Texas Synod became, together with the Texas District of the Joint Ohio Synod, a district of the American Lutheran Church, German and English. J-H, 504; Conc., 784; G. D. Bernheim's "German Settlements in the Carolinas," 548.

Union Synod, 1859-1871.

Synod of Indiana; Union Synod of The Evangelical (sic) Lutheran Church; Indiana Synod, III. "Concordia Cyclopedia" (774) gives this information: "Org. in Nov. 1859, by former members of the defunct Indiana Synod (I). Its purpose was to unite all Lutherans in Indiana into one synod. Fraternal relations were at first maintained with the Joint Synod of Ohio, under the leadership of E. S. Henkel, president; but later efforts to unite with it failed because of the laxity of Union Synod. In 1859 it was a member of the General Synod. In 1869 it resolved to join the General Council, but dissolved in 1871. Its pastors helped to form the Indiana Synod (IV) of the General Council, which in 1895 became the Chicago Synod." The "Lutheran Almanac," however, does not list any synod by the name of Union before 1867. It is at first listed as Synod of Indiana, and, in each case among the "Synods Not Connected with the General Synods." From 1867 to 1872 the "Lutheran Almanacs" (published by the General Synod) list it as Union Synod, and always among the "Synods Not Connected with Any General Synod or General Council." After the name, within parentheses, is given the information that this synod is "Independent." English. J-H, 489-490.

United Lutheran Church, 1918.

United Lutheran Church in America. Org. Nov. 11, 1918, in New York City, N. Y., by the union of three general bodies—the General Synod (1820), the General Council (1867), and the United Synod, South (1886). It was the outcome of the union celebration of the Quadricentennial of the Reformation by these three general bodies. For years these bodies had interchanged delegates and cooperated in various endeavors, held conferences and union programs, so the welding together was not so sudden, although startling on account of its magnitude and far-reaching effects. A. R. Wentz, in his "Lutheran Church in American History," says: "The most significant event in this age of larger units was the organization of The United Lutheran Church in America in 1918. It attracted wider attention among Christians generally than any previous event in the whole history of the Lutheran Church in this country. It was the realization of Muhlenberg's ideals, and the example of denominational consolidation among Lutherans was warmly commended by the religious and secular press to the other great denominations whose forces are still divided" (312). At the time of the merger the General Synod came in with 24 constituent synods: 1. Maryland (1820); 2. West Pennsylvania (1825); 3. East Ohio (1836); 4. Alleghany (1842); 5. East Pennsylvania (1842); 6. Miami (1844); 7. Wittenberg (1847); 8. Olive Branch (1848); 9. Northern Illinois (1851); 10. Central Pennsylvania (1855); 11. Iowa (1855); 12. Northern Indiana (1855); 13. Pittsburgh (1867); 14. Susquehanna (1867); 15. Kansas (1868); 16. Nebraska (1871); 17. Wartburg (1875); 18. German Nebraska (1890); 19. California (1891); 20. Rocky Mountain (1891); 21. Central Illinois (1901); 22. Southern Illinois (1901); 23. New York (1908); and 24. West Virginia (1912). The constituent synods of the General Council were 13 in number, as follows: 1. Pennsylvania Ministerium (1748); 2. New York Ministerium (1786); 3. Texas (1851); 4. District Ohio (1857); 5. Canada (1861); 6. Pittsburgh (1867); 7. Northwest (1891); 8. Chicago (1895); 9. Manitoba (1897); 10. Pacific (1901); 11. New York and New England (1902); 12. Nova Scotia (1903); and 13. Central Canada (1908). The United Synod, South, synods were eight, as follows: 1. North Carolina (1803); 2. Tennessee (1820); 3. South Carolina (1824); 4. Virginia (1829); 5. Southwestern Virginia (1842); 6. Mississippi (1855); 7. Georgia (1860); and 8. Holston (1860). These 45 synods have been reduced to 31 by their merging where there were two or more occupying the same field. The mergers have been as follows: 1. Pittsburgh of GS and Pittsburgh of GC into Pittsburgh of ULC; 2. East Ohio, Miami and Wittenberg of GS and District Ohio of GC into Ohio of ULC; 3. Olive Branch of GS and a part of Chicago of GC into Indiana of ULC; 4. Northern Indiana of GS and a part of Chicago of GC into Michigan of ULC; 5. Northern Illinois, Central Illinois and Southern Illinois of GS and a part of Chicago of GC into Illinois of ULC; 6. North Carolina and Tennessee of USS have become the United North Carolina of ULC; 7. Virginia, Southwestern Virginia and Holston of USS have become the Virginia of ULC; 8. Central Pennsylvania and Susquehanna of GS have become the Susquehanna of Central Pennsylvania of ULC; 9. Canada and Central Canada of GC have become the Canada of ULC; 10. New York of GS and New York Ministerium and New York and New England of GC have become the United New York of ULC. In short, a total of 24 of the entering synods have now disappeared. In their place are 10 new synods, a saving of 14. Two new synods have been created—one for the Slovaks, on Pennsylvania soil and elsewhere, and one for Florida, out of Georgia Synod territory. There is a net reduction of 12 synods, leaving 33 for the ULC at the present date (1931). Conc., 776-786; "Religious Bodies," II, 1926, 708-719; A. R. Wentz's "Lutheran Church in American History," 312-335; F. Bente's "American Lutheranism," II; "Year Book of the United Lutheran Church in America," 1931, 37; F. H. Knabel and M. G. G. Wisconsin Synod, I, 1850-1892.

Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Wisconsin; German Wisconsin Synod. Org. Dec. 8, 1849, at Milwaukee, Wis., by Pastors J. Weinmann and W. Wrede. Formally organized in May, 1850, at Granville, Wis., with two other pastors also present, one of whom was John Muehlheuser, pastor in the New York Ministerium from 1837 to 1846. These were missionaries from Barmen Training School for Missionaries, sent by the Langenberg Mission Society. Muehlheuser established fraternal relations with the Pennsylvania Ministerium. Wisconsin joined the General Council in 1867 and withdrew in 1871; then became a charter member of the Synodical Conference. In 1892 it formed together with Michigan, II, and Minnesota, I, a Joint Synod of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and Other States. J-H, 498; Conc., 816-817; J. L. Neve's "Brief History of the Lutheran Church in America," 318-331.

Wisconsin Synod, II, 1892-1919.

Joint Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and Other States; United German Synod of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan; General Synod of Wisconsin; Synod of the Northwest, I. Org. Oct. 11, 1892, at Milwaukee, Wis., by representatives from the Wisconsin Synod, I, the Minnesota Synod, I, and the Michigan Synod, II, and Synod of the Northwest, II. The Joint Synod was a federation, not a merger, and belonged to the Synodical Conference. Trouble arose on the Michigan field with respect to the theological seminary at Saginaw. The majority of the Michigan Synod was suspended and became Michigan Synod, IV, independent of Joint Synod of Wisconsin. The minority continued as a District Synod of Michigan (Michigan III). Michigan Synod, IV, allied itself with Augsburg Synod for a season (1897-1900), and then upon reconciliation with Michigan Synod, III, was reunited with it and again became a constituent synod of Joint Wisconsin. In 1904 the Nebraska District of Joint Wisconsin was made into a synod and joined the Synodical Conference in 1906. All these synods—Wisconsin, II, Minnesota, II, Michigan, III, and District Nebraska were merged in 1919 into one Joint Synod, losing their synodical identities. The whole field was geographically, not synodically, redistricted. German. Conc., 816-817; "Lutheran World Almanac," 1921, 112-115.

Wisconsin Synod, III, 1850-

The merger resulted in redistricting, as follows: 1. Dakota-Montana; 2. Michigan; 3. Minnesota; 4. Nebraska; 5. Pacific-Northwest; 6. Northern Wisconsin; 7. Southeast Wisconsin; 8. West Wisconsin. Joint Wisconsin is a member of the Synodical Conference and is bilingual—German and English. Conc., 816-817; "Lutheran World Almanac," 1921, 112-115; "Religious Bodies," 1916, II, 742-747; "Lutheran Annual," 1931, 93-99.

Egede, Hans

The Norsemen came to Greenland as early as 876, and Greenland is part of North America. Leif Erikson was appointed in 999 by King Olaf Trygvasson a missionary to Greenland and set sail for Greenland without compass. The Icelandic sagas mention bishops of Greenland and Vinland by name in regular succession from 1112 to 1409. The intercourse with Greenland, including Vinland, seems to have been terminated in the fourteenth century. The causes for this were: The Black Death of 1355, which desolated all Europe; the transfer in 1387 of Norway and its colonies to the crown of Denmark; the massacre of the Norwegian colonists in 1349, 1379 and possibly also after 1409; the dispersion of the Greenland Colony among the Eskimos and Indians of the Mainland. Pope Nicholas V in 1448 urged the Icelanders again to take up work in Greenland. In 1492 Pope Alexander V appointed Matthias Bishop of Greenland, but there is no record of his having reached his destination. When, in 1721, after 300 years, Hans Egede came to Greenland to bring the Gospel to the descendants of the colonists "who had become heathen," he found only the ruins of their farmhouses and villages. Only Eskimos occupied the land. He laid the foundation for the present Lutheran Church of Greenland, which includes the whole population. July 3rd marks the anniversary of one of the earliest and most successful undertakings in the history of modern missions. When we sing Heber's famous and inspiring hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains, From India's Coral Strands," do we recollect that Egede was the first missionary in modern times to Greenland and Ziegenbalg was the first missionary to India? Hans Egede was born Jan. 31st, 1686, at Senjen, Norway. He graduated from the University of Copenhagen at 21 after which he served ten years as pastor at Vaagen, Nordland, Norway. From 1718 to 1721 he spent his time pleading with church and state to be sent to Greenland. Labored in Greenland until his death Nov. 5, 1758. Married to Gjertrud Rask. Had four children, of whom one, Paul, succeeded him as missionary to Greenland. Hans Egede wrote a description of Greenland. Paul Egede wrote a history of Greenland, a dictionary and a grammar of the Eskimo language of Greenland, made a translation of a part of the Bible into Eskimo, also other works.

Hartwick, John Christopher

Born Jan. 6th, 1714, in Saxe Gotha, Germany. Educated for the ministry in Germany. Connected with Dr. Callenberg's Institution in Hamburg for the conversion of the Jews. Ordained by the two pastors of the Savoy Church and the Swedish pastor in London, he set out for America as chaplain to a German regiment in the service of England during the French and Indian War of 1744. He was intimately acquainted with the Lutheran ministers of the colonial days, serving congregations all the way from New York to Virginia, sympathized with them in their difficulties, and cooperated with them in their efforts to advance the Kingdom of Christ. He was one of six pastors, four Germans, two Swedes, to organize the Pennsylvania Ministerium in 1748. He helped to organize the New York Ministerium in 1786. He preached the sermon in 1748 on the occasion of John Nicholas Kurtz' ordination, the first Lutheran in America to be ordained at a synodical convention. His first pastoral charge centered around Hunterdon, N. J., 1744-48; his second charge was in New York City, where he preached to Germans, Dutch and French. Next he served at Rhinebeck, 1748-60, where he was accused of being a Moravian in disguise. This charge having been investigated and disproved by the Patriarch, Henry M. Muhlenberg, Hartwick became thereupon pastor at the Trappe, Pa. Later he moved back to New York and died July 17th, 1796, at Livingston Manor, N. Y. During the Revolutionary War he was for a time pastor in Nova Scotia. He willed at his death his large estate of 24,000 acres of land in Otsego County, N. Y., for the endowment of a classical and theological school, aiming particularly to train missionaries among the Indians. This school was founded in 1797 and is located now at Hartwick Seminary, N. Y., four miles south of Cooperstown. It is the oldest Lutheran higher educational institution in America. Hartwick Seminary is thus seen to have been rooted in the very foundation of our land, born of pioneer needs and hopes. It has lived and served faithfully 134 years, sending 300 ministers into the field and giving more than 3,000 boys and girls a Christian training for all the walks of life. It has weathered many a storm, like a gnarled oak reaching into a distant past, yet young and strong for days to come. In 1928 Hartwick College was started as an extension of the Junior college then located at Hartwick Seminary. In 1929 the Theological Department was moved to Brooklyn, leaving the Academy to occupy the buildings at Hartwick Seminary. The spirit of Hartwick lives on in these three schools that bear his name. He never married. In 1830 a new synod was organized on the territory of the New York Ministerium. It was founded out of and in opposition to the New York Ministerium. It bore the name Hartwick Synod until 1908, when it merged with the Franckean and New York and New Jersey synods into the New York Synod. In 1929 the New York Synod, the New York Ministerium and the New York and New England Synod (organized 1902) merged to form the United Synod of New York.

Jensen (Aarhus). Rasmus

The first Lutheran pastor to come to America. Pastor Jensen, from Aarhus, Denmark, was the ship pastor on the ill-fated Jens Munk expedition to discover a northwest passage. King Christian IV had equipped two ships for this expedition and had placed the Norwegian captain, Munk, in charge of it. Munk had 65 men under him, including a pastor and a doctor. He set sail on May 16, 1619, came to Hudson Bay about July 1st, and sailed back and forth in this bay until Sept. 7, when he went into winter quarters near the Churchill River. Munk has written a diary, which is still to be seen at the University of Copenhagen, in which he tells of the horrible sufferings, hunger, cold and lonesomeness during the next nine months. The whole band died from scurvy, with the exception of four, of whom he was one. We quote from his diary: "The holy Christmas Day we all celebrated and kept, as a Christian should. We had a sermon and chanting, and after the sermon we gave the pastor a Christmas offering, each one according to his means. Even though money was not plentiful among us, each gave what he had. In lieu of money one man gave a white fox skin, so that the pastor could line his coat, but alas, after that he was not permitted to wear it out." Munk tells later of the plague attacking both the pastor and the doctor. On Jan. 23, 1620, the diary states that the pastor had sat up in his cabin and had preached his last sermon to his parish. On Feb. 23 he died. Thus there had been Lutheran services in America from Sept., 1619, until Jan., 1620, almost a year before the Mayflower pilgrims came to our shores. Munk seems to have continued to conduct divine services, for he writes: "On the 14th of April it was very cold, and we were only five persons that could sit and listen to the Good Friday sermon." Munk died in Denmark, June 3, 1628. New Denmark on Christian's Sea, as the Danish discovery was called, did not become Danish land, and this voyage may not have much historical significance. It goes to show, at least, this much, that the Lutherans are not strangers in America.

Torkillus, Reorus

Born 1599 in Ostgötland, Sweden. When the Swedish king, Gustavus Adolphus, lost his life at the Battle of Lützen in 1632, the heir to the throne was his six-year-old daughter Christina. Until her 18th birthday the state affairs were in the hands of the prime minister Oxenstierna. He projected the Swedish colony on the Delaware, to be called New Sweden. The first governor here was Peter Minuit, arriving in 1638, and the first minister was Reorus Torkillus, arriving either in 1638 or 1639 (A. Johnson says 1640). The governor was to rule the colony and further the trade with the Indians—from them they bought the land; the pastor was to take care of his Swedish flock and to make converts among the Indians—mission work was stipulated in their charter. Their first station was named Fort Christina in honor of their beloved queen (now Wilmington, Del.). Here Torkillus labored until his death, Sept. 7th, 1643, leaving his work in charge of the Rev. John Campanius, who had come over in 1642, and who, in 1648 translated Luther's "Small Catechism" into the Delaware tongue, the first translation into an Indian dialect.

Returned to Germany in 1841, where his "Notruf," a stirring appeal for help and his lectures won many friends for the American cause. A number of men, including Sihler, Craemer and Lochner, answered this "Appeal" by coming to America. Returned to Ft. Wayne, 1841-45, continued as pastor at Baltimore, Md., 1845-50. Left the General Synod, to which he had belonged, and became one of the three most influential in founding and shaping the destinies of the Missouri Synod (Walther, Sihler and Wyneken). Became pastor at St. Louis in 1850. In 1851 he was sent to Germany to adjust the doctrinal differences between J. K. W. Loche and the Missouri Synod. Was president of Missouri Synod from 1850 to 1864, residing near Ft. Wayne after 1859. In 1864, due to bodily infirmities, he was relieved of the presidency and took charge of Trinity Church in Cleveland, O., later as assistant to his son. He retired in 1875. Married. XI. FINNISH EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF AMERICA, OR SUOMI SYNOD

COMPARATIVE STATISTICS OF THE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH IN AMERICA—BASED ON THE

U. S. CENSUS OF RELIGIOUS BODIES—Continued

SYNODS COOPERATING IN THE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN SYNODICAL CONFERENCE

Members are the Confirmed or those 13 years and over.

There are no comparisons possible for the Slovak Evangelical Lutheran Synod, the Norwegian Synod of the American Evangelical Lutheran Church and the Negro Mission of the Synodical Conference, because in 1890 the Missouri Synod and the Joint Wisconsin Synod alone were recorded separately, and, excepting for the Census of 1926, all of the synods cooperating in the Evangelical Lutheran Synodical Conference were reported en masse and not separately. We herewith append the separate statistics for the Slovak Evangelical Lutheran Synod and the Norwegian Synod of the American Evangelical Lutheran Church for the 1926 U. S. Census only. The Negro Missions of the Synodical Conference were not reported separately in 1926. The state statistics, however, could be obtained by adding the statistics for the synods in the Synodical Conference and then subtracting this total from the grand total for the Synodical Conference.
